The Newcastle Old Hebrew Congregation has met with a serious loss in the death of the treasurer, JOSEPH JACOBS, of Clayton Street. It was owing to the serious illness of this gentleman members of the Old Congregation did not meet Rev. the Chief Rabbi at Middlesborough, although no-one at the time had the remotest idea of a fatal termination to what was thought to be a slight indisposition. Both congregations lamented the loss of one of the most active working advocates of amalgamation. The funeral on Monday was numerously attended by members of both congregations, with their officers, as well as by several gentlemen from Sunderland, Shields, Manchester and Sheffield. Several shops in the neighbourhood were closed, while the funeral cortege passed through the streets. Much surprise was evinced at the uncouth state of the brial ground, and the want of order in the proceeding. The deceased, who leaves a wife and nine children, was highly respected by the Christian portion of the community. 3.7.1874 (JW)

MRS. M. JACOBS
The body of MRS. M. JACOBS, whose disappearance from home we reported, has been found in the River Thames. It is said her death is the result of a practical joke played upon her. Some fifteen or twenty years back the husband of this woman deserted her and went to America. She might have fared badly, but for the charity of the benevolent. Whether or not she heard from her husband leaves room for conjecture; but on the day of her disappearance she received a letter purporting to be from him with an English postmark, stating her husband had embarked for this country. Without breathing a word to anyone she left her home without bonnet or shawl, saying she was going on an errand in the neighbourhood. She did go to a chandler's shop and bought some sand to enable her to sink quickly and was no more seen till her body was found in the river five weeks later and recognised by means of an earring she wore. 2.5.1873 (JW)

MICHAEL JACOBS
A little Jewish lad, JACOB MICHAELS, was run over in Bell Lane, Spitalfields, on his way to school on Wednesday morning and killed on the spot. 24.11.1871
♦An inquest on the body of the little boy killed by being run over by a van in Bell Lane was held on Thursday, 23rd ult., when a verdict of "Accidental death" was returned. 1.12.1871
♦To the editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, I beg to correct the statement, which I saw in your last week's impression referring to a Free School boy - MICHAEL JACOBS - who was run over. The deceased boy was not "on his way to school" at the time he was killed, but he had been in school; but he was five minutes beyond time, and he was turned out of the establishment; and as he come out the little boy (7 years & 10 months old) met with his death - at the corner of Frying Pan Alley. I have just returned from a visit to the distressed parents, who are sitting on the ground and never ceasing their heartbroken cries for their son - the only one left from three boys. - A distant relative of the deceased 1.12.1871
♦To the editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, the letter and commentary in your paper of today referring to the unfortunate death of the boy MICHAELS contains statements which are not true. First. The boy was in school on the morning of his death, and was not sent home. He was killed with his (breakfast) bread and butter in his hand on his road to school. Second. It is common practice either to send home children coming too late, or to close the school doors at a fixed time, and to suffer no late comers to enter. Yours obediently, MOSES ANGEL, Head Master - Bell Lane, Spitalfields 1 December, 1871
♦AUTHOR'S NOTE: This should perhaps read "not in school".
♦To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, as teacher of the poor boy who met his death in Bell Lane by being run over, I beg to contradict the statement made in the last number by "A Distant Relative of the Deceased", to the effect the boy, on the morning of the accident, had been sent home for coming late. He was on his way to school with another boy when the disaster occurred, and as I admitted his schoolmate (although late) it is impossible I should have sent him home. Yours obediently, JACOB MOSES - Jews' Free School December 5, 1871
♦To the editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, I can but repeat my belief the system adopted in the Free School, with regard to turning back late comers and corporally punishing the children, had an influence upon the fatal accident. I must also complain to the want of sympathy evinced by the masters of the Free School towards the family of the little boy who was killed so near their establishment. Positive rudeness was shown to every member of the family. I waited upon MR. ANGEL and he behaved in an insulting manner. He refused to append his signature to a letter sent by several of the leading Jewish inhabitants of Spitalfields to the Company whose van had run over the boy. The reason he gave me was because of my letter which had appeared in your columns. The parents of children attending the Free School are chiefly persons in humble circumstances. Their lot is hard enough without having abuse levelled on them, where only kind words and sympathy should be given. Your obedient servant, L. SOLOMONS 15.12.1871

♦NEWPORT - An interesting event took place in this town on Sunday, the occasion being the retirement of NATHAN JACOBS, who leaves Newport to take up his residence at Bath. As soon as it had become known MR. JACOBS' intention to leave town, members of this community, with whom he had been associated since his resignation as Minister of Cardiff congregation about seven years ago, determined on showing in some practical manner their appreciation of his worth. On Sunday a large meeting of members with their friends assembled at the school-house to partake of a banquet provided in honour of MR. JACOBS. MR. MANOY occupied the chair, and presented MR. On Tuesday an Inquest was held by Mr. Humphreys, Coroner for East Middlesex, at the Whittington & Cat Tavern, Church Row, Bethnal Green relative to the death of RACHAEL JACOBS, aged 40, who died from self-starvation. ISAAC HENRY, 146 Brick Lane, Bethnal Green knew the deceased and her sister as street beggars. At 12 o'clock on Sunday morning he was called to the house, where he found the deceased lying on a heap of rags and her sister dying from starvation. Dr. Richards said he found the deceased and her sister dying from starvation, and ordered her removal to the infirmary. He had made a post mortem examination of the body of the deceased and found cause of death to be due to starvation. The jury returned a verdict of "self-starvation". 11.5.1877 (JW) (Whittington Arms; RACHEL; lived at Bacon Street, Bethnal Green; ISAAC JACOB(JC))

DANIEL JOSEPH JAFFE
Death 21.1.1874 at Nice, of Belfast, Ireland, in his 65th year.
♦MR. D.J. JAFFE, of Belfast, expired at Nice on 21st January. The journals of Belfast, whose town he came to quarter of a century ago, and where he founded an important house of business, refer to his death with regret, and to his character in terms of commendation. The house which he established at Belfast helped to promote the industrial prosperity of that town. He was useful in the Chamber of Commerce, and he took interest in numerous public institutions. He evinced great private benevolence. A few years ago he founded, at his expense, a synagogue at Belfast. His remains were conveyed from Nice to Belfast, to be laid in the Jewish burial ground. 6.2.1874
♦The Irish probate of the will of DANIEL JOSEPH JAFFE, of Belfast, who died at Nice on January 21, was sealed at the principal Registry, London on 28th ult., the aggregate amount of personal estate in England, Scotland and Ireland being sworn under £140,000. The acting executors are MARTIN JAFFE, JOSEPH JAFFE, OTTO MOSES JAFFE & SIEGMUND ARMIN OPPE. The testator bequeaths to his wife, FRIEDRIKE, his private residence and furniture, a legacy of £500 and an annuity of £600 for life; each of his grandchildren living at his death who were born before January 1, 1876 £500, and one tenth of the residue of his property to or upon trust for each of his nine children. Various legacies are given, including £500 in aid of building a second hospital, similar to that in Frederick Street, for Belfast; £100 to the Royal Alfred Aged Merchant Seamen's Institution, Belvedere, Kent, and £100 to the Pauline Stift, Hamburg; the rest to such of his children, or grandchildren, or relatives whom he has assisted in his lifetime, or for such charitable object as his executors in their discretion shall think fit. - Illustrated London News 6.3.1874
♦According to the Isrtaelitischen Wochescrift, property left by the late M.D. JAFFE of Belfast was worth 1½ million thalers. His son-in-law, the wellknown PROF. JULES OPPERT of Paris, was expected in Belfast to take part in meetings of the British Association. 28.8.1874

HANUCAH BEN HA-CHAHAM JECHEZKEL
AN APPEAL IS MADE ON BEHALF OF HANUCAH BEN HA-CHAHAM JECHEZKEL OF SALMAS IN PERSIA - Papers in his possession, corroborated by evidence from independent sources, show he was formerly in good circumstances. He has (partly by violence) been deprived of his property while in Persia, and reduced to Penury. Being pressed by creditors, and in fear of their resorting to outrages which have driven other Jews to profess Mohamedanism, he came to England to solicit protection. Papers have been obtained for him which, it is hoped, will effect his object, but he lacks means of returning to Persia. The undersigned are desirous of collecting the necessary expenses of the journey and will thankfully receive contributions. 13.11.1874 (JW)

He was born in London in 1824, and married in 1856 AMELIA, daughter of JOSEPH MOSES, of Montagu Square. MR. JESSEL was educated at MR. NEUMENGEN's school at Highgate, and at University College, London. He graduated BA. in 1842 as University Scholar in mathematics and proceeded MA. in the following year, obtaining a gold medal in mathematics. He was called to the bar at Lincoln's Inn in May, 1847, and was made a Q.C. and a Bencher of his Inn in 1865. He is a senator of the University of London. At the general election three years ago, MR. JESSEL was returned for Dover. 10.11.1871
♦The Daily Telegraph makes the following comment upon the appointment of MR. JESSEL: "MR. JESSEL enters on his ministerial career with every earnest of success. Returned to Parliament for Dover at the last election, he soon made his mark in the House of Commons by speeches that displayed a breadth of view not often to be found in loyal politicians." The Daily News says: "After Mr. Roundell Palmer, MR. JESSEL is perhaps the ablest and most successful practitioner in their branch of the profession. His appointment to the office of Solicitor-General is a pledge of Mr. Gladstone's determination to give effect in practice to the repeal of legal disqualification on the grounds of religion." 10.11.1871
♦The appointment of MR. JESSEL as Solicitor-General was gazetted on Friday last. 17.11.1871
♦At a meeting of the council of Birmingham Congregation held last Sunday resolutions were passed expressive of the gratification of the Council at the nomination of MR. JESSEL as Solicitor General and congratulating him on his appointment. 17.11.1871
♦We learn from the Times on Tuesday evening, a petition from ministers of the Jewish faith in favour of Marriages with a Deceased Wife's Sister was presented to the House of Commons by SIR GEORGE JESSEL. 15.3.1872
♦Among the company invited by the Lord Mayor to meet Her Majesty's Ministers at the Mansion House on Wednesday were the SOLICITOR GENERAL & LADY JESSEL. 26.7.1872
♦THE MASTER OF THE ROLLS - SIR GEORGE JESSEL married in 1856 the eldest daughter of MR. J. MOSES of Montague Square, a granddaughter of M. KOENIGSWERTER of Vienna. 15.8.1873
♦The Times, Telegraph, Daily News, Standard and Globe have articles about SIR GEORGE JESSEL. 15.8.1873
♦The Times says SIR GEORGE JESSEL is youngest son of the late ZACHARIAH N. JESSEL, Merchant of Saville Row, London and of Gordon House, Putney. SIR GEORGE JESSEL married in 1856 a daughter of JOSEPH MOSES, merchant of Leadenhall Street. 15.8.1873 (JW)
♦The Spectator and Law Times have articles on SIR GEORGE JESSEL. 22.8.1873
♦The RT. HON. SIR GEORGE JESSEL, Master of the Rolls was sworn a member of Her Majesty's Privy Council at a meeting of the Council held at Balmoral on Saturday. The London Gazette and Daily News contain articles. 5.9.1873
♦The Committee of Stepney Jewish Schools forwarded a copy of a congratulatory resolution to the RT. HON. SIR GEORGE JESSEL, Master of the Rolls. 12.9.1873
♦Although the Master of the Rolls arranged to sit in Chambers to take vacation business every Wednesday until commencement of term, as Wednesday was the Day of Atonement, he did not attend Chambers. The Times states:- "Yesterday being the Jewish Day of Atonement, SIR GEORGE JESSEL, Master of the Rolls did not sit as usual at the Rolls House, but adjourned the sitting in order to attend the religious observances of the day." 3.10.1873

♦The current number of the Queen contains an admirable portrait of SIR GEORGE JESSEL, Master of the Rolls. A short letter-press report, descriptive of his career, accompanies the engraving. 17.10.1873 (JW)
♦MESSRS. DAVID & SOLOMON BENJAMIN waited upon the RT. HON. SIR GEORGE JESSEL, Master of the Rolls, on Sunday, to present him with an address from the Melbourne Hebrew Congregation, congratulating him on his elevation to the Bench. 12.12.1873

♦MR. GEORGE JESSEL, Master of the Rolls, attended the Central Synagogue on Sabbath last, on the occasion of his intended son-in-law, NATHAN HARDY, being called upon to the reading of the law, prior to his marriage on Wednesday last, to a daughter of SIR GEORGE. SIR GEORGE offered £50, MR. HARDY £50, MR. IGNACE CAHN, SIR GEORGE's brother-in-law, £20, and the right honourable gentleman's father-in-law, MR. MOSES, £20. There was a large attendance of members, and numerous complimentary offerings were made by the congregation. 29.6.1877 (JW)
♦The RT. HON. SIR GEORGE JESSEL attended morning service at the Central Synagogue, Great Portland Street last Saturday. As it is customary among Jews on the Saturday preceding a marriage for parents of the bridegroom and bride, together with the bridegroom, to attend synagogue and make a special announcement, and as the daughter of SIR GEORGE JESSEL will be married next Wednesday, the ceremony incidental to such occasions was strictly held. SIR GEORGE took part in the service of the day, acting as Parnass (Warden) and performing Haybat (raising the "Scroll of the Law"). (Times, June 21) 29.6.1877
♦On Friday morning last, as the Master of the Rolls was alighting from a cab in Rolls Yard, a pistol was fired at him by a clergyman, Rev. Henry John Dodwell, late of Brighton, who had made repeated applications to the Court, which have been refused on the grounds of irregularity. The weapon was discharged so close to his lordship the report stunned for the moment SIR GEORGE JESSEL and his Court-keeper, on whose shoulder he was leaning while stepping out of the cab, but no harm was done. The culprit was instantly seized. The weapon was found to be a several-barralled pistol, but it is believed it was not loaded with a bullet.
On taking his seat in the Royal Court shortly after the occurrence, Mr. Roxburgh, senior member of the Bar present, addressed his lordship, and said he desired, on behalf of the bar, to express the grief with which they had heard of the attempt made on his lordship, and to express their gratitude to God for preserving a life so valuable.
The person who shot at SIR GEORGE JESSEL has been committed for trial. Most of the leading journals express their admiration of the rare skill and ability displayed by the Master of the Rolls in discharge of his judicial duties. At several of the synagogues on Sabbath last, offerings were made in gratitude for the preservation of the life of SIR GEORGE JESSEL. The Committee of Borough Jewish Sschools, at a meeting held on Sunday, passed a vote of congratulations to him on his escape. 1.3.1878
♦Among other public bodies who have sent letters of congratulation to the Master of the Rolls on his escape is the Council of the Anglo-Jewish Association. 8.3.1878
♦On Sabbath last the Master of the Rolls presided at the Reading of the Law at the Central Synagogue on his son's Bar Mitzvah. Liberal offerings were made. 2.4.1880
♦The Law Times refers to the proposed candidature of the Master of the Rolls for representation of London University in the House of Commons. 14.5.1880
♦The May number of "Men of Mark" contains a portrait of SIR GEORGE JESSEL. 14.5.1880 (JW)
♦At a fully attended meeting on Wednesday of the Senate of London University, the Master of the Rolls was elected Vice Chancellor. 28.5.1880

Marriage 26.5.1879 at St. Petersburgh Place Synagogue, only daughter of EDWARD JESSEL, BA., Barrister-at-Law, of Gordon Square & Bushey, Herts., to J. LAWRENCE-HAMILTON, of 34 Gloucester Terrace, Hyde Park, eldest surviving son of the late LAURENCE LEVY.
♦A CHORAL WEDDING SERVICE - On Monday was solemnised the first wedding in the New West End Synagogue, when the marriage of MISS MARY THERESA JESSEL (daughter of EDWARD JESSEL and niece of the Master of the Rolls) with DR. J. LAWRENCE HAMILTON took place. Every available seat was occupied and chairs had to be placed in the gangway. The bride wore a Princess dress of white satin trimmed with Bretonne lace, looped up with sprays of orange blossom lily of the valley, and jessamine, and beneath a long tulle veil a wreath of the same flowers. Her jewels were pearls. She was attended by six bridesmaids - EMILY CAHN, ANNIE WATSON, STELLA & EMILY HART, CONSTANCE & ELLA A. LEVY. They were attired in white silk; straw Gainsborough hats with white ostrich feathers, and each carried a bouquet to harmonise with the costume. Each wore a gold locket surrounded by a garland of oak leaves and acorns, a gift of the bridegroom. 30.5.1879

JOHN MORRIS JOHNSON
Death Monday, 5.4.1880, fifteenth day after the decease of his lamented wife, at 3 Northwick Terrace, NW. in his 77th year, for upwards of thirty years a Guardian of the Poor in the City of London.
♦The death is announced of MR. J.M. JOHNSON. He died on Monday at his residence 3 Northwick Terrace. The deceased was head of the well known firm of printers and International Exhibition Agents, J.M. JOHNSON & SONS, Castle Street, Holborn. 9.4.1880
♦The late MR. J.M. JOHNSON, whose death we recorded last week, was a son of the Chief Rabbi of Sweden, who came early to life in England and settled in Norwich, but removed to London, and was at his death the oldest Guardian of the Poor in the City of London, as well as the oldest member of the Western Synagogue (St. Alban's Place). He founded, in Dean Street, in Soho, in 1846 the Western Free School for Jewish Girls, afterwards removed to 59 Greek Street, and incorporated with Westminster Free School. Another educational work was establishment of the New Central London District Schools, near Hanwell. He was often consulted by administrators on Poor Law questions. 16.4.1880

Our readers will be pleased to learn a celebration not uncommon in Germany, but rare in this country, was held in Birmingham on Wedneday. MR. & MRS. B.L. JOSEPH, of that town, formerly of Liverpool, and well known and esteemed in both places, celebrated their Golden Wedding. Many children and grandchildren, some coming from considerable distances, as well as a large circle of friends, gathered round the pair. We are glad to add the pair had reason to join with friends and relatives in prayers for the long life and happiness of the worthy couple. 7.2.1873
♦At the golden wedding of MR. & MRS. B.L. JOSEPH of Birmingham, the poor were not forgotten. The children of the Jewish schools were regaled. MR. JOSEPH deserves respect from the community. When 21 years of age he was elected President of Bristol Congregation. He founded the new congregation of Liverpool, and was its President for many years. He has taken high position in the Birmingham community as president of its School Committee and its Board of Guardians. 14.2.1873
♦Death 26.10.1880 at Pendennia House, Beaufort Road, Birmingham, in the 80th year of his age. Deeply lamented by his sorrowing family and numerous friends. May his soul rest in peace.

On Saturday that rare occurrence, "A Diamond Wedding" or 60th anniversary of a marriage was celebrated in Sunderland. The hale and happy couple were MR. & MRS. HYAM JOSEPH - old and respected members of the Hebrew congregation of Sunderland. A host of friends and relatives congregated around this esteemed pair to tender their congratulations. The jovial and hearty manner in which this couple received their guests was pleasing. The age of each spouse exceeds 90 years. They are in full enjoyment of their faculties, and read the many letters of congratulation from distant friends without the aid of glasses. 29.8.1873
♦SUNDERLAND - MR. & MRS. HYAM JOSEPH have presented the synagogue with a handsomely-edged silver goblet adorned with a facsimile of the Holy Shekel of Jerusalem. KATE JOSEPH
We notice the name of MISS KATE JOSEPH among successful candidates who passed the Oxford Local Examination, held in May, at Manchester, and obtained the title of Associate of Arts. MISS JOSEPH is the first Jewish lady in Leicester who has thus distinguished herself. MISS JOSEPH, who is but 17 years of age, deserves all the more credit, since on conscientious grounds she refused to take "Scripture", which embraced the New Testament and church prayer-book as a subject; whereby she lost at the outset 300 marks. 1.9.1871

MRS. D. JOSEPH, REV. MORRIS JOSEPH and family thanks for condolences on the occasion of their bereavement. 1.9.1871
♦In anticipation of the marriage of REV. M. JOSEPH to MISS FRANCES HENRY, members of the North London Synagogue (of which he is minister) testified on Sunday to the esteem in which he is held by presenting to him a tangible proof of their appreciation. The testimonial consisted of a magnificent and massive silver tea and coffee service and a large silver salver. The service is of beautiful workmanship. It weighs about 180 ounces and was manufactured by Messrs. Hunt & Roskell. The testimonial is the result of a subscription by members of the North London Synagogue. In the centre of the salver is engraved, in bold letters, the following inscription:- "Presented by the members of the North London Synagogue to REV. M. JOSEPH, on the occasion of his marriage, in testimony of their esteem. - October 27th, 1872".

MR. BIRNBAUM, as chairman of the Presentation Committee, said MR. JOSEPH had every reason to be proud of his accomplished bride, who was a fitting help-meet to him.
The toast of "Prosperity of the North London Synagogue" brought the proceedings to a close. 1.11.1872

♦Marriage 30.10.1872 by Rev. the Chief Rabbi, assisted by Rev. H. Wasserzug, to FRANCES AMELIA, third daughter of MICHAEL HENRY of Effingham House, Highbury New Park.

♦The REV. M. JOSEPH gave an excellent dinner to the Minyan of his congregation on the day of his marriage. 8.11.1872

♦LIVERPOOL - On Sunday REV. M. JOSEPH, of the North London Synagogue, was elected Preacher to the Old Congregation at a salary of £350 per annum. 22.5.1874 (JW)

♦REV. MORRIS JOSEPH, formerly minister of the North London Synagogue, and whose election as minister of the Liverpool Old Hebrew Congregation we announced, was formerly "inducted" into his sacred office on Sabbath last. 11.9.1874

♦The Jewish Messenger says: The North London Synagogue has suffered a change of ministers and much regret is felt at the departure of REV. MORRIS JOSEPH. MR. JOSEPH is a graduate of Jews' College, and has been for several years pastor of the North London Synagogue, where his ministrations have been effective for good, especially in attracting to the service the young generation. 30.10.1874

♦The REV. MORRIS JOSEPH, minister of the Old Hebrew Congregation, has been elected a member of the Liverpool Hospital Sunday Committee, on recommendation of a meeting over which the Deputy Mayor presided. 6.11.1874

♦On Sunday, a special service was held in the synagogue of the Old Congregation of Liverpool, in aid of the Liverpool Hebrew Philanthropic Society. The charity was founded at a meeting held sixtythree years ago in the house of the late NATHAN SAMUEL of Liverpool, grandfather of MRS. MORRIS JOSEPH. 13.11.1874

♦Previous to the departure of REV. MORRIS JOSEPH for Liverpool, a meeting of the North London Synagogue was held, at which resolutions were adopted to recognise services rendered by MR. & MRS. JOSEPH to the congregation, and expressing their good wishes. It was arranged these resolutions should be engrossed, illuminated, framed and presented to MR. JOSEPH. 27.11.1874

♦The REV. MORRIS JOSEPH, Minister of the Liverpool Old Congregation, was invited by the Mayor of Liverpool to an official banquet held at the Town Hall on 4th inst. During the evening the Mayor proposed (among toasts) the health of Ministers of all denominations. As a mark of respect to the Jewish community REV. M. JOSEPH was called on by the Mayor to respond. Writes a correspondent "This is the first instance of a public recognition of our community in Liverpool." 12.2.1875

♦The Liverpool Argus gives a lengthy and appreciative notice of the sermon by REV. MORRIS JOSEPH at Liverpool, apropos of the meeting of the Social Science Congress. 10.11.1876

♦The Liverpool Argus refers in an appreciative manner to the lecture on the Talmud delivered by REV. MORRIS JOSEPH at the Hall of the Young Men's Temperance Association. 22.12.1876

♦The Liverpool Argus of 20th inst. contains, in a sketch of a visit to a synagogue, a complimentary description of REV. MORRIS JOSEPH's style of preaching. 26.7.1878 (JW)

♦REV. & MRS. MORRIS JOSEPH thanks for condolences on their recent bereavement. - 67 Canning Street, Liverpool, 5 August, 1878

♦Several of the Liverpool journals commend the sermon delivered on 12th inst. by REV. MORRIS JOSEPH in aid of the local Hospital Sunday Fund, and in which the reverend gentleman referred to the necessity of more persistent efforts being made to improve the sanitary condition of dwellings of the poor. 24.1.1879

SIMON JOSEPH
Death 21.7.1877 at his residence, Grosvenor House, Kennington Park, in his 69th year. Deeply regretted.
♦On Sunday SIMON JACOB died at his residence at Kennington. The deceased was for some years a Warden of Borough Synagogue, in the erection of which he took a prominent and active part. He was a life member of the Council of the United Synagogue, and a member of the committee of Borough Jewish Schools. In early life a resident of Manchester, he several times acted as President of the Old Hebrew Congregation, and was one of the founders of its schools and Philanthropic Society. He belonged to the old Orthodox school, but by his liberality of mind and amiability he endeared himself to a large circle. 27.7.1877
♦The Will and three codicils of SIMON JOSEPH, of Grosvenor House, Kennington Park, who died 21st July, 1877, was proved by FANNY JOSEPH, the widow, EDWARD AARON COHEN & JOHN COHEN, Executors, the personal estate being sworn under £60,000. The testator leaves to his wife his household furniture and effects and rents of his freehold and leasehold properties, and dividends of £20,000 for life; a sum of £170 is to be distributed in sums of £10 each, to certain Jewish charities, and there are other legacies. The remainder of his property he gives to his children, excepting two of his sons. 14.9.1877 (JW)

WALTER JOSEPHS
Several leading members of the community being impressed with services rendered to our educational and charitable institutions by WALTER JOSEPHS for a period exceeding half a century, resolved to present him with a testimonial and recognition of his long and useful labours on behalf of the poorer classes. The surprise which the gentlemen, who had formed themselves into a committee for inviting the co-operation of fellow-workers of MR. JOSEPHS to aid them, occasioned our friend, when they called upon him on Friday last, was delightful to behold. The testimonial consisted of a handsomely illuminated address, together with a purse containing £510. He took a prominent part in the foundation of Jews' Infant Schools and has been Hon. Secretary since 1841. He has been an active member of the Committees of Jews' Free School, Jews' Emigration Society and other charities. 2.2.1877 (JW)

♦Death 10.5.1880 at his residence, 4 Albany Terrace, Regent's Park, and late of Monument Yard, City, after a long illness, in his 75th year.
♦We regret to announce the death of MR. H.L. KEELING. He had been in feeble health for several years, and he died on Monday. The deceased was son of the late DAVID LEVY, formerly of Oxford Street. He assumed the name of KEELING early in life, out of regard for an intimate friend who occupied a post at the Court of George IV. His wife died in 1858 and all his children died young. He was senior partner of KEELING & HUNT, Fruit Merchants, of Monument Yard, of which he remained head until his retirement two years ago. He was, we believe, the first Jew in England who served the office of Churchwarden. In May, 1853, he was unanimously elected Churchwarden of the City parish of St. George's, Botolph Lane. In 1852 a serious dispute arose in the parish in connection with repair of the fabric of the parish church. MR. KEELING was the means of bringing about a reconciliation, and, through his intervention, repairs were carried out at a cost of £800, towards which he made a liberal donation. To mark their grateful sense of his public spirit and disinterested services, the inhabitants unanimously elected him Churchwarden. He was a Liberal in politics, and took an active part in all parliamentary elections in the City. The sale-room of the firm was always placed at the disposal of the Liberal candidate for meetings in their favour. Among his benevolent works was championing of the cause of costermongers about ten years ago, when, through excess of zeal on the part of City police authorities, a crusade was made against them plying in the streets. Large numbers of them were summoned on the count of obstructing thoroughfares, and they were fined by the magistrates. But MR. KEELING paid the fines and he was successful in obtaining for them more considerate treatment. He was elected a member of the Board of Deputies in May, 1853, as delegate of the Western Synagogue. MR. KEELING was a member of the Board for nearly twenty years. He took an active part in the administration of the Western Synagogue for nearly fifty years, and repeatedly served the office of Warden and liberally contributed to funds during that period. He was elected first President of Westminster Jews' Free School on amalgamation, in May, 1853, of the two kindred and neighbouring schools in Dean Street and Greek Street, Soho. MR. KEELING continued one of the honorary officers of the institution. He was for many years a member of the Committee of the Emigration Society and of Jews' Hospital. MR. KEELING was buried yesterday at the cemetery of the Western Synagogue, Brompton. 14.5.1880
♦The late HENRY KEELING has left bequests to the Western Synagogue, United Synagogue, London Hospital and nearly every communal charity. He has left small bequests to several ministers and teachers, and to augment the stipends of provincial ministers. 21.5.1880
♦The Tombstone to the memory of H.L. KEELING will be set 20.6.1880 at the Cemetery, Queen's Elm, Brompton.

REV. M. KEIZER
TO ELECTORS OF THE GREAT SYNAGOGUE - Gentlemen, I have the honour to solicit your suffrages for the post of First Reader of the Great Synagogue. For the period of thirteen years, I have been your tried and trusted servant, discharging all duties of Second Reader and bal korah, and not unfrequently those of First Reader on Holydays and at other times with credit to myself and to your satisfaction. The complicated and multifarious functions appertaining to the office of Secretary are familiar to me. The Council of the United Synagogue have approved of the suggestion made by the Board of Management of the Great Synagogue - that he shall visit the sick and poor, and carry to them the ministrations of his sacred office. It is a gratification for me to know I have anticipated the order of the Council, and I have esteemed it among the highest duties of a minister of our holy religion to visit the sick, the comfort the mourner, and to console the afflicted. I hope for your support, and shall make it the study of my life to deserve and retain it. - I have the honour to be, Yours most obediently, M. KEIZER, 8 Bury Street, St. Mary Axe, February 3, 1871

HARRIS KEVANSKI
The Palestine Place Performers have been subjected to another moral thrashing. The report of the transactions of Middlesex Sessions series on Wednesday indicates to the public the furious transactions of the fraternity. HARRIS KEVANSKI, aged 16, a Russian Pole, was charged with stealing twelve shirts and other articles, value £6, property of Jacob Halbmillan, master of the Wanderers' Home for converting Jews. Jacob Halbmillan said the prisoner was an inmate of the Home. He came on 4th February and remained there until the following Sunday. When the witness went to chapel he left a box locked, in which were twelve shirts and a quantity of other clothing. When he came home from chapel he found the box open and all clothing gone, the prisoner having disappeared. The witness found him in a room in a street he did not know the name of, and told him if he would return the things he had taken he would give him 5 shillings. At first the prisoner said the things were in Whitechapel, but afterwards said he knew nothing about them. A collar was found in a box, which the witness identified. Evidence was given for the boy who, as a Polish Russian Jew, was brought up in that faith, and when he saw a ceremony by which he was invited to become a Christian, it was not to be wondered at he should become frightened and run away. The foreman said they did not wish to hear any more, and without waiting for any summing up by the Judge, returned a verdict "not guilty". 27.2.1874
♦We understand the Polish lad, KEVANSKI, who escaped from the clutches of the conversionists in Palestine Place, has been cared for by members of the Jewish community. He will be sent to the United States, where measures will be taken that he be put in the way of earning his livelihood by honest industry. 6.3.1874 (JW)
♦The Morning Advertiser in a sub-leader on the case of HARRIS KAVANSK says "the method adopted at the Hebrew Wanderers' Home in Palestine Place, Bethnal Green is not calculated to effect any good and is a misapplication of money of a charitable public". 6.3.1874

MOSES SOLOMON ASHER KEYSER
It is with deep regret we record the death of MOSES SOLOMON ASHER KEYSER, whose demise took place at his residence, Porchester Square.
Our community has known few members whose lives have been more unostentatiously pious than the children of ASHER KEYSER. We need only mention one whose exquisite character will long live as the most cherished tradition of her own family and of all who could appreciate a beautiful life - the late MRS. LOUIS COHEN, sister of the deceased.
The subject of our consideration was singularly gentle, to an extent that rendered him unfitted for the welfare of public and active life; his character was a most loveable one.
His knowledge of our sacred literature surpassed that of most Englishmen, and by an English standard he was a profound Hebraist. For many years he devoted his abilities to Hambro' Synagogue, of which he and his family were members. He was for some years a devoted worker for the Board of Guardians. 1.11.1872

MAURICE KOOPMAN
A Jewish man, named KOOFMAN, was charged and tried at Ipswich Assizes for an offence. After the summing up of the Judge, which for one sidedness has never been equalled, we are told, since the days of the notorious Jeffries, he was found guilty and sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment. The feeling in Bury is the man was the victim of as black a conspiracy as ever was concocted. Steps have been taken by a large and influential group to obtain legal aid, and to petition the Home Secretary for a new trial, and public demonstrations of anger have taken place before the house of the prosecutor. 28.4.1871 (JR)

MAURICE KOOPMAN continued
♦We informed our readers a Jewish man named KOOPMAN has been taken up at Bury for a fearful crime of which public opinion judged him innocent. A petition signed by nearly all inhabitants was forwarded to the Home Secretary praying for him to rescind the verdict of the magistrates. It is with the greatest of pleasure we are able to announce last week MAURICE KOOPMAN was released from gaol. When KOOPMAN was released he was met at the gaol by his son and his friend, VOGEL, who walked with him quietly to his lodgings. 2.6.1871 (JR)

LEVI BEN KORRI
We extract the following from the Globe. "A sad reverse of fortune was related in evidence given at an inquest at St. Pancras Vestry Hall on LEVI BEN KORRI, aged 83, a Jewish Assyrian. He was a rabbi, but having been converted in this country to Christianity, he became a teacher of languages and earned a considerable income. With increasing years, his means diminished, and he lapsed into poverty. Some charitable persons took him out of the workhouse and made him a weekly allowance. During the Feast of Passover he went as usual proselytising among Jews, and his death resulted from inflammation of lungs caused by exposure." 2.5.1879

REV. SAMUEL LANDESHUT
An interesting ceremony took place on Thursday at the office of the Board of Guardians. The members of the Board combined to present to their Secretary, REV. SAMUEL LANDESHUT, a testimonial on his silver wedding day. The testimonial consisted of a silver tea and coffee service, together with a cheque for a substantial sum. The subscription was limited to members of the Board, and every member contributed. The President, LIONEL L. COHEN, made the presentation in the name of contributors, complimenting MR. LANDESHUT (who was present with his wife and daughters) on the esteem and regard felt to him. The presentation was private. 15.12.1876
♦In commemoration of their silver Wedding, REV. & MRS. S. LANDESHUT presented to St. John's Wood Syangogue a handsome candelabra and pedestal for Hanucah, bearing the following inscription: "A thanksgiving from SAMUEL & JULIA LANDESHUT, on the 25th anniversary of their marriage (silver wedding), Chanucah 5637." 15.12.1876
♦Death 26.11.1877 at Synagogue House, Abbey Road, St. John's Wood after a painful illness, Secretary of the Jewish Board of Guardians and Minister of St. John's Wood Synagogue, in his 52nd year.
♦The REV. SAMUEL LANDESHUT, Secretary of London Jewish Board of Guardians, and first Minister of St. John's Wood Synagogue, died on Monday, after several months of acute suffering, aged 52, and his remains were interred yesterday (Thursday) at Willesden Cemetery.
MR. LANDESHUT filled for many years the post of Minister of the Old Synagogue at Manchester. The improvements introduced in London by the Jewish Board of Guardians had impressed several gentlemen in Manchester, and the Board of Guardians was established in 1867, somewhat after the model of the one in London. MR. LANDESHUT took a leading part in its formation; when established he became its Honorary Secretary, and he was an almost constant attendant at all its distributions. About two years after its formation he came to London to join members of the London Board (then Poor Law Board) on questions affecting parochial relief to the Jewish poor.

REV. SAMUEL LANDESHUT continued
Shortly after this visit, the post of principal officer of principal officer of the Board became vacant, and it was offered to, and accepted, by MR. LANDESHUT. On leaving Manchester, MR. LANDESHUT received marks of the esteem in which he had been held.
MR. LANDESHUT's services to the Jewish Board of Guardians in London have extended over a period of eight and a half years, and to his powers of organisation, the expansion in the functions of the Board may greatly be attributed. MR. LANDESHUT had a statistical mind, and the classified tables which he presented to each of the annual reports were not only monuments of patient industry and research, but reflected the methodical mind of their compiler.
On questions of parochial law he was an authority and he made himself master of the clauses of almost every Act of Parliament which could be invoked in the service of the Jewish poor. With relieving officers of many of the metropolitan Unions he was on terms of friendly confidence, and many points of difficulty were settled with them by his personal influence. In supervision of the daily work of Board offices he was successful. He had the good fortune to possess the confidence of most of our communal benefactors, who were amenable to his advice. He was an advocate for combined action with other institutions.
In dealing with the poor MR. LANDESHUT was an advocate for effectual relief once and for all, and an opponent of casual alms. In application of his principles, he was sometimes accused of severity. At his instigation the Board divided distribution of benefactions into two classes, chronic and casual poor, and entrusted their care to separate Committees.
MR. LANDESHUT never abandoned the clerical calling to which he had been trained, and which in this country he had followed first at Bristol and then at Manchester. His health had never been strong, and shortly after his appointment as Secretary of the Board, illness compelled him for some months in enforced absence. When St. Johns Wood Synagogue was opened last year, and the post of First Reader with a residence was offered to him, he was authorised experimentally to accept it. Early in the summer he visited Hamburg to try the effects of waters, but he derived no benefit from his visit, and after a protracted and painful illness he succumbed to its effects on Monday.
He leaves a widow and two daughters in this country, and a son abroad. 30.11.1877

JOSEPH LAVIN
On the 8th, an inquest was held at Portsmouth on the body of JOSEPH LAVIN, a prisoner at Portsea convict prison. The deceased, who was 24 years old, was working out a sentence of seven years' penal servitude, and was employed as a labourer in the brickfield and dockyard extension. On Saturday morning his body was found hanging from the ventilation of his cell. It was proved he was sensitive and hysterical, of a weakly mind and nervous temperament. MR A.L. EMANUEL, who gave evidence at his own request, said he was honorary prison visitor. The deceased was in the habit of attending synagogue in prison every Saturday and for the last three months he had been hysterical during services, crying loudly. When spoken to privately he stated he felt so low he did not know what was the matter with him. On Sunday afternoons he had been included with prisoners in translating the Hebrew Bible into English, but latterly he had brought no lessons, pleading his head was too bad. The jury returned a verdict deceased committed suicide by hanging while labouring under temporary insanity. By permission of the Governor, Jewish rites were prepared preparatory to the funeral, which took place at close of the inquest. 12.9.1879

Through the kindness of MR. J.M. LAWRENCE, MR. M.H. BENJAMIN & LIONEL L. COHEN, children of Stepney Jewish Schools enjoyed a delightful country excursion on Tuesday at the People's Garden, Willesden, whither they drove in a procession of vans. The enjoyments of the day were numerous and various, including cricket, croquet, music and a scrumptuous repast. 19.6.1874

♦On 12th inst. pupils of Stepney Jewish Schools spent a pleasant day at Alexandra Palace. The expenses were defrayed by MESSRS. J.M. LAWRENCE & HENRY LUMLEY. 22.6.1877 (JW)

JOSEPHINE LAWRENCE

On Tuesday MISS JOSEPHINE LAWRENCE gave a matinee musicale at Hanover Square Rooms. The matinee was fashionably attended and was a success. MISS LAWRENCE's performance was highly appreciated. 2.6.1871

♦MISS JOSEPHINE LAWRENCE, by command of their Royal Highnesses the Prince & Princess of Wales, attended at Marlborough House on Wednesday, 29th inst., and had the honour of playing before their Royal Highnesses, who were pleased to express themselves highly gratified. 31.10.1873

♦MISS JOSEPHINE LAWRENCE, a solo pianiste at the first of Mr. H. Leslie's concerts, held at St. James's Hall on 19th inst., was received with great applause, and was re-called at the end of each solo. The hall was densely crowded. 17.2.1874

♦A grand concert was given at the Queen's Concert Rooms, Hanover Square, on Thursday evening by MISS JOSEPHINE LAWRENCE, and was attended by a numerous and select company. The principal feature of the evening, and which elicited the greatest applause, was a performance by MISS J. LAWRENCE on the piano of Beethoven's Sonata in C minor, Op. 10. 17.3.1874 (JW)

♦MISS GRACE LINDO'S EVENING CONCERT - MISS LINDO gave a concert on Tuesday evening at the Beethoven Rooms, Harley Street. We cannot refrain from noticing the pianoforte playing of MISS JOSEPHINE LAURENCE. This young lady combines brilliancy of execution with great care. 18.12.1874

♦MISS JOSEPHINE LAWRENCE, the able pianist, had her evening concert in St. James' Hall on 15th inst. It was under patronage of the Princess of Wales, BARONESS LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD, LADY PHILLIPS, and other ladies of distinction. 25.6.1875 (JW)

♦The annual Concert of MISS JOSEPHINE LAWRENCE on Tuesday evening was given at St. James's Hall, and attracted a large and distinguished audience. The skilful playing of MISS LAWRENCE elicited well-deserved applause of the appreciative audience and we quote the following eulogium passed upon her performance by the Daily Telegraph: "In Beethoven's Sonata in A.G. MISS LAWRENCE proved she has attained a high position in her profession. The young lady may be congratulated on having achieved a decided and gratifying success." 26.5.1876

FANNY (FRANCES) LAZARUS
We are pleased to learn from University Intelligence published by our Dublin contemporaries our coreligionist FRED VICTOR LAZARUS (son of MRS. H. LAZARUS, formerly of Dublin, now residing at 25 Warrington Crescent, Maida Hill) has passed a creditable entrance examination, and has obtained first prize in Hebrew in the 2nd class, and second prize in German in 1st rank. When we consider the recipient of these marks is 15 years of age, and there were 30 competitors for the latter prize, we think we are justified in prognosticating an academical career of unusual success. We understand MR. LAZARUS is a pupil of REV. MR. BENDER. 30.6.1871 (JR)

We have been informed the deputation of members and seatholders of the Great Synagogue waited upon JOSEPH LAZARUS to request him to put in nomination for the office of warden to the Synagogue, and MR. LAZARUS has acceded to the request. 21.4.1871
♦Death 16.12.1873 at 96 Whitechapel Road, E., aged 70 years. Deeply regretted by his sorrowing wife and family and a large circle of friends.
♦We deplore to record the death of a useful and respected member of our community. MR. JOSEPH LAZARUS died in the prime of his life. He was Vice-President of Jews' Orphan Asylum. He was a member of the Executive of the Great Synagogue, and for many years, especially in the post of treasurer, exerted himself arduously in the administration of its affairs. He was a life member of the Council of the United Synagogue, and he represented the Great Synagogue at the Board of Deputies.
The funeral of the deceased took place yesterday at West Ham Burial Ground. The Clergy and Council of the United Synagogue were largely represented. Detachments of inmates of the Jews' Orphan and Hand-in-Hand Asylums were present. 9.12.1873
♦Thrown upon his own resources at an early age, by the death of his father, and with a mother and a large family of brothers and sisters dependent on him for support, he gave early promise of those charitable qualities for which the Jew is proverbial. 19.12.1873 (JW)

JOSEPH LAZARUS
Death 10.10.1873 after a short illness at 52 Charrington Street, Oakley Square, aged 52. Deeply lamented by his sorrowing widow, family and a large circle of friends. May his soul rest in peace.
♦JOSEPH LAZARUS of Charrington Street, Somers Town departed this life on Friday last, at his residence, after a brief illness. The Association for Promoting Life Governorships of the Hospitals of the Metropolis had paid £31.10s. on 1st instant to constitute the late gentleman a life governor of University Hospital, Gower Street, he having been one of six successful members to draw appropriations in that Association on the first year of the foundation. It may interest those beneficially concerned to be informed, after liberal legacies to numerous members of his large family and old indigent friends, both in England and abroad, the deceased gentleman has left numerous legacies, including £19.19s. to Maiden Lane Synagogue. 17.10.1873 (JW)
♦NOTICE TO CREDITORS - JOSEPH LAZARUS, of 52 Charrington Street, Somers Town, horsehair and general dealer, who died 10th October, 1873, whose will was proved by RICHARD HUNGER of 149 Tottenham Court Road, Upholsterer, and HENRY LAZARUS of 287 Old Street, St. Luke's, bedstead manufacturer, two of the Executors. - JOEL MORRIS BARNARD, 19 White Lion Street, Norton Folgate, E., Solicitor for Executors. 28.11.1873

JOSEPH LAZARUS, formerly a rag merchant in Whitechapel, failed three years ago and creditors resolved to wind up the estate in bankruptcy. The statement of accounts filed showed debts to £8,117 and assets £1,204. The bankrupt died in the following year, leaving an interest in reversions which had not been realised, but the trustee opposed unsuccessfully proof of the Jewish Provident Society for a secured debt of £2,000. In course of administration of the estate the assets had been expended and the trustee applied to close the bankruptcy. The Registrar refused to accede to the application till an affidavit had been filed by the trustee showing the estate had been realised for the benefit of creditors who had not received a dividend. 1.12.1876 (JW)

♦Death 10.6.1876 at his residence 36 Alfred Street Bedford Square aged 78.
♦To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir LEWIS LAZARUS took for more than half a century an active part in the charitable institutions at the West End, and who, at a period when ignorance of people caused an unmerited opporobrium to be attached to the name of the Jew moved about in his quiet way, and amongst our Christian brethren collected money for relief and education of the poor of the house of Israel, and at anniversaries handed in lists of contributions from persons of all denominations. LEWIS LAZARUS was one of the early workers in the Western Philanthropic Society, now merged into the sister institution under the name of Westminster Jews Free School, and he was an active member and one of the founders of the Motzo Association. He leaves the name of a man who sought the good of his people. Yours obediently, HENRY S. KEELING - St. Leonards-on-Sea, Hastings June 26, 1876

RALPH LAZARUS
At the Great Synagogue on Friday evening last, at commencement of Afternoon Service, a Christian visitor was suddenly observed to take a pistol from one of his pockets, and as he was about to level it towards the Reading Desk, one of the members, RALPH LAZARUS, with great presence of mind, snatched the pistol out of the man's hand. He was immediately taken out of the building. By direction of MARCUS POOL, Warden, a constable was fetched and the man taken into custody. Previous to his removal he was searched and a box of percussion caps was found in his possession and it was ascertained the pistol was loaded. At the police station he was examined by the divisional surgeon who pronounced him insane. On his friends being communicated with, it was ascertained he had been confined for some time in a lunatic asylum. The man was immediately placed under restraint as a lunatic. In the ante-room of the synagogue he declared he was sent by the deity to kill the Jews. 29.10.1875

A distribution of prizes awarded by Church Wardens and Parishioners of St. Dionis, Back Church took place on Tuesday at the Muniment Room, Lime Street, to pupils from selected schools, according to results of an examination conducted at Haberdashers' Hall in December. Amongst prizes was one of £8, which was awarded to SIMON L. LAZARUS, a pupil of the Middle Class School, Cowper Street. 28.3.1879
♦To the editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, In your last Friday's impression there was an announcement that SIMEON L. LAZARUS had gained a prize at an examination. I heard of a circumstance connected with this lad. It appears on days on which the examination was held, a luncheon was provided for competitors. At the adjournment for lunch, one seat was vacant, and a gentleman interested in the proceedings observed one of the lads shyly entering the Hall after luncheon had finished. On questioning him as to the reason for his absence, the lad said "Please, Sir, I am a Jew." When questioned further, he said he went to a pastrycook round the corner and had a cup of coffee and a biscuit. On the next day, the lad was again noticed at lunch-time to leave his fellow-competitors, but before he had reached the doorway he was stopped by the gentleman, and was shown to a table where coffee and biscuits were ready for him. Yours obediently, A. 4.4.1879

SIMON LAZARUS
On Monday, Mr. Humphreys, Coroner for East Middlesex, opened an inquest on the body of a Jewish child, named FANNY LAZARUS, aged 20 months. It appeared from evidence of the father, SIMON LAZARUS, of 4 Newcastle Place, Whitechapel, the child was missed from its home about midday on Wednesday, 20th ult. Three young men, who were returning from a concert on Saturday morning, deposed to finding the child lying on a door-step in the immediate vicinity of its home. It is inferred the infant had her head and shoulders placed downwards into water, and was suffocated. The inquest was adjourned to Friday. 7.6.1878
♦On Friday last the inquest on the body of FANNY LAZARUS, aged 18 months, was resumed. At the adjourned inquest Insp. Det. Aberline and Srjnt. Foster, H division, deposed on proceeding to the baths and washhouses, Goulston Square, they found building operations going on, and by the back door they discovered two tubs which contained sand and water. They questioned Peter Winsey, the watchman, and took him into custody for causing the death of the child, and he was remanded on his own bail. The back door to the baths was about 100 yards from the parents' house. - SIMON LAZARUS, the father, said on Saturday afternoon Peter Winsey came to the house, and asked to look at the child. After feeling the legs and head, he began to tremble, and sat down in a chair, placing his hands to his head, when he said "Leave it to me and I will make it all right." He asked if I could show him the step where the body was found, and I pointed it out to him, to which he replied "No; it was the middle step." He said the clothes were not wet at the bottom. He again said, "Leave it to me, and I will make it all right." He left, but at 5 o'clock he called again and said "You must give me your name and address, and you must come when I send for you." MOSES ISAACS said he had seen Peter Winsey chase children with his stick when they annoyed him. - Charles Turrell said he was foreman to the builders. The back door of the baths was fastened with one of Hobb's locks. Witness had the keys, and Peter Winsey had a key. - Peter Winsey stated at about quarter past 1 o'clock he came out of the back door of the baths, thinking he heard a disturbance, and walked to the corner of the alley, but saw no-one. He returned and locked the door. The jury having consulted together, they returned a verdict of "Wilful murder by some person or persons unknown". - On Wednesday Peter Winsey was charged before Mr. Hannay, at Worship Street Police Court, with the murder of the child. The prisoner was admitted to bail. 14.6.1878

♦On Wednesday at Worship Street Police Court, Peter Wincey, 62, surrendered to bail, and was charged on remand of suspicion of having wilfully murdered the child named FANNY LAZARUS, aged 19 months, by drowning it. The prisoner was undefended. The evidence against him were statements, made by him to the parents, and the fact two minutes before the body was found a man in figure like the prisoner had been seen going from the spot to the baths. The prisoner admitted to the police he had been out at 1 o'clock that morning past the spot, but could not explain why. Mr. Hannay said there was not enough to detain the prisoner. The prisoner was discharged. 21.6.1878
♦The Home Secretary has offered a reward for £100 for discovery of the murderer of FANNY LAZARUS, 1 year & 7 months old, whose dead body was found outside her father's house at 22 Newcastle Street, Whitechapel at 1.15 a.m. on 1st ult. 12.7.1878

LEVIN LEE
Through the unwillingness of LEVIN LEE to sign the deed conveying the North London Synagogue to the United Synagogue the projected amalgamation will probably fall to the ground. It appears MR. LEE is opposed to the union per se, and efforts to induce him to affix his signature to the legal document have proved to be unavailing. It is a matter of regret one gentleman should have the power of setting at nought the almost unanimous voice of a congregation. 27.7.1877 (JW)
♦Death 3.7.1878 at 6 Lewisham Road, Highgate Road, NW., formerly of Wood Street, Cheapside, aged 62 years.
♦The death of LEVIN LEE, brother-in-law of REV. A.L. GREEN, took place on 3rd inst. MR. LEE is to be remembered as one of the founders of the North London Synagogue. He was honorary secretary of the Committee formed to establish the Synagogue, and he displayed zeal and energy in furthering its interests in the early days of its history. Much of the success attending the synagogue is due to the impetus given at the onset by a man who was singularly earnest in whatever he undertook. Differences of opinion tended to create a severance between MR. LEE and his colleagues. But we are certain none will forget the man who gave heart and soul to the good work at its inception. 12.7.1878

Death 7.12.1878 at his residence Madison Avenue, New York, America, eldest son of the late REV. SIMEON LEO, many years Hazan of the Western Synagogue Congregation.
♦Our American Jewish contemporaries announce the death of REV. ANSEL LEO, one of the oldest Jewish ministers in New York. He was born in England in 1806 and went to the United States in his 21st year to fill the post of Chazan of the Congregation B'nai Jeshurun. He officiated in the congregation for several years as minister and reader. He retired from the ministry twelve years ago, having inherited a large fortune from his wife's uncle, the wellknown philanthropist SAMPSON SIMPSON. MR. LEO was a typical English gentleman, renowned for his hospitality, and his house was, for many years, especially on Purim, the favourite resort of Jewish young people. 3.1.1879 (JW)

♦A correspondent furnishes us with a few words concerning the late LOUIS LEO, who died on 11th inst. The deceased was long and favourably known as a musician and composer of great ability. He was second son of the late SIMEON LEO, for many years minister of the Western Synagogue. He was the first to arrange Hebrew chants and melodies into part music, thirtyeight years ago. He wrote music for numerous synagogue congregations, besides other compositions of merit, which exhibited the refined taste and talent of a skilful musician. 24.11.1876

ROSA LEO
MISS ROSA LEO, a young lady not yet 13 years old, is to sing at her first concert at the New Hall of the Middle-class Schools in Cowper Street. MISS LEO is daughter of a lady well known as an authoress by her maiden name of MOSS, and she is cousin of the lamented NUMA HARTOG. 13.11.1874
♦An excellent concert was given at the City Middle Class School on Tuesday evening. A young lady, 12 years of age, MISS ROSA LEO, daughter of LOUIS LEO, played two pieces excellently. 20.11.1874
♦We apologise for a mistake in our report of the Middle Class School concert on Tuesday. MISS ROSA LEO sang two songs. 27.11.1874
♦MISS ROSA LEO, daughter of the late LOUIS LEO, made her first appearance at Madame Ricce's Concert at 62 Lancaster Gate on Saturday evening. MISS LEO acquitted herself in a way which shows much proficiency. She is a pupil at the London Acadamy of Music. 18.1.1878
♦THE LONDON ACADEMY OF MUSIC - The professional students of this institution gave an entertainment last Saturday evening at George's Hall. MISS ROSE LEO was highly successful as "Ganymedi", in an operetta by Suppe entitled "The Beautiful Galatea", evincing great natural ability, her impersonations being in male attire in which she was excellent; her singing deserves a word of praise. 2.8.1878

♦A Committee has been formed for raising a fund as a means of making a provision for the widow and family of MORRIS LEVENE, who died suddenly of heart disease. This state has been rendered necessary by the fact of the widow and her nine children (the youngest of whom is 2 months old) being left unprovided for; it is desired to obtain a sum sufficient to place her in a business, every precaution being taken the amount received will be well employed. S.H. VALENTINE, Hon. Sec., 8 South Street, Finsbury, EC. 6.6.1879 (JW)
♦With reference to the appeal published on 6th inst. on behalf of the widow and family of MORRIS LEVENE, the Committee beg to intimate they have withdrawn such Appeal, arrangements having been made by the family by which an adequate provision will be made without recourse being had to public assistance. The Committee have to request those who may have received any donations on behalf of MRS. MORRIS LEVENE will please return same to donors with their sincere thanks. 13.6.1879 community by endeavouring, whenever practicable, to get assistance from parish authorities towards the support of aged and infirm persons removed from the workhouse. A few days ago an application was forwarded from Hull for admission of an aged woman named ESTHER LEVERSON, who was in the workhouse of that town. The Committee, as usual, applied for a contribution from the Guardians towards her support, and at their meeting, on 21st May, they resolved a quarterly allowance of 2s.6d. per week would be granted towards her support. LTNT. JULIAN J. LEVERSON

At the examination for commissions at the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, our coreligionist, JULIAN J. LEVERSON, came out 2nd on the list in order of proficiency. To MR. LEVERSON were awarded the following three prizes: The Regulation Sword for exemplary conduct; Prize for Mathematics & Mechanics; Prize for Drills & Exercises. The sword awarded for exemplary conduct is, we believe, the most coveted prize of the Academy, and it was gained, by MR. LEVERSON, for the manner in which he fulfilled his duties as responsible under-officer, in which post he, by his demeanour and example, influenced considerably the moral tone and discipline of the Academy. He is the first Jew who has passed through the Academy, and, we believe, the first Jewish officer of Engineers in the British Army. MR. JULIAN J. LEVERSON is an undergraduate of the University of London, where he matriculated in honours at Midsummer, 1869, when 16 years of age. 5.7.1872

J.S. LEVETT
Last Friday's Blackpool papers published a description of a dreadful scene which occurred at the North Pier of that town. It appears for some time past a number of swimming entertainments have been given in Blackpool by MR. J.S. LEVETT, in conjunction with Marquis Bibbero, attended by a troupe of female swimmers. About 8 o'clock on the evening of 7th last MR. LEVETT and three ladies commenced their entertainment, there being a strong South West wind and rough sea. As soon as they got into the water MR. LEVETT perceived the danger of the young ladies, and through his exertions two young ladies were brought safely to shore. But MR. LEVETT and the third lady, Florence Ray, drifted out, the former striving to hold the latter. They were eventually washed ashore and LEVETT was found to be dead, the girl, although exhausted, being conscious. A verdict of accidental death was returned by the jury at the Coroner's inquest. 8.8.1877 (JW)

MR. LEVETUS
MR. LEVETUS, formerly Shochet for forty years in Birmingham, has been residing in Jerusalem for a period of thirteen years, and is very much respected. He has signalised the 80th year of his existence by production of a volume of prayers and confessions, written in Hebrew, and much appreciated by his coreligionists in the Holy City. 2.10.1874 (JW)

CELIA LEVETUS
MRS. A. MOSS & MRS. MARKS (Portsea), MRS. LEVETUS (Birmingham), MR. S.E. MOSS, MRS. BERG, MRS. HARTOG & MRS. LEO thanks for condolences for their late lamented son and brother, MR. G.I. MOSS. September 20, 1871
♦Death Thursday, 18.12.1873 at 59 Summerhill Terrace, Birmingham, wife of LEWIS LEVETUS, the late CELIA MOSS, after a painful illness of many years' duration, deeply lamented and regretted by her sorrowing husband, children, family and friends.
♦MRS. CELIA LEVETUS (nee MOSS) whose death was recorded last week, possessed talents of no mean order, as her literary works testify. She drew most of her subjects from the ancient history of our people. MRS. LEVETUS was a daughter of JOSEPH MOSS of Portsea, Hants., and came to London in 1839 to publish a volume of Poems, entitled "Early Efforts", written at the age of 16, conjointly with her sister MARION (now MDME. ALPHONSE HARTOG), when the latter edited the Jewish Sabbath Journal. MRS. LEVETUS contributed several articles illustrative of the manners and customs of modern Jews. From her pen we have "Romance and Tales of Jewish History", written conjointly with her sister. MRS. LEVETUS contributed articles in Keepsake, Saunders' & Otley's Magazine, and Occident, an American Jewish paper. In later years she published "The King's Physician and Other Tales". One of her stories, a legend of the Sephardim, was translated into French, and appeared in the Archives Israelites. 2.1.1874 (JW)

REV. DAYAN AARON LEVY
We understand REV. DAYAN AARON LEVY, who has attained his 76th year, was compelled on Sabbath last to quit synagogue on account of indisposition, and has remained unwell during the current week. 30.1.1874 (JW)
♦Death 21.8.1876 at 35 Duke Street, Aldgate, Dayan, in his 78th year.
♦On Monday morning REV. AARON LEVY - better known in a wide circle as RABBI AARON - Ecclesiastical Assessor of the United Synagogue, died at his residence.
RABBI AARON LEVY, or as he was familiarly called, "RAB ORAN", was a remarkable man. He was full of humour, genial and affable. Open-hearted, and come-at-able, he kept no bond-servant. He was in his 82nd year. He was born at Lissa. He arrived in England circua 1811. He at once became a great favourite of the late DR. HERSCHELL. In early life RABBI AARON kept a school. In 1820 he married the daughter of RABBI JEHUDAH of Lissa - a well-known preacher of the time. He practised as a scribe, and was master to the late SOLOMON KEIZER. In 1830 he was sent by Dr. Herschell to Sydney to effectuate a divorce. He was absent from England for eighteen months. He became a Dayan, which office he held for fortyfive years. For fifty years RABBI AARON was preacher to Chebras. His credulity was traded upon by every idle and dishonest beggar; his table was open to every cunning pauper and literary adventurer; his house was a home to everyone, except to his immediate family. Robbed repeatedly, stripped of every valuable possession, he refused, except in one instance, to prosecute. Passing as security for everyone who traded on his simple nature, until his name was no longer accepted, his heart in his old age was grieved at the idea he had worn out his influence. RABBI AARON married a second time and leaves a widow, and one son by his first wife.
The funeral of the Dayan took place at West Ham Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. At an early hour, Duke Street, Aldgate was besieged by a large crowd, consisting chiefly of Polish Jews, who were assembled in strong force at the Cemetery. Nearly all shops in the neighbourhood were totally or partially closed. The cortege, which had difficulty in penetrating through the throng, consisted of a hearse, a few mourning coaches, and upwards of fifty cabs. In several Jewish districts along the routes, crowds congregated. Numbers of trams and omnibuses were filled with persons proceeding to the cemetery. At West Ham burial ground nearly 2,000 persons assembled, and confusion ensued on arrival of the cortege. In accordance with the wish of the deceased, no funeral oration was delivered. 25.8.1876
♦The tombstone in memory of RABBI AARON was "set" on Sunday at West Ham Cemetery. The tombstone was erected at the expense of the United Synagogue and, in accordance with the wish of the deceased, it is of a plain description. 13.7.1877

JEWS' FREE SCHOOL - The result of the Isaac Cohen Prize for 1872 has been made known. The prize (£25) is awarded annually to the assistant-master below the grade of BA. who shall furnish the best original essay upon a biblical subject selected by a competent authority. This year MOSES LEVY again consented to act as examiner. As but a single essay was sent in MOSES LEVY has withheld the Prize. But such was the excellence of the essay of the remaining candidate, ABRAHAM LEVY (son of REV. S. LEVY of Borough Synagogue), the Examiner whilst withholding the name "Prize" has awarded him the honorarium attached to it. The Examiner speaks of MR. LEVY's production in high terms. 20.12.1872
♦The Isaac Cohen Prize Essay of Jews' Free School has been printed and issued in pamphlet form. 9.5.1873
♦A silver cup, bearing an appropriate inscription, was presented to ABRAHAM LEVY on Monday, by teachers of Jews' Free School upon his leaving that establishment to become master of the Portuguese Gates of Hope School. It was accompanied by a letter expressive of the esteem and goodwill he had earned from his colleagues. 15.8.1873 (JW)
♦MR. ABRAHAM LEVY, CT., has been appointed Head-master of Old Castle Board School. Nearly half the children attending this school are of the Jewish faith and on Sabbaths and Festivals they are permitted to absent themselves. 24.7.1874 (JW)
♦In reference to the appointment of MR. LEVY, the School Board Chronicle contains an interesting leader. The Examiner refers to the Debate and so does the Metropolitan. 31.7.1874

At a meeting of the City of London Guardians held on 22nd inst., a letter was read from the Secretary of the Spanish & Portuguese Synagogue asking whether the Guardians would allow a weekly sum for maintenance of ISAAC LEVY (who has been for some time an inmate of the Central London District School), an illegitimate child, in the event of an arrangement being made for placing him in some respectable Jewish family. The application was referred to the clerk with power to act. From enquiries, we learn the boy is still in Hanwell Schools. We learn it is doubtful whether the clerk can legally do anything beyond payment of a subsidy for the boy's maintenance in a certified Jewish school. The boy being illegitimate, Jews' Hospital & Orphan Asylum - the only certified Jewish School - will not receive him. 1.6.1877
♦We learn the City Guardians have agreed to allow a subvention for maintenance of the Jewish boy in Hanwell Schools, if he be placed with a Jewish family. 15.6.1877

ISAAC LEVY
A fortnight since a Jewish pedlar named, it is believed, ISAAC LEVI, while travelling in Bury St. Edmunds, was taken ill and was buried in the church yard. No clue was found upon him giving an indication where he resided. It is believed he lived in London, and had a wife and family. 20.2.1880
♦A correspondent writes: "The body of ISAAC LEVY has been disinterred, and was buried in the Jewish cemetery, Norwich on Sunday. A sister of the deceased having been apprised of his loss made every effort for his discovery and re-burial; she was assisted by the Rector and Church Warden of the village, Hartest, the Home Secretary and Officers of the synagogue at Norwich." 27.2.1880

M. RIVIERE'S PROMENADE CONCERTS - This year M. Riviere has ventured on an extended series of concerts, which were inaugurated on Saturday evening. The main feature of the entertainment was the re-appearance, after a prolonged absence from this country, of MR. J. LEVY, the celebrated cornet player. When on being encored, MR. LEVY substituted "The Last Rose of Summer", the enthusiasm of the audience knew no bounds. He almost made his instrument speak, and his concluding variation of the air was superb. 22.8.1873
♦A concert given by MR. LEVY, at the Town Hall, Shoreditch on Saturday evening last was a complete success. His playing was loudly applauded. 26.12.1873

We regret to announce the death of ALDERMAN LEVY, senior civil magistrate of the city of Rochester. The local press speaks in terms of high eulogium of the Alderman, who filled municipal offices with great credit to himself. His funeral was attended by the chief Jewish inhabitants of Rochester and Chatham and by high officials of the corporation. ALDERMAN LEVY was not only a public man of importance in his city; he was charitable and a good man. 10.2.1871

Death 3.2.1876 at Arcadian House, Landport after a short illness EMANUEL EMILE, fourth son of JOSEPH LEVY, aged 10 years & 6 months.

JOSEPH LEVY
At Portsmouth County Court on Thursday week the case JOSEPH LEVY v HENRY MICHAEL EMANUEL was tried. It arose out of a fine of 2 guineas imposed upon the plaintiff by Portsea Congregation on account of his refusal to accept office, which fine had been paid. One of the conditions of settlement was remission of all fines and penalties. Upon this, the plaintiff based his claim to have money refunded. On behalf of the defendant - who was summoned as warden of the congregation - it was contended the laws of the congregation prevented remission of fines. After hearing arguments the Judge decided for the defendant. 14.4.1876 (JW)

Death 4.1.1873 at 100 Westbourne Terrace, Hyde Park aged 61 years.

♦It is with regret we record the death of LAWRENCE LEVY, who succumbed to the fell hiat after severe and painful suffering, borne with religious fortitude. MR. LEVY, sharing his father's zeal, joined and laboured on the Committee of Jews' Free School while a lad, and during his life, he only once relaxed in giving to our community his powerful interest and intelligent supervision. He united in his own person great business habits. The New Synagogue, while in Leadenhall Street, numbered him among its staunchest supporters. For many years MR. LEVY was auditor of the accounts of the Great Synagogue. MR. LAWRENCE LEVY was one of the founders of Bayswater Synagogue. He administered the affairs of almshouses erected by his father-in-law, E.L. EMANUEL. Of late years, MR. LEVY, shattered in health, bowed down with domestic grief, withdrew from his more active work; but his heart remained faithful to his old affairs. 10.1.1873

LOUIS LEVY
JEWISH WORKHOUSE - To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, LOUIS LEVY, aged 80 years, was admitted to this institution on 15th inst., and died this day. He was removed from Whitechapel Workhouse with his sister SARAH, aged 76 years; his brother, ALEXANDER, aged 67, was admitted on the 20th from the same workhouse. From the statement of the deceased and survivors, it appears they have not tasted meat for about two years; fast days they were compelled to take their fast on dry bread and a cup of coffee; it was from necessity they were compelled to take refuge in the Christian workhouse, from which they were removed by the executive of this institution. This will show to the public the need for a Jewish workhouse. Yours obediently, SAUL E. MOSS, VP. 22 August, 1872
(Our correspondent is under a misapprehension. The persons above referred to have, we understand, received periodic relief from the Jewish Board of Guardians. - Editor, Jewish Chronicle)
♦To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, If it was necessary to prove how unnecessary a "Jewish Workhouse" is, better means could not have been taken than adopted by the writer of the letter which appears in last week's Jewish Chronicle. LEVY was a member of a Friendly Society, from which he received a weekly allowance; he was in receipt of periodic relief from the Jewish Board of Guardians, and a sum of money has recently been collected on his behalf. I find that LOUIS & SARAH LEVY were admitted to Whitechapel (parochial) Workhouse on 14th August, and were removed on the 15th. ALEXANDER LEVY was admitted in the same Workhouse on 19th August, and removed on the 20th. The aged Jew or Jewess is told it is only necessary to go in the Parochial Workhouse for a day, and become qualified for, and be entitled to, admission into the Jewish Workhouse. Such a system as I have hinted at is liable to lead to vicious results. Yours obediently, Anti-Humbug 6.9.1872
♦To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, When I wrote I was aware of all facts which your correspondent has taken pains to elicit. Referring to the fact these cases were relieved as follows: By the Board of Guardians with 9 shillings per month, by the Synagogue with 6 shillings per month, and the Friendly Society 5 shillings per month, making a total from all sources of £1 per month. Now for disbursements: Rent 3 shillings per week, contributions to Friendly Society 7½ pence per week - sometimes more, making an amount of about 15 shillings per month; leaving 5 shillings a month to support three people, the oldest, paralysed, the second partly paralysed; and the youngest, who earned a precarious livelihood by walking about with a basket of lemons, and who considered it a good day's work when he earned a shilling; and had it not been for coals given by the synagogue they would have frequently been without fire for the winter. Your correspondent mentions £20 was collected for LEVY, but he does not state the amount was not received till after he was in the workhouse; the fact of the collection having been made goes far to prove what I have stated, that they were reduced to the lowest point of destitution. I remain, yours obediently, S.E. MOSS, 8 Pyrland Road, Canonbury 10 September, 1872

REV. MOSS BARNET LEVY
REV. M.B. LEVY, brothers and sisters thanks for condolences for their lamented mother. 9.5.1873
♦We are glad to announce REV. M.B. LEVY, who for some time has been unable, owing to indisposition, to discharge his ministerial functions, has considerably improved his health. 14.10.1873 (JW)
♦Death 6.12.1873 at his residence, Minister of the Western Synagogue, St. Alban's Place, after a short and severe illness, deeply lamented by his family and large circle of friends.
♦We regret to announce the death of REV. M.B. LEVY, for twentyfour years senior minister of the Western Synagogue, St. Alban's Place, Haymarket. This event took place on Sabbath morning. The reverend gentleman had been ill for some weeks, but his death appears to have been unexpected. MR. LEVY not only read prayers and frequently lectured in his synagogue, but led his own choir, which he took great trouble to train, and which was very successful. The prosperity of the synagogue was greatly due to REV. M.B. LEVY's exertions. The service was decorously and solemnly conducted under his auspices. The deceased gentleman received his education at Jews' Free School. He was previously minister of Brighton congregation. He died unmarried. His genial manner, his devotion to his vocation, and earnestness of purpose were titles to esteem and regard during his life-time.
The funeral of the deceased took place on Tuesday. Nearly every member of the metropolitan Jewish clergy were present, as were wardens of the Synagogue, honorary offers of Westminster Jews' Free School, and representatives of various synagogues. So large a gathering of clergy, all of whom were attired in their official costumes, has not been witnessed for some time. The Chief Rabbi being a Cohen remained in his carriage outside the synagogue. The procession was announced to start at 12 o'clock. It was an hour later ere the body was removed from the residence of the deceased, adjoining the synagogue, and the cortege, consisting of upwards of 30 mourning coaches and several private carriages, moved towards the burial ground of the congregation situated at Queen's Elms, Brompton. A detachment of boys of Westminster Free School attended at the cemetery with their banners draped in crape, and choristers of the synagogue in their costume. At conclusion of the ceremony the procession returned to the synagogue. 12.12.1873
♦WESTERN SYNAGOGUE - On Sabbath last, 13th inst., REV. DR. H. ADLER preached at this synagogue a pathetic sermon in reference to the death of its minister, REV. M.B. LEVY. All the congregation joined in the memorial prayer and offering. Several members of other congregations were present. 19.12.1873
♦To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, In REV. M.B. LEVY's career there was one conspicuous trait - his sympathy for the poor. I was residing in Brighton during his ministry, where the congregation established a philanthropic society, and REV. M.B. LEVY officiated as secretary and relieving officer without any recompense. When he was chosen as minister of St. Alban's Synagogue members subscribed a sum of money for a silver inkstand which was presented to him at a public meeting. Peace be to his soul. Yours obediently, I.L. LEVISON, 45 Carlton Road, Maida Vale 19.12.1873
♦NOTICE TO CREDITORS - REV. MOSS BARNETT LEVY, of Synagogue Chambers, St. Alban's Place, Charles Street, Haymarket, who died 6th December, 1873, Letters of Administration granted to HYAM LEVY of 57 Lower Marsh, Lambeth. - 24 December, 1873 - KISCH, SON & HANBURY, 11 Wellington Street, Strand, London - Solicitors to Administrator
♦The library of the late REV. M.B. LEVY was sold by auction yesterday (Thursday). 23.1.1874
♦A tablet to the late REV. M.B. LEVY has been erected in Westminster Jews' Free School as a tribute of reference and affectionate regard from teachers and pupils. 27.2.1874
♦On the Day of Atonement, a special prayer for the repose of the soul of the minister, REV. M.B. LEVY, was offered up at the Western Synagogue. The congregation, with but few exceptions, joined in contributing to synagogue funds, and regrets were expressed at the loss of a gentleman whose energies had done so much in advancing the interests of the congregation. 2.10.1874 (JW)
♦Sunday last being the first anniversary of the death of REV. M.B. LEVY, for many years minister of the Western Synagogue, the tombstone erected to his memory by members of the Synagogue was "set" on that day at the cemetery, Queen's Elms, Brompton. All the Executive were present, and there was a large attendance of members. The inclemency of the weather debarred many others from attending. The stone is an upright one. 11.12.1874
♦NOTICE TO CREDITORS - Pursuant to an Order of the High Court of Chancery made in the matter of the Estate of MOSS BARNETT LEVY, late of the Western Synagogue, St. Alban's Place, Haymarket, Middlesex, Clergyman, deceased send particulars to George Henry Hogan, of 23 St. Martin's Lane, Cannon Street, London EC., Solicitor of Defendant, HYAM LEVY, Administrator of the Estate and Effects of the deceased and produce the same before the Vice-Chancellor at 14 Chancery Lane on 23 December, 1875. - 12 November, 1875 - H.F. RACHEL LEVY
An inquest was held on Tuesday at Vestry Hall, St. George's-in-the-East, on the body of RACHEL LEVY, who died suddenly on Friday last. It appeared the deceased had come to London about two months ago from Cardiff for procuring her husband's admission into the London Hospital, of which institution he was still an inmate. The deceased had left a daughter who is imbecile, and a son, aged 17, in a precarious state of health; her eldest son, then aged 25, was drowned in Cardiff about two years ago, and her husband is paralysed and stated to be incurable. 1.12.1871

A fatal accident took place on Saturday in the Thames, near the Albert Embankment. A young man, named SAMUEL LEVY, residing at 27 Mansell Street, Aldgate, who was driving along the Embankment, seeing the White Hart dock gates open, drove to the water side. The strong ebb tide suddenly carried the pony off his legs, and LEVY was thrown out of the trap and drowned. The pony and trap were washed away and the animal drowned.
At the inquest a verdict of "Accidental death" was returned. 28.9.1877

♦On Wednesday evening a valuable testimonial was presented to REV. S. LEVY at his residence, 21 Great Alie Street. It consisted of a beautifully illuminated address on vellum, handsomely framed, a massive silver salver of elegant design, and silver kiddush cup and spice box. MR. S.A. GREEN, in making the presentation, said it was a tribute of respect and admiration from the working classes, who had been indebted, during the past twenty years, to MR. LEVY for his gratuitous services as Mohel, and for his readiness to afford them aid and counsel in times of distress. He mentioned the testimonial would have assumed larger proportions had not MR. LEVY refused to allow them to canvass for further subscriptions or to allow them to collect among any but the working classes. The company adjourned for refreshments. 16.7.1880

Death 19.7.1876 of Brighton, aged 73.
♦The Sussex Daily News contains an obituary notice of BENJAMIN LEWIS of Brighton 28.7.1876 (JW)
♦BRIGHTON HEBREW CONGREGATION Previous to the business of a Council Meeting held on Sunday, MR. L. LAVINBERG said he rose to perform a sad duty. It was the first time the Council had met for public business since the demise of BENJAMIN LEWIS. They knew the Congregation had sustained a heavy loss by the death of its senior member, a gentleman who had not only been associated with the congregation from his birth, but was always ready to assist it with his sound advice and pecuniary support. He begged to submit the following resolution to their notice: "That this Council expresses its deep sorrow and regret at the loss they have sustained by the death of their much esteemed and respected member and Councillor, the late MR. BENJAMIN LEWIS, senior member of this congregation. That this Council further desires to express its sympathy with the bereaved family at their irreparable loss. That a copy of this resolution be sent to each of the children and that it be inserted in each of the ewish papers." The resolution was carried nanimously. 11.8.1876

The will and two codicils of BENJAMIN LEWIS, ormerly of Ship Street, Brighton, and late of 1 Redcliffe Gardens, South Kensington, who died on uly 19th, were proved by BARROW & HENRY EWIS, the sons, the executors, the personal estate eing sworn under £25,000. - Illustrated London News 27.10.1876

♦The annual ball of employees of LEWIS & CO. of Ranelagh Street, Liverpool took place last Monday. The ladies of the firm were present and provided an excellent supper. 5.2.1875

♦MESSRS. LEWIS & CO. of Ranelagh Street, Liverpool have offered two prizes, value £25, for competition at Altcas, one for £15 being for rifle, and the other of £10 being for artillery volunteers. 18.5.1875

♦MESSRS. LEWIS & CO. of Ranelagh Street, Liverpool have given three prizes of value of £60 to the Artillery & Rifle Voluntary Corporations of Liverpool, to be shot for by winners of prizes during the year. We are informed it is the intention of LEWIS & CO. to make the competition an annual one. 12.11.1875

♦The assistants in the employ of LEWIS & CO., Ranelagh Street, Liverpool celebrated their annual ball and supper at the Washington Hotel, on 31st ult. The members of the firm and some of their friends were present, and the affair was most successful. 11.2.1876

♦MESSRS. LEWIS & CO. of Ranelagh Street have been the first to give the public of Liverpool an idea of what they may expect from the latest sensation, the electric light, which is destined to supercede gas as an illuminative power. Two of Siemen's dynamo-electronic machines, each having an illuminating power of 61 candles, were used in the production of light, and were driven by a Marshall steam engine of 8 horse power. 8.11.1878 (JW)

♦At Manchester Assizes on Thursday, 22nd before Lord Justice Bramwell and a jury, Edward Middlehurst, publisher and proprietor of the City Lantern, was indicted for publishing on 23rd April at Salford a false and defamatory libel against DAVID LEWIS & CO., clothiers & outfitters of Market Street, Manchester & Ranelagh Street, Liverpool. Evidence was given, proving the libel was without foundation. The judge declined to withdraw the case from the jury, and a verdict of guilty having been returned, the defendant was fined £100. The Liverpool Daily Post, in a leader upon the trial, alluded in flattering terms to the high character which the firm of LEWIS & CO. enjoyed in Liverpool and Manchester. 30.7.1880

DAVID LEWIS
The Liverpool Leader contains a portrait and biographical notice of DAVID LEWIS of Liverpool. Among benefactions to religious and charitable institutions, MR. LEWIS contributed £1,000 to the Building Fund of the New Synagogue at Liverpool, and he presented a magnificent and valuable "perpetual lamp" to the synagogue on its consecration. 25.6.1875

MRS. DAVID LEWIS
The Committee of the Jewish Ladies' Benevolent Institution invited MRS. DAVID LEWIS to the schoolhouse, Hope Place on Sunday morning, 24 September, and presented her with a handsome silver epergue filled with choice flowers, as a token of their appreciation of her services to the charity as Honorary Secretary during nineteen years. MRS. A.S. LEVY, President, spoke of the regret of the Committee at MRS. LEWIS's resignation and of the efficient manner in which she had performed her arduous duties. MRS. LEWIS said although her frequent absence from town obliged her to resign the office of Honorary Secretary, she should continue to take some interest in the welfare of the charity. The epergue, which was presented by the Committee and a few of the subscribers of the charity, bore a suitable inscription. 6.10.1876 (JW)

JAMES GRAHAM LEWIS
The death is announced of MR. J.G. LEWIS, the well-known solicitor of Ely Place, who died on Wednesday. The Times says:- "He had suffered lately from muscular rheumatism, but was in his customary health at breakfast time, and went to his office in Ely Place at his usual hour. Shortly after arriving there he complained of feeling unwell. He went home alone, desiring his bath should be prepared. Whilst this was being done he reclined upon his bed, and the servant having announced to him the water was at 70 degrees he desired the temperature should be increased. In a quarter of an hour the servant returned and found him in a calm and peaceful attitude, but dead." MR. LEWIS held the office of Clerk of Indictments for the Midland Circuit for a quarter of a century, and has been for nearly half a century in practice. 24.1.1873

REBECCA LEWIS
On Friday last an attempt to murder three persons was made in the east end of Newcastle by REBECCA LEWIS, who afterwards made several determined efforts to put an end to her own life. The woman is a Jewess, about 50 years of age, and living with her husband, LEVENE LEWIS, in a tworoomed house in Gibson Street, New Road. She attempted to murder her husband by stabbing him about the neck and throat, and afterwards tried to kill two young children who lived next door. Assistance having been got, the woman was secured from doing further injury, and Mr. H.W. Newton, surgeon, rendered medical assistance to the children, as well as to MRS. LEWIS. It was deemed unsafe to remove the latter to the police station, and she was placed in her own home and guarded by two policemen. While a policeman was putting some people who had crowded in out of the house, the woman sprang out of bed, seized a table fork, and made a gash in her throat, and some time after she tried to do a similar thing. The boy Charles has since died. On Monday evening, an inquest was held on the body of Charles Raven, and the jury returned a verdict of "Wilful Murder" against the culprit.
REBECCA LEWIS is a native of London, and her father (who is said to be about 80 years of age) lives in Houndsditch. It is said she often had attacks of insanity, and one of her sons is an inmate of a lunatic asylum at Hampstead. A brother of the woman is in an asylum in Australia.
A correspondent from Newcastle has put us in possession of the following particulars: the culprit is a poor miserable woman, who has been unhappy in her domestic relations. She has lately come out of prison for stealing a watch from her son, who prosecuted his mother. A fortnight ago she had a terrible fit. She has been labouring under a delusion a large fortune had been bequeathed to her by her mother, who died eighteen months ago. She used to complain intensely against her husband, who she believed was keeping her out of her property.
The LEWISES came from London about three years ago. They were very poor, and lived in one of the most wretched quarters of Newcastle. A short time ago, the husband applied to the relieving officer for an order to admit his wife into a lunatic asylum, but the order was refused unless the husband (a shoemaker) consented to pay 14 shillings a week.
The woman has long exhibited homicidal mania. She was well-known in London as possessing an irritable temperament and entertaining a bitter feeling against her husband. Her mother exhibited a tendancy of insanity, and was known in the neighbourhood where she lived as "Mad N---". 4.9.1874 (JW)
♦We learn REBECCA LEWIS is to be brought to London, she being chargeable to City of London Union. It is stated she will be confined in a Lunatic Asylum. 9.10.1874 (JW)

MAURICE LICHTENSTEIN
Death 13.2.1876 at sea on his voyage to the West Indies, eldest and beloved son of LOUIS LICHTENSTEIN of 13 Sloane Street, SW. Deeply lamented by his sorrowing parents and only brother. May his soul rest in peace.
♦MAURICE LICHTENSTEIN died on February 13th at sea, on a voyage to the West Indies. The deceased was not yet 20 years of age, yet gave proofs of possessing talents of no mean order. Notwithstanding his needy state of health, he distinguished himself at every examination at which he entered. He gained a scholarship at Middlesex Hospital, which he was compelled to resign, owing to ill-health; he was awarded a studentship by the Art & Science Department, South Kensington and was permitted to absent himself on Sabbaths and Jewish Festivals. He was elected a Fellow of the Chemical Society. Although he was but a Junior Student at London University he gave indications of considerable talent. A short time ago he gained the Entrance Scholarship (£60) for proficiency in general science. He was a frequent attendant at, and participant in, debates at the Medical Discussion Society attached to the Hospital, at which society he recently read a paper on the scientific action of Chloroform, which received high commendations. He was advised by his medical attendants to take a sea voyage, but he had been away but three days from England when he died. 5.5.1876

GRACE LINDO
A concert combined with an entertainment was given yesterday week at the Ladies Industrial Society. MISS GRACE LINDO sang some excellently selected songs in a charming manner and was deservedly encored. 16.8.1872
♦MISS LINDO gave a concert on Tuesday evening at Beethoven Rooms, Harley Street. We believe the entertainment was announced to take place at a private residence, but owing to rapid sale of tickets it was found necessary to engage a public hall. That this step was expedient was proved by the large and fashionable audience composed chiefly of ladies. The numerous efforts of MISS LINDO met with cordial approbation. We think she achieved her greatest success in the Recitative and Aria "Non pin di fiuri" from Mozart's Titus. In other pieces MISS LINDO displayed to advantage a bright and sympathetic voice managed with artistic care. 18.12.1874

SAMUEL LIPSCOME
In the course of a judicial inquiry at Liverpool on Tuesday one of the witnesses examined was a Jew (SAMUEL LIPSCOME). The Liverpool Mercury says upon MR. LIPSCOME placing his hat upon his head to be sworn according to Jewish custom a titter ran through the crowd, and Police-constable No. 858 snatched the hat from the head of the witness, and was walking away with it, when Mr. Rafles said, with indignation: "Policeman, what are you doing? Don't you know Jews are always sworn with their hats upon their head." The Liverpool Mercury makes the following remarks: There was a display of either gross stupidity or lamentable intolerance at the police Court yesterday. One of the witnesses in the Titheburn Street murder case is a Hebrew. In Liverpool members of the Hebrew persuasion are a numerous and respectable body. Care should be taken they are not insulted in a court of justice for any peculiarity in connection with their faith. 18.9.1874

MR. LISSACK
MR. LISSACK has been elected a trustee of the Bedford charity known as Harpur's charity. It appears the Endowed School Commissioners have sought to "re-organise" the schools of the charity, and foremost among those who opposed adoption of the "Scheme" was MR. LISSACK. The following appeared in a recent number of the Bedfordship Mercury: "It is due to MR. LISSACK to say his reference in a speech at the Board to distinctive religious beliefs was not intended by him to be offensive or invidious." 13.10.1871
♦A poor youth at Bedford, qualified to receive a £200 prize of Bedford School was, says the Bedfordshire Times, likely to be deprived of that prize in favour of a youth not qualified. MR. LISSACK, a member of the Board of Trustees, moved the prize should be given to the qualified youth, and carried the resolution against the Mayor. The Bedfordshire Times favours MR. LISSACK's side of the question. 17.10.1873

On the visit of their Imperial Highnesses the Crown Prince and Princess of Germany to the Agricultural Show at Bedford, the only Prussian subject in that town, MR. LISSACK, greeted the Crown Prince in Prussian fashion, and they exchanged masonic salutations. 24.7.1874
♦On Friday last the Flower & Fruit Show took place at Sandy, near Bedford. Among special prizes was a prize offered by MR. LISSACK of Bedford for the best pound of butter. 4.9.1874

HORATIO JOSEPH LUCAS
HORATIO JOSEPH LUCAS is dead at the age of 34. He was a student of University College, London. He was an admirable theoretical and practical musician, and he wielded the artist's pen with genius and talent. He exhibited several pictures at the Royal Academy. Some of his etchings were of so high an order authorities of the British Museum invited him to place them in their National Collection, and some of his productions recently exhibited at the Royal Academy were purchased for other leading collections. He displayed a taste for Fine Arts at an early age. He was an active industrious member of the well known mercantile house of which his brother, SAMPSON LUCAS, Vice-President of the United Synagogue, is head. He was an active member of the Visitation Committee of the Jewish Board of Guardians. He was associated with other charitable institutions. MR. LUCAS married a daughter of COUNTESS D'AVIGDOR (a niece of SIR F.H. GOLDSMID, Bart., MP.) His young widow and four little children lament their loss. 26.12.1873
♦The will and codicil of HORATIO JOSEPH LUCAS, of 5 Westbourne Terrace, Hyde Park & 13 New Broad Street, City, who died on December 18, were proved by ISABEL OLGA LUCAS, the widow, SAMPSON & EDWARD LUCAS, JULIAN GOLDSMID & EDWARD EMANUEL MICHOLLS, executors, the personal estate being sworn under £70,000. The testator bequeaths to the Jews' Free School, Spitalfields and the Jewish Board of Guardians, Devonshire Street, Bishopsgate £100 each; to the Jews' Infant School, Commercial Street, Spitalfields, Ladies' Lying-In Charity, University College Hospital, Society for the Relief of the Indigent Blind of the Jewish Persuasion, St. Mary's Hospital and the Hospital for Sick Children, Great Ormond Street £50 each; to each of his executors, except his wife, £100 each; and there are many legacies to his brothers, nephews and others. To his wife testator leaves his private residence, all his household furniture and effects, £1,000, and interest of £25,000 for life. LOUIS ARTHUR LUCAS
We learn LOUIS LUCAS, of MICHOLLS LUCAS & CO. of Manchester, has retired from commercial life to devote himself to African travels. 5.11.1875
♦The Athenaeum announces the death of LOUIS A. LUCAS, African traveller, at the age of 25. He reached the equitorial provinces in June, but his escort proving too weak to allow him to penetrate further into the interior, he returned to Kartoum, en route for Suez, intending to re-organise his expedition, and proceed by way of Zanzibar to Congo. After repeated attacks of fever, he left Khartoum on 28th October, but died on the Red Sea, near Jeddah, on his way back, having abandoned all idea of further exploration. We may add he was only surviving son of the late PHILIP LUCAS of Manchester. 15.12.1876
♦The Times of 26th inst. contains an account of the adventures of the late LOUIS LUCAS. MR. LUCAS was buried at Jedda. 29.12.1876
♦The Alexandria correspondent of the Daily News writing about African exploration, refers to the death of LOUIS LUCAS, whom he describes as "one of the bravest and sincerest of African Explorers". 26.1.1877
♦The will and codicil of LOUIS ARTHUR LUCAS, late of Manchester, who died on November 20th, on board the steamship Massorah, in the Red Sea, has been proved by NATHANIEL COHEN, EDWARD BEHRENS, LOUIS DAVIDSON & ARTHUR GUTTERES HENRIQUES, executors, the personal estate being sworn under £60,000. The testator bequeaths to Jews' Infant School and the Jews' School, both of Manchester, £100 each; to Manchester Royal Infirmary, the Southern Hospital, Manchester, Jewish Board of Guardians and the Reform Synagogue, Park Place, Manchester £100 each; to the Colonel of the First Manchester Rifle Volunteers £50 to be distributed in prizes; to the Presbyterian Minister of the parish of Dunoon, Argyleshire £50 to be distributed among poor inhabitants of each parish; and there are other legacies. The rest of his property he leaves upon trust for his five sisters - MRS. COHEN, MRS. BEHRENS, MRS. DAVIDSON, MRS. HENRIQUES & MISS AGNES CHARLOTTE LUCAS. - Illustrated London News 9.2.1877

LYDIA LUCAS
Death on morning of 7.7.1880 at 39 Gloucester Square, widow of SAMPSON LUCAS, aged 52. (JW)
♦We regret to announce the death of MRS. SAMPSON LUCAS, widow of the late President of the United Synagogue. The lady was a sister of MRS. LOUIS DAVIDSON. 9.7.1880
♦The funeral of MRS. LUCAS took place at Willesden Cemetery on Friday last. The cortege consisted of a hearse and 12 mourning coaches, and about 20 private carriages. The coffin was covered with wreaths of costly exotics, and a carriage of flowers proceeded to the cemetery, the grave being decorated with them after internment. A large number of relatives and friends of the deceased attended the funeral. 16.7.1880

PHILIP LUCAS
Birth 27.9.1871 at Shire Hall, Hendon a son.
♦On Wednesday, 1st inst., children of the Portuguese Schools, Bevis Marks, and Jews' Orphan Asylum, spent a delightful holiday together at the residence of PHILIP LUCAS, Shire Hall, Hendon. The fete was given in commemoration of the birthday of MASTER ADOLPH LUCAS, and the arrangements under which it was carried out, through the efficient management of MR. & MRS. LUCAS and their daughters, were excellent. A substantial dinner, with choice dessert, was provided for the children under a commodious marquee, in a beautiful field adjoining the mansion. MR. & MRS. LUCAS and family took management of the little ones at the dinnertable, while the masters, governesses and teachers of the schools partook of an excellent repast in the summer-house, where the health of MR. & MRS. LUCAS and family was drunk with enthusiasm. After dinner amusements were enjoyed, and the children danced to the strains of a band. After tea pretty party songs and Hebrew melodies were sung, and on leaving each child was presented with a toy and a bun. 10.9.1875 (JW)

SAMPSON LUCAS
MR. SAMPSON LUCAS of Gloster Square, Bayswater, Esq. has been appointed Trustee by the Charity Commissioners in the matter of the old Burial Ground of Hambro Synagogue situate at Hoxton. 27.6.1873
♦We regret to state SAMPSON LUCAS, esteemed President of the United Synagogue and Vice-President of the Free School, is dangerously ill. He was suddenly seized, on Monday evening, with an attack of apoplexy at his office in New Broad Street, where he still lies in a critical condition. 25.7.1879
♦We regret to state SAMPSON LUCAS still lies in a critical condition at his offices in New Broad Street. He continues unconscious. 1.8.1879
♦Death 2.8.1879 at 13 New Broad Street, City, after a fortnight's illness, of 39 Gloucester Square, Hyde Park. (JW)
♦The community will learn with grief the severe illness with which SAMPSON LUCAS was recently visited reached its climax on Sunday evening, when he peacefully expired at the age of 58. It is a coincidence his father was subjected to a similar seizure at about the same age, but did not succumb, and it was only within a short time of SAMPSON LUCAS's death all hope was abandoned of his recovery. SAMPSON LUCAS was eldest son of LOUIS LUCAS, a well-known communal worker, and head of the old-established firm of LUCAS & MICHOLLS, West Indian Merchants, of New Broad Street & Manchester. He was born in 1821, and received a good commercial education. Entering the business at a comparatively early age he soon developed a capacity for dealing with administrative questions. When in 1854 LOUIS LUCAS died, not only did he succeed him in the direction of the house of business which bears his name, but he became a member of the Committee of Jews' Free School, of which his father had been for many years active and beloved President. In 1862 he was elected a Vice-President of the great scholastic institution in Bell Lane, Spitalfields. It was with the United Synagogue SAMPSON LUCAS's name was prominently identified. In 1874 SAMPSON LUCAS was elected President. He was a member of the Committee of the Burial Society, he had served as a Warden of Bayswater Synagogue and he was a member of the Committee of the East London Synagogue when it existed as a scheme. He was a director of the Alliance Assurance Company.

In 1847 he married his cousin, MISS DAVIDSON, who was first cousin to late BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD. 8.8.1879 (JW)

♦MR. LUCAS was buried on Wednesday morning at Willesden Cemetery. The body had been removed to the late residence of the deceased, 39 Gloucester Square, whence the funeral procession - consisting of hearse and 34 mourning coaches and nearly 20 private carriages - started at 10 o'clock. At the house of mourning a large number of leading members of the community assembled; among them were upwards of 60 members of the Council of the United Synagogue. Nearly all ministers of the metropolitan synagogues were present. The following congregations, in addition, were officially present: the Spanish & Portuguese, West London Synagogue of British Jews, Berkeley Street, Western Synagogue, Haymarket and Maiden Lane Synagogue.

The coffin was covered with choice flowers. Rev. Dr. H. Adler spoke a few words at the private service which was held afterwards at the house. A number of boys of the Jews' Hospital & Orphan Asylum marched in front of the coffin as it was carried to the grave. The following schools were represented and their banners covered with crape were displayed; Jews' Free School, Jews' Infant Schools and Stepney Jewish Schools. 8.8.1879

♦A special meeting of the General Council of the United Synagogue was held on Tuesday at New Synagogue Chambers, Great St. Helen's. SIR N.M. DE ROTHSCHILD, MP., in feeling terms, proposed a vote of condolence to members of the family of SAMPSON LUCAS should be passed. He said MR. LUCAS had been one of those who had been connected with formation of the United Synagogue, and he had taken an active part in construction of the Scheme of Unity. MR. NOAH DAVIS, in seconding the vote, said that what was perhaps not generally known was the heartiness and zeal with which MR. LUCAS laboured to promote the prosperity of the United Synagogue. The resolution was passed with every demonstration of respect, members rising while the motion was put by the Chairman. The Secretary (DR. ASHER) read a letter received from the Spanish & Portuguese Congregation conveying sympathy with the Council on the death of MR. LUCAS. The Rev. Dr. H. Adler, in the course of his sermon at Bayswater Synagogue on Sabbath last, feelingly alluded to the death of MR. LUCAS. A large number of offerings were made in memory of the deceased. Offerings in memoriam were made at several synagogues. 15.8.1879

♦To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, I think the article in the current numbr of the Jewish Chronicle hardly does justice to the admirable qualities of the late SAMPSON LUCAS. I think the article fails to give full expression to his arduous and persistent efforts in the cause of communal education. Few who had intercourse with him can have failed to remark the warmth and generosity of his manner, kindliness of his ways, and the fun in his composition. Dignified, perhaps austere, when it was needful to exercise authority, he rapidly unbent.

An admirable host and polished entertainer, his house was frequented by a large family and circle with pleasure. But it was as a true friend he could not be surpassed. Many instances are in the knowledge of the writer where at considerable sacrifice he had performed deeds of kindness - done in secret. Towards his family his conduct was congenial and full of kindness. Yours obediently, H. 15.8.1879

♦The will of SAMPSON LUCAS, of 39 Gloucester Square, Hyde Park, who died on 3rd ult., at 13 New Broad Street, was proved by MRS. LYDIA LUCAS, the widow, FRANCIS ALFRED LUCAS, the son, EDWARD LUCAS, Jnr., the brother, and EDWARD EMANUEL MICHOLLS, acting executors, the personal estate being sworn under £200,000. The testator bequeaths £500 to Jews' Free School, Bell Lane, Spitalfields; £250 each to the Jewish Board of Guardians and to the Treasurer of the United Synagogue; £100 each to Jews' Infant School, Commercial Street, Whitechapel, and the Ladies' Lying-In Charity; £50 each to Jews' Hospital & Orphan Asylum, Norwood, the Convalescent Home in memory of LADY MONTEFIORE, the Evelina Hospital and St. Mary's Hospital; the ewer and silver presented to his late father to his son FRANCIS EDWARD, to be heirlooms; to his wife he leaves his furniture, plate, jewellery, horses, carriages, wines, consumable stores and other effects, and a legacy of £1,000; he leaves her his residence and income of £80,000 for life; to his daughters JESSIE & MARIAN £20,000 each, and £25,000 each on the death of their mother; and numerous legacies. The residue of his estate he gives to his son. 26.9.1879

♦That hardworking journalist and artist, WALTER GOODMAN, has produced a capital crayon sketch of SAMPSON LUCAS, which hangs in the Council-Room of the United Synagogue. 6.2.1880

♦There has been placed in the Committee-room of Bayswater Synagogue a large portrait of the late SAMPSON LUCAS. The picture has been enlarged to life size from one lent by SIR DAVID SALOMONS, Bart. The portrait is in permanent photography, and finished in monochrome by hand. The likeness is excellent. 2.4.1880

To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, our attention has been called to a letter in the World of yesterday in which the name of our Firm is mentioned as one in a list of so called money lenders. Our firm is so well known in the community it is scarcely necessary to state this mention is a mistake. We are, and have been for many years, Auctioneers and Land Agents, and have not been concerned in bill-discounting transactions. We value and desire to maintain the position and reputation which we hold in the community, and which, we have earned during many years of laborious and honourable practice. JACOB LUPSCHUTZ
To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, Having been away from England for some years, I did not hear until a few days ago, of the death of a dear friend, JACOB LUPSCHUTZ, son of the late Ober Rabbiner of Dantzic, and formerly Hebrew master at Jews' Hospital. I heard with sorrow during his illness he was neglected; he breathed his last without any spiritual consolation, in the presence of a stranger; he was visited after death by a few philanthropists, whose chief care was to dispose of his effects. The poor man deserved better of his friends. He was a man of warm and generous sentiments. If not learned, he was a scholar in the better sense of the word; a man of a refined and cultivated mind, enobled by a love of the noble and ideal, and a high appreciation of that which is just, pure and true. He was sympathetic and charitable; he assisted with money and advice many a coreligionist, and would share his last morsel with those whom he loved. As I was for a time his confidential friend, I was the agent through whom he did many acts of charity without pomp or ostentation, and with disinterestedness. I never left his company without feeling I had been improved by the refined tone of his ideas and sentiments. He was sometimes stern and repulsive in manner; often harsh and hasty in expression; but he was at heart kind, gentle and considerate. Should any of his Jewish pupils be disposed to make some memorial to his memory, I should be happy to contribute my mite towards it. - Your obedient servant, M.S. HARRIS, 24 University Street, WC. On Tuesday an inquest was held at London Hospital on the body of JACOB LYONS, fishmonger, formerly of Stony Lane, Houndsditch. It appeared on Thursday, 15th, the deceased, who was nearly blind, was crossing Whitechapel Road when he was knocked down by the van of a ginger beer manufacturer. He was taken immediately to the London Hospital, but died a few minutes after admission from severe injuries to the scalp. The inquest was adjourned. The deceased was a candidate for a pension at the ensuing election of the Aged Needy Society. We are informed the laws of the Charity do not permit of the widow becoming a candidate at this election, as proxies are printed and being issued. 23.5.1879
♦At the London Hospital on Saturday morning, Mr. Collier resumed the inquiry into circumstances attending the death of JOHN LYONS, aged 67, of 4 Raven Terrace, Mile End. After deliberation, a verdict of "Accidental death" was returned, the driver being absolved of all blame in the matter. 30.5.1879

A clever little song, entitled "Memories of the past", has been composed by a young lady who has scarcely entered her 12th year - MISS KATE LYONS, a daughter of REV. S. LYONS of the Central Synagogue, Great Portland Street. 17.3.1871
♦MISS KATE LYONS has passed the examination of the Royal College of Preceptors. 10.1.1873
♦MISS KATE LYONS has obtained a letter of commendation at the distribution of prizes at the Royal Academy of Music. 31.7.1874
♦MISS KATE LYONS played with great success at the Royal Academy Concert given at St. James's Hall on 18th ult. 14.5.1875
♦At the last concert of the Schubert Society given at the Beethoven Rooms, on 14th inst., MISS KATE LYONS, RAM. received an encore for her rendering of three of Mendelssohn's "Lieder Ohne Werte". 23.7.1875
♦MISS KATE LYONS took part in a concert given at Langham Hall on 3rd instant, and earned well merited applause for her rendering of a polonaise by Chopin, as for the piano part of Haydon's Trip in G. MISS LYONS played with success at the Royal Academy Concert on 10th inst. 18.2.1876
♦MISS KATE LYONS took part in a Students' Orchestral Concert of the Royal Academy of Music held at St. James's Hall on Wednesday evening. MISS LYONS' playing on the pianoforte was recommended. 2.6.1876
♦At the distribution of Prizes to students of the Royal Academy of Music, MISS KATE LYONS gained the Bronze Medal for Pianoforte playing. 28.7.1876
♦MISS KATE LYONS played on Monday with success at the concert given at the Royal Aquarium. 27.10.1876
♦MISS KATE LYONS, RAM. played at a Students' Concert given by the Royal Academy of Music on Saturday evening at St. James's Hall. 30.3.1877
♦MISS KATE LYONS, RAM. gave a pianoforte solo at an entertainment held yesterday (Thursday) at the residence of the Communities of Claremont in aid of the Turkish Compassionate Fund. 15.3.1878
♦MISS KATE LYONS, RAM. played two pianoforte solos at the Countess of Charlemont's last matinee, appearing for the second time by special request. 12.4.1878
♦MISS KATE LYONS, having passed her Examination before Professors of the Royal Academy of Music, was awarded Certificate of Proficiency for Pianoforte and Harmony. This is, we are informed, the highest distinctinction conferred by Professors, MISS LYONS having already received the Bronze and silver medals. 18.10.1878
♦MISS KATE LYONS, a talented and rising young pianiste, gave her first concert on Saturday evening, at Langham Hall, which was attended by a numerous and fashionable audience, the Concert being under patronage of several of the elite of the Jewish community. Her fluent and capital execution of different pieces were highly appreciated by the audience, and well merited the hearty applause which the latter bestowed on the artiste. Special praise is due to MISS LYONS' rendering of Chopin's "Polonaise in A flat", which met with an encore. 22.11.1878 (The audience was an ill-mannered one, and such a buzz of conversation was kept up in the gallery several of the vocal pieces could hardly be heard.(JW))
♦On Tuesday at the Dramatic Recital given by Maurice Edwards at Langham Hall, MISS KATE LYONS was the pianist and played several selections with her usual skill, and was re-called for each selection. 18.4.1879
♦MISS KATE LYONS took part in an entertainment given at Langham Hall on Tuesday, in aid of Nazareth House, Hammersmith. The Whitehall Review says of this talented young lady she "can play Chopin, an intellectual feat beyond the capacity of most English pianistes". 25.4.1879

We are again grieved at seeing in local journals reports of proceedings before Hull magistrates arising out of disturbances in the synagogue. The following is one of the published reports:- For a considerable time past the congregation of the Jewish Synagogue at Hull has been split into two sections, and feelings of hostility have now and then become so bitter unseemly disputes have arisen in the synagogue. On Sabbath day, 1st inst., there was a fresh disturbance, the consequence of which was JULIUS MAGNER summoned SOLOMON WACHOLDER, president of the synagogue, for indecent behaviour in synagogue. The case was heard yesterday. It appeared during the service in synagogue, the complainant entered into conversation with his brother on the financial affairs of the place, when WACHOLDER turned round, and calling him a blackguard, told him to be quiet or he would have him turned out. It was stated defendant spit at the complainant, who left the synagogue. The defence set up was a denial of anything improper, and in support of this evidence was given by REV. H. BURMAN, minister of the synagogue. - The Bench dismissed the summons, observing the proceedings were disgraceful to both sides, and they declined to allow costs. - The Hull Packet expressed the hope an end will be put to these unseemly proceedings. 28.6.1878

There lately emigrated from Mecklenburg-Schwerin to Manchester a gentleman whom the Vosseische Zeitung calls a patriot, who for fortythree years was engaged as barrister in the capital of county-Schwerin. He went to Manchester to settle with his children. Born in 1809 he pursued his legal studies at several universities, and having taken his degree as Dr. Juris, he, as a Jew, had to apply for permission to practise his profession, which he received in 1832 as a favour from the Grand Duke with the declaration he could never obtain office of a judge. He practised his profession with great success. In 1848 he was elected to the German Parliament at Frankfort, and in the same year he was elected member of the Diet of his native country. As one of its two Vice-Presidents he was one of three persons appointed for the purpose, in whose presence the Grand Duke confirmed the new fundamental law. As early as 1840 he had been called into the Jewish chief council then formed, and for many years was a member of administration of the Jewish community at Schwerin, rendering it signal services. At his departure the municipality of the capital conferred on him honorary citizenship. The committee of citizens, and advocates, voted him farewell addresses. The Jewish community of Schwerin honoured his memory by erection of a tablet in the synagogue in which he is distinguished as a champion for emancipation of the Jews, and as its guide and councillor. The members of the chief council of the Jewish community presented to him an address of recognition and thanks. 13.10.1876

To the Editor of the "Jewish Chronicle" - Sir, I think it right to ask you to make public through the medium of your journal, the following case: a poor foreigner, named MARKS, of 11 Friendly Buildings, Back Church Lane, being unwilling to call the parish doctor, was unable himself to provide medical attendance for his sick child. The child died, and an inquest was held in consequence of no medical certificate being produced. Can nothing be done to prevent the frequent recurrence of such regretable cases? PENTECOST - The Sheffield Synagogue was decorated in a manner that elicited admiration. Large garlands forming arches of foliage were placed at every advantageous spot round the reading-desk and other parts of the building. A massive garland over the ark had a "Shield of David" appended to it, and on steps leading to the Ark was a rich collection of fragrant plants. The idea of these decorations belongs to MR. MARKS, the warden, who defrayed expenses, and MISS ESTHER MARKS superintended the work. 18.6.1875

B.S. MARKS
The Rev. Canon Farrar has written the following letter to the Alliance News:- "Dear Sir, It is so rarely Art is devoted to the service of philanthropy, I think I may call attention to a picture of MR. B.S. MARKS. It appears many of the Board Schools' children have never known their parents, and some of them are maintained and protected by women who are wretched drunkards. How sad a fate this implies for poor children is but too obvious; it shows, however, the spark of unselfishness continues to glow. The picture which has been suggested by these facts is called "An Appeal for Both", and may be seen at MR. MARKS' studio, 40 Fitzroy Square." 17.5.1878

I am, Rev. and dear sir, yours most obedient, M. KEIZER, Secretary United Synagogue

London, March 14, 1871 - Rev. and dear sir, I am directed by the President to acknowledge receipt of your letter of 13th inst., and to inform you all your documents were placed before the Meeting on Thursday evening. The committee were of the opinion the Chief Rabbi's letter was not sufficient as regards to character, and have deferred your application until a proper certificate is produced in accordance with Law 61 of the United Synagogue. I am, Rev. and dear sir, Yours most obedient, M. KEIZER, secretary.

Office of the Chief Rabbi - London, March 19, 5631 - Rev. and dear sir, I beg to acknowledge safe receipt of your letter dated 16th inst., with its enclosure, which is returned, and state the Board of Management of the Great Synagogue forwarded to me the documents of those applicants who were admitted as candidates subject to my approval. Among those documents I have not seen yours, and cannot comply with your wish. I am, Rev. and dear sir, yours faithfully, N. ADLER, DR.

Manchester, March 27, 1871 - To the Committee of the Great Synagogue - Gentlemen, Upon receipt of your Secretary's note of 14th inst., I wrote to REV. DR. ADLER asking for a further certificate as required. His reply was so different from what I expected I thought it advisable to proceed to London. In the course of an interview which I had with JONAS JACOBS, President of your Congregation, he stated to me "A stigma has once been attached to your name, and you will never be admitted as a candidate". In view of this contingency I feel it my duty, in order not to be the means of raising unpleasantness in the midst of your congregation, to inform you I would rather withdraw my application for the vacancy. Gentlemen I have enclosed copy of further certificate of character, and hope, upon reconsideration of the circumstances, you may of your own accord admit me as a candidate. I feel it my duty, meanwhile, to withdraw my application, and to give the reasons to those gentlemen who have requested me to come forward. I am, gentlemen, yours etc., H.D. MARKS, Manchester Hebrew Congregation, Great Synagogue Chambers, York Street (opposite Town Hall), Cheetham Hill Road.

We certify before REV. H.D. MARKS was admitted as candidate for office of First Reader & Secretary to this congregation, we fully and minutely examined all charges brought against him, in full Committee, whose unanimous opinion (backed by REV. DR. ADLER) was all allegations affecting his moral character were false and unworthy of credence. He was admitted as a candidate, and by a large majority of members of the Congregation, was elected to the beforementioned offices, duties of which he has, nearly for two years, fulfilled to the satisfaction of the congregation, and with honour to himself. A. LEVESON, President. I. LEVY, Warden. 28.4.1871 ♦Death 5.9.1871 at 15 Broughton Street, Cheetham, Manchester, ANNIE, beloved daughter of REV. H.D. MARKS, aged 7 months.

ISAAC MARKS
Regarding a Polish Jew named ISAAC MARKS now in one of the cells in Horsemongers Goal under the charge of murder, having been arrested of his own surrender to the Police to whom he confessed his fearful crime. By his murder a mother has been left a widow and nine children have become orphans. Two years ago the prisoner was on such terms of friendship with the deceased as to be betrothed to his sister. Soon after came disagreement between the two men, apparently about some money which was owing to, or claimed by FREDERICK BARNARD, and this led to the breaking off of MARKS' engagement with BARNARD's sister. Next we find ill-will augmented by aspersions cast upon MARKS by BARNARD in reference to fire which had occurred at his premises, and estrangement grew into enmity, enmity into revenge, and revenge turned into murder. In order that the culprit may have assistance of counsel, we shall be happy to receive contributions of friends who sympathise with this object. 10.10.1876 (JW)
♦At close of the final examination of ISAAC MARKS, charged with the murder of FREDERIC BARNARD, the prisoner said upon getting to his cell on the first occasion when he was brought up he found a number of tracts or books having reference to the Law of Moses from a Missionary Society. On the last occasion when at Court he found other tracts of the same character. His grandfather was a chief rabbi and his uncle was now one. 10.11.1876
♦To the Editor of the Jewish World - Sir, At the eleventh hour, with life trembling in the scale of judgment, I venture to solicit the consideration of my coreligionists in the case of ISAAC MARKS. He is guilty. Nevertheless, one plea may be urged on his behalf. The plea "madness". As a witness of the trial the evidence left a doubt in my mind. So great is the shock his mind has received the solicitor he employed to conduct his affairs refuses to hold personal communication with him under conviction he is insane. We have a glimpse afforded to us of the esteem in which he was held by his daily associates, in evidence given by a witness who proved he was known as "MAD MARKS" and "BREACH OF PROMISE MARKS". I call on all who have hearts to aid in obtaining a respite for this unhappy maniac. - ISAIAH ABRAHAMS, 199 & 201 City Road, EC. 22.12.1876 (JW)
♦The execution of ISAAC MARKS who was found guilty of shooting FREDERICK BARNARD, in Newington, took place within the walls of Fishmonger Lane Gaol on Tuesday. A memorial had been presented to the Home Secretary, pleading for a parden on the ground of insanity of the prisoner. The culprit had been frequently visited by Rev. S. Singer and Rev. Dr. H. Adler. He was attended on the scaffold by Revs. S. Singer and B. Spiers, who before and after execution recited prayers in Hebrew. These clergymen affixed their signatures to the official notice posted outside prison walls, setting forth execution had taken place. 5.1.1877

JOSEPH M'KUSKEY
The Birmingham stipendary Magistrate had before him on 10th inst. a case of curious nature. In 1837, SAUL SARGART, a Polish Jew, married at Warsaw a young Jewess, from whom he was three years afterwards (according to his statement) divorced in the usual manner, and with his wife's consent, by the chief rabbi of the place. He emigrated to England, whither he was followed by his discarded wife, who found him at Hull. They appear to have settled their differences there, for they lived together for five years, in which time three children were born. Another separation took place, and the husband went to live at Cinderford, in the Forest of Dean, married again, renounced the Jewish creed, and succeeded in raising himself to a position of comparative affluence. Meanwhile his first wife, after wandering about the country, found her way to the Birmingham workhouse. She and her children remained there for two years, and proceedings were instituted against him by the parochial authorities for neglect of his family. The defendant pleaded the divorce as rendering him non-liable, and the case was adjourned to enable him to send to Warsaw for papers to substantiate his claim with regard to divorce. 20.1.1871
♦JOSEPH M'KUSKEY, alias PAUL STARGOT, who is in business as a tailor at Cinderford, in the Forest of Dean, was summoned by the Guardians of Westbury-on-Severn before Newnham Magistrates, for allowing his wife and children to be chargeable to that union. The woman's statement was as follows: Thirty years ago PAUL STARGOT married her (PEARL), daughter of NAPTHALI, of Warsaw, according to rites of the Jewish faith. They lived together for six years, when they were divorced. After a separation of two months they were re-married, and lived together, with slight interruptions, up to about six years ago, when he forsook her at Hull. When the case before Birmingham magistrates broke down M'KUSKEY gave his wife £10 to get rid of her, but with this she went to Warsaw, and obtained letters from the Chief Rabbi of her second marriage, which M'KUSKEY repudiates. The defendant embraced the Christian religion, and married a Christian woman, by whom he has another family. Ultimately an order was made upon the defendant for payment of 5 shillings a week. The Bench granted a case on the legal question raised by M'KUSKEY's advocate on the sufficiency of the wife's evidence to establish the fact of her second marriage. 20.9.1872

RAPHAEL MELDOLA
Death 16.3.1871, suddenly, of heart disease, at his surgery, 116 Green Street, of Park House, Approach Road, Surgeon to the Royal Humane Society, late assistant to the Opthalmic Hospital, Moorfields. Deeply lamented by his family, and regretted by a numerous circle of friends.
♦We regret to announce the sudden death of MR. E. MELDOLA, a Surgeon and active member of Bethnal Green Board of Guardians. MR. MELDOLA, who was under treatment for heart disease, was found dead in his study on Thursday. He had been on his usual professional rounds during the afternoon and his decease was unexpected. The late MR. MELDOLA was a grandson of RABBI MELDOLA, fomer ecclesiastical chief of the Sephardi Congregation. The funeral took place on Sunday. There was a vast crowd; a large proportion of followers were Christians. 24.3.1871
♦MESSRS. SAMPSON SAMUEL & EMANUEL, Solicitors to the late MR. MELDOLA, have written to the Standard the following letter. - To the editor of the Standard - Sir, A notice has appeared in the Standard of the sudden death of RAPHAEL MELDOLA, surgeon, of Victoria Park. The Coroner's jury, at its adjourned sitting yesterday, returned a verdict death had resulted from a dose of chloral, but there was no evidence to show under what circumstances it had been taken. The deceased was a man in the prime of life, had been successful in his profession, and no motive was suggested in support of the rumour he had committed suicide. Almost immediately after the inquest we met Mr. Trake of Gabriel & Trake, of Little Moorfields, wholesale druggist. He told us a short time back the deceased called at the warehouse and bought chloral, stating he intended to use it to relieve himself from paroxysms of pain from which he occasionally suffered. It appears from post-mortem examination his heart exhibited signs of fatty degeneration. We are informed by medical men persons suffering from such a malady would run a great risk in taking a moderate amount of chloral. There can be no doubt the deceased induced a fatal result. That the act was one of inadvertence is to a certain extent confirmed by the circumstance the deceased had made entries in his diary of his engagements for two or three days subsequent to the day on which he died. This case should lead to precautions in the use of chloral, which we believe has been regarded as an innocent anaesthetic. We have the honour to be, Sir, your obedient servants, SAMPSON SAMUEL & EMANUEL, solicitors to the family of deceased. 31.3.1871 (JR)

LOUIS MERTON
We regret to announce the sudden death of LOUIS MERTON, the celebrated financier, whose operations in the Paris Bourse were so extensive, and his financial abilities so signal, his name had become almost proverbial in the French money market. MR. MERTON was brother of LADY JESSEL, wife of Rt. Hon. The Master of the Rolls, and he had recently married an Austrian lady of great wealth, MADLLE. PFEIFFER, granddaughter of BARON JONAS VON KONIGSWERTER. MR. MERTON had arrived in London for a visit, and was staying at Long's Hotel, where he was suddenly seized with apoplexy, and died almost immediately. On the knowledge reaching Paris, a panic in the Bourse occurred, and funds fell. MR. MERTON was in the 34th year of his age. He was, we believe, proprietor of a well known Parisian newspaper. The funeral of the deceased took place on Wednesday at Willesden Cemetery. The Morning Advertiser's Paris correspondent says "MR. MERTON was not only a munificent patron of the turf, but also of the fine arts. His loss will will be especially felt in Paris, which was the centre of his immense charities." 23.1.1874
♦The sale of pictures of the late MR. MERTON took place in Paris last week. The amount realised was about 921 francs. 3.2.1874

Death 12.6.1873 at Ryde, Isle of Wight, of 4 Upper Montagu Street, Russell Square, London WC. after a long and severe illness. Deeply regretted. May his soul rest in peace.
♦SIMEON MIERS was one of the founders of Jews' Deaf & Dumb Home. Perceiving dangers to Judaism from instruction given to deaf mutes of our people in the Kent Road Asylum, he "would not give sleep to his eyes" till he had withdrawn these unfortunates from non-Jewish teaching. From a small "home" in Mount Street the children were removed to a larger establishment in Burton Crescent. He became President of Jews' Deaf & Dumb Home, an institution in which he laboured with almost unparallelled devotion. A greater proof of his popularity was given by his selection as first Financial Representative of the Central Synagogue, an office in which he served for three years, and to which he was unanimously re-elected at a meeting of electors in May. In his capacity as Representative he had frequently to act as Warden, and his urbanity to all, no less than his devotion to the interests of the synagogue, rendered him beloved as well as respected. During his illness, he worked energetically, when possible, in promoting the financial business of the Synagogue. To Stepney Jewish Schools, he was a zealous friend. He accepted treasureship of the institution in days of its early struggles. He not only opened his purse freely and became its creditor for a large amount, but performed for it duties which are scarcely within province of a treasurer. He was a member of many public institutions and had lately been elected a Councillor of Jews' College. He worked with zeal when a suitable candidate for an institution came to his notice. Jewish boys of merit denied employment in many Jewish houses found places in his establishment. 20.6.1873
♦The funeral of MR. S.L. MIERS was numerously attended. It is rare to find in these days so many followers when remains are carried from the West End to the distant cemetery of West Ham. Probably 200 persons were present on the ground. A detachment of about 50 boys of Stepney Jewish School, led by the headmaster, and accompanied by the Hon. Secretary and some members of the committee marched behind the procession of mourners. There was a detachment from Jews' Deaf & Dumb Home, under guidance of the Principal. The boys of both institutions wore mourning bands. The long cortege excited considerable attention. The Chief Rabbi joined the procession at Finsbury Square. 20.6.1873
♦At the Central Synagogue on Sabbath last, Rev. A.L. Green alluded to the merits and virtues of MR. S.L. MIERS. 27.6.1873

MUNK MIKES
A confirmation of a letter inserted in our impression of December 22 is afforded by the following report of an inquest which we extract from the Daily Telegraph on Wednesday: Yesterday afternoon an inquest was opened at the Three Cranes, Mare Street, Hackney, touching the death of a Hungarian named MUNK MIKES, aged 23, who was stated to have committed suicide. Mr. L.W. Karamelli of Worship Street interpreted evidence of Sandor Thivesey, who said the deceased was a merchant in his own country, Hungary, but, business being bad, he came here to learn the printing trade. After he had been in this country some time he made acquaintance of a number of ladies and others of strong religious tendencies, and they persuaded him to change his religion. Latterly he had seemed depressed, and the witness had heard he had been promised by a society for converting Jews they would make him a present of a printing-press if he were baptised into the Christian faith, and assist him to print a Hebrew paper in Hungary. The society in Palestine Place gave him the printing-press, and he set himself up as a printer at 1 Bandon Place, Victoria Park. One day the printing-press was taken away, and the witness believed depression of spirits had led to his comitting suicide. The witness said he had been to Rev. Mr. Joseph, somewhere in Hackney, who told him he had baptised the deceased, who took the name of MARCUS MUNK. Evidence having been given of the finding of a body in the Lea, very decomposed, having probably been in the water for a month. The jury returned an open verdict. Mr. Karamelli said Jews could not bury a Christian convert, and the coroner instructed his officer to communicate with the religious lady who had been corresponding with the deceased. 5.1.1877

ABRAHAM MOCATTA
Death Wednesday, 21.4.1880 at 35 Gloucester Place, Portman Square, aged 83. (JW)
♦We regret to announce ABRAHAM MOCATTA (father of F.D. MOCATTA) died on Wednesday evening. MR. MOCATTA was one of the founders of the West London Synagogue of British Jews. 23.4.1880
♦MR. ABRAHAM MOCATTA, whose death was recorded last week, was eldest son of JACOB MOCATTA by REBECCA BARUH LOUSADA, and was born in March, 1797. The boy was withdrawn from school at 14 or 15, and put to serve his apprenticeship in a house of business. The earlier part of his business life was devoted to Mincing Lane, and afterwards to the Stock Exchange, but on the death of his father in 1826, he succeeded him in the firm of MOCATTA & GOLDSMID, of which his family had been members for generations. Here he worked on with great energy till about twenty years ago, when he retired from City affairs. MR. MOCATTA, when Warden of Bevis Marks Synagogue, was mainly instrumental in introducing a choir. His ideas for amelioration of worship, which were shared by others of the members of the congregation, were met with opposition of many persons. This led to what is called "the Reform Movement". The whole of 1840 and 1841 were consumed in formulating ritual and framing regulations which were to guide the West London Synagogue of British Jews. MR. MOCATTA served many years as warden. Not many years after establishment of the West London Synagogue in 1847 MR. MOCATTA was attacked with a sudden and severe illness in which his life was despaired; he recovered, though remaining for some years more or less an invalid. MR. MOCATTA married in 1818 MIRIAM, daughter of the late GABRIEL ISRAEL BRANDON. By his estimable and charitable lady who died in 1878, he has four children: REBECCA, married to SIGISMUND SCHLOSS, leaving issue, surviving, one son. She died in 1855. JACOB, married to JULIANA, daughter of the late BENJAMIN ELKIN, leaving issue two sons and a daughter. He died in 1877. MIRIAM, married to SAMUEL MOCATTA, leaving issue three sons and three daughters. FREDERIC DAVID, married to MARY ADA, daughter of the late MR. F.D. GOLDSMID, without issue.
The funeral took place at Ball's Pond on Monday, and it was largely attended, there being present most of the ministers as well as representative members of all London Synagogues. At the Cemetery were several pupils of Jews' Infant Schools and of schools of the Spanish & Portuguese Congregation, with draped banners, and a few inmates of the Jewish Home, of which MR. F.D. MOCATTA is President. 30.4.1880
♦NOTICE TO CREDITORS - ABRAHAM MOCATTA Esq., of 35 Gloucester Place, Portman Square, Middlesex (who died 21st April, 1880 and whose Will was proved by FREDERIC DAVID MOCATTA, SAMUEL MOCATTA & ABRAHAM DE MATTOS MOCATTA, Executors). - 25 May, 1880 - LOUISADA & EMANUEL, 15 Austinfriars, EC.
♦The will of ABRAHAM MOCATTA, late of 35 Gloucester Place, Portman Square, was proved by FREDERIC DAVID MOCATTA, the son, SAMUEL MOCATTA, & ABRAHAM DE MATTOS MOCATTA, grandson, the Executors, the personal estate being sworn under £100,000. The testator bequeaths £500 to the West London Synagogue for British Jews; £100 each to the Board of Guardians for Relief of the Jewish Poor, the Cancer Hospital, University College Hospital, London Hospital, Metropolitan Free Hospital, Jews' Hospital & Orphan Asylum, Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and Jews' Infant School, Commercial Street, Spitalfields, many other bequests, and £100 to his son to be distributed among poor people or charitable institutions. To his wife, MIRIAM, he leaves £1,400 and his residence, with furniture, plate, jewellery, pictures, household effects, horses and carriages, and legacies to children, grandchildren and others. The residue of his property is to be held upon trust for his wife for life, and then, subject to further bequests, to children and grandchildren, as to a

S. MOLEMAN
Today (Friday) a new Sepher will be consecrated at a synagogue in Whites Row, Spitalfields. It has been presented by one of its members (MR. S. MOLEMAN). Within three years, MR. MOLEMAN, who belongs to the working classes, has presented to the synagogue three Scrolls of Law with Mantles, a mahogany ark, two curtains, a silver pointer and other articles. This generosity on the part of a member of the humbler classes is almost unparallelled in the annals of small Chebras, or religious societies. 4.9.1874

♦Death Sunday, 8.2.1880 at Armfield's Hotel, South Place, Finsbury, after a short illness, aged 66, for fiftytwo years choirmaster of the Great Synagogue. Respected by all who knew him.
♦We regret to announce the death, which took place on Sunday morning, of JULIUS (ISRAEL) L. MOMBACH, eminent Choir-master of the Great and New Synagogues. He died after an illness of a few days duration. The immediate cause of death was spasm of the heart. The deceased was born in 1813 in Pfungstadt. His father was the late REV. LAZARUS MOMBACH, Chazan in Pfungstadt, who died young, leaving a widow (who is 90 years of age and resides there) and a large family. His eldest brother succeeded his father as Chazan of the Pfungstadt congregation. The news of the death of his brother but three weeks ago greatly affected him, and is believed to have hastened his death. He married about thirtyfive years ago KATE HYAM, a distant relative, who died in 1862. In 1828 when REV. ENOCH ELIASSON, Chazan of Darmstadt congregation, was elected First Reader of the Great Synagogue, London, he begged FRAU MOMBACH to allow him to take her son with him, promising her to educate and care for him in England. He received the greater part of his musical education from MR. ELIASSON, and afterwards was taught by MR. ELIASSON's son, who was at one time Director of Concerts at the Lyceum Theatre. On election of REV. SIMON ASCHER, Chazan par excellence of the Great Synagogue, MR. MOMBACH was engaged with a renowned bass to assist him in rendering choral portions of the service. When the late HENRY HYMAN COHEN, during his term of office as Warden of the Great Synagogue, instituted a choir, MR. MOMBACH was appointed its director, which position he filled until his death. Nearly all music in the German synagogues of England and the colonies was composed by him. He was willing to render assistance to distant congregations, and recently forwarded to Sydney a small collection, in Manuscript, of his compositions. His services as choirmaster were sought on almost every occasion when a synagogue in England was consecrated. Nearly every one of the Readers of synagogues in England, and many of the colonies, are indebted to him for aid, and some were trained by him. He taught singing and chazanoth to students of Jews' College. He was a member of the Committee of the Jewish Association for the Diffusion of Religious Knowledge, and directed gratuitously the singing of school pupils of Sabbath Classes of the Association. For several years he has conducted a service at the Working Men's Club. He was buried at West Ham Cemetery, and the funeral was attended by nearly all metropolitan ministers. During the time the cortege passed the Great Synagogue most of the shops in the neighbourhood were closed. The bier was borne to the grave by some of the choristers to whom he had endeared himself. 13.2.1880

The deceased was born in London on 10th May, 1816, and was eldest son of ABRAHAM JOSEPH ELIAS MONTEFIORE, a younger brother of SIR MOSES, who married on 23rd August, 1815 HENRIETTA, daughter of MAYER A. ROTHSCHILD of Frankfort, and sister of NATHAN MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD, founder of N.M. DE ROTHSCHILD & SONS. There were issue, in addition to JOSEPH, NATHANIEL, LOUISA, LADY ANTHONY DE ROTHSCHILD, and the late CHARLOTTE MONTEFIORE, author of "A few words to the Jews" and other works. His father died in 1824 of consumption, at the age of 36, having been born on 12th May, 1788. His mother died on 19th February, 1866. In February, 1860 he married at Frankfort HENRIETTA FRANCISCA, daughter of SOLOMON BERNARD SICHEL, of the Hague, who survives him, and had issue two sons: FRANCIS ABRAHAM, born 10th October, 1860 (who in October, 1879 matriculated at Christ's College, Oxford, where he is pursuing his studies) and EDWARD MAYER, born 16th April, 1872.
MR. MONTEFIORE was elected a member of Board of Deputies - as one of the representatives of the Spanish & Portuguese Congregation - in 1844, and served till 1853, when he retired. He was re-elected a member of the Board in 1857. MR. MONTEFIORE was elected Vice-President of the Board in 1858, and, during absences of SIR MOSES, MR. MONTEFIORE acted as President. On retirement of his uncle in October, 1874 the deceased was unanimously elected President, and continued to fill that post till his death. His modest and retiring disposition precluded him from taking an active part in deliberations of the Board. He preferred to keep his personality in the background to an almost excessive extent. He seldom spoke at length, but confined his occasional remarks to a few terse observations. He was tolerant, brief to a fault, to differences of opinion among members of the Board, and frequently allowed more freedom of discussion than was commensurate with an expeditious transaction of business. But he was rigidly impartial.
He attended the place of worship in Bevis Marks, to which he was much attached. He was elected Gabay, or Treasurer, in 1846, and by virtue of his office, became for life an Elder. He was re-elected Gabay in 1847, and Warden in 1851. He was a liberal subscriber to, and took interest in all charitable and educational institutions connected with the congregation.
MR. MONTEFIORE was a Director of the Alliance Assurance Company for twentythree years, and he acted for a few years as Director of the National Provincial Bank of Ireland. His country seat was at Worth Park, Crawley, Sussex, and he took some interest in breeding of cattle. At the annual cattle show at the Agricultural Hall, his name generally appeared among exhibitors, and he obtained several prizes. He was a Justice of the Peace and Deputy-Lieutenant for Sussex, and served as High Sheriff in 1870.
On Wednesday 6th the deceased attended a meeting of Directors of the Alliance Assurance Company. On Friday he complained of being unwell and medical advice was sought. Sir William Jenner recognised the gravity of the illness, and MR. MONTEFIORE expired on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.
The deceased was buried on Tuesday at the cemetery of the Spanish & Portuguese Congregation, Mile End Road. The coffin was covered with floral wreaths. At half-past 10 the cortege consisting of 20 mourning coaches and several private carriages started on the route to the burial ground. At the cemetery were pupils, bearing creped banners from the following schools: Jews' Free School, Jews' Infant School, Stepney Jewish School, "Gates of Hope" School, Villareale School, and the Infant School and Orphan Society of the Spanish & Portuguese Congregation. 15.10.1880
♦On Monday a Meeting of the Board of Deputies was held in the Vestryroom of the Spanish & Portuguese Synagogue, Bevis Marks for considering a vote of condolences to the family of JOSEPH MAYER MONTEFIORE on his death. The vote was carried unanimously.
A vote of condolence was passed at special meetings of the Committees of Beth Holim Hospital and "Gates of Hope" schools held on Tuesday. 22.10.1880
♦The will of JOSEPH MAYER MONTEFIORE, JP., DL., of Worth Park, Sussex and of Great Stanhope Street, Mayfair, who died on October 9th, was proved by HENRIETTA FRANCESCA

MONTEFIORE, the widow, and sole executrix, the personal estate being sworn under £600,000. The testator appoints his wife, his son ABRAHAM FRANCIS MONTEFIORE (when he attains 21) and his brother, NATHANIEL MONTEFIORE, trustees, and his wife guardian of his infant children during their minorities. He bequeaths to his brother £1,000, to the Spanish & Portuguese Synagogue, Bevis Marks £500, and the residue of the personalty (except his leasehold property) to his wife. In default of appointment by her, he gives such personalty to his wife for life, and then as to £70,000 for his son EDWARD MAYER, and the remainder for his son ABRAHAM FRANCIS. All his real and leasehold assets he leaves to his wife, and then to his son, ABRAHAM FRANCIS. 24.12.1880

LEONARD ABRAHAM MONTEFIORE

LONDON UNIVERSITY - MR. LEONARD ABRAHAM MONTEFIORE has passed in the 2nd Division. 15.11.1872

♦MR. LEONARD A. MONTEFIORE, of Balliol College, Oxford (a nephew of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE) has gained the Taylorian Exhibition for German at Oxford University. 21.11.1873

♦MR. LEONARD A. MONTEFIORE has been appointed Hon. Secretary of the West London Metropolitan School for Middle Class Pupils. 20.4.1877

♦The degree of BA. was conferred on LEONARD ABRAHAM MONTEFIORE, of Balliol College, in a congregation held on 7th inst. at Oxford. 14.6.1878

♦The current issue of Nineteenth Century contains continuation of articles by LEONARD MONTEFIORE on "Liberty in Germany". 4.10.1878

♦Death 6.9.1879 at Newport, Rhode Island, U.S.A., elder son of NATHANIEL MONTEFIORE of 18 Portman Square, London, W., aged 26.

♦The Athenaeum and Examiner of Saturday contain biography notices of LEONARD A. MONTEFIORE, and eulogise the talents of the deceased. The London correspondent of the Leeds Mercury, who refers to the death of MR. MONTEFIORE, says Lord Beaconsfield had a high opinion of his ability and of his future success. 19.9.1879

♦On Wednesday the remains of LEONARD MONTEFIORE were interred at the cemetery of Berkeley Street Synagogue, Kingsbury Road, Ball's Pond. The body was brought to England in the "Germanic", accompanied by MR. MONTEFIORE's courier, who was with him when he died. MR. HENRY LUCAS and Mr. Birchengough went to Liverpool to receive the body. It reached Euston Station on Wednesday morning, and was conveyed to the town residence of NATHANIEL MONTEFIORE, 18 Portman Square, where mourners were assembled. Among mourners were REVS. PROF. D.W. MARKS, P. MAGNUS, A. LOWY, D. PIZA, S.J. ROCO: JOSEPH DE CASTRO, Warden and MR. E.H. LINDO, Secretary of the Spanish & Portuguese Congregation. The coffin was covered with wreaths of choice flowers. Several children of Jews' Infant School, of which NATHANIEL MONTEFIORE is President, were at the burial-ground. As soon as news of MR. MONTEFIORE's death reached New York, Rev. H.P. Mendes telegraphed to Newport on behalf of the Shearith Israel Congregation offering to take charge of the remains; at the same time the Editor of the Reform telegraphed to the same effect, and Rev. Dr. Gottheil went to Newport to offer his services. Before any of the messages reached Mr. de Bunson (of the British Legation), who was with MR. MONTEFIORE when he died, he had left for New York with the body. The congregations B'nai Jeshurau, Shaaray Teula, Shearith Israel, and Eamnu-El sent representatives to meet the remains on their arrival at New York.

The Whitehall Review contains the following reference: "The memory of LEONARD MONTEFIORE, of whose death at the age of 26 news has come from America, deserves more than a conventional tribute of respect. After a distinguished career at Balliol, MR. MONTEFIORE threw himself into several schemes for social improvement of the poor of the East-end of London. He did not confine his endeavours to those of his own faith, but worked among the labouring classes generally. In the ranks of journalism he had won an honourable place. He has left his mark, and his death will make a gap."

The World says: "When news was cabled across the Atlantic, a few weeks ago, LEONARD MONTEFIORE was laid up at Newport with a severe attack of rheumatism, his friends hoped youth and a good constitution would pull him through. He was said to be 'peculiar', and was so, in as much as it is peculiar to find a young man of wealth and position devoting himself quietly to moral and intellectual improvement of his less fortunate fellow-creatures. That his mental endowments were above average his literary work can testify, but most noteworthy was the combination of mind and heart which makes so deeply felt the loss of LEONARD MONTEFIORE." 26.9.1879

♦The Rev. Dr. Gottheil's address over the body of LEONARD MONTEFIORE in Temple Emanu-El of New York was a tribute to the unassuming worth of the deceased. We make the following extract: "LEONARD MONTEFIORE from his childhood had marked out a course that would give moment to his life. He followed a life of integrity, honour and benevolence." 3.10.1879 (JW)

♦The Women's Union Journal, the organ of the Protective & Provident League, contains a biography of the late LEONARD MONTEFIORE, to which the Editor has added the following: "On three occasions social meetings of the League's rooms were cheered by his presence. It is the personal aid and kindly friendship expressed by his presence in their midst many of our readers will remember and for the loss of which their sorrow will be felt." 14.11.1879

♦The Will of LEONARD MONTEFIORE, who died on September 6th, has been proved by his brother CLAUDE MONTEFIORE & JAMES RENDEL, his executors, the personal estate being sworn under £10,000. Among numerous legacies the testator bequeaths £1,000 to the Children's Hospital, Great Ormond Street; £100 to Jews' Infant School, the Hospital for Incurable Children, Cheyne Walk, Chelsea, Westminster Jews' Free School and the Metropolitan Association for Befriending Young Servants; £50 each to the Women's Provident & Protective League, the charity Organisation Society and Society for the Suppression of Vice. 26.12.1879 (JW)

♦To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle -Sir, I recently heard of the death of my contemporary, LEONARD MONTEFIORE. We had rooms on the same staircase at Balliol, and he was a social man; so for 1876 and 1876 I saw him constantly. From the first, I was charmed by his wit, his talent, and his sweetness of nature. His genial hospitality and his good taste made his rooms the pleasantest and prettiest. One of the pleasures of his friends was to hear him play on the zither. On one occasion he was returning from an evening party, carrying his zither, and without academical costume. Suddenly, a proctor appeared in sight. With readiness MONTEFIORE began to play upon the zither, and the proctor, regarding him as a street minstrel with an incomprehensible instrument, passed on. Nothing made him so happy as to have children's parties in his rooms, or to help make little ones happy. He liked to leave a party immediately after saying a good thing, so as to leave laughter and a good impression behind him. Few men of his age had such a store of amusing stories or conversational powers. He was as good a hearer as a speaker. One of his charming qualities was his appreciativeness; he perceived the best points in the character of all, and liked to make the most of them. If a warm and tender heart, a delicate generosity, and a noble liberalism of feeling towards mankind be elements of a great life, then did LEONARD MONTEFIORE live well. Yours obediently, John F. Richards. 16.1.1880

SIR MOSES HAIM MONTEFIORE
A portrait and pleasing notice of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE appears in this week's number of Family Friend. 3.3.1871

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has telegraphed to the Haham Bushi of Jerusalem, soliciting him to order prayers in Jerusalem, and in all synagogues of the Holy Cities, for the recovery of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, and for the health of all members of the Royal family. 15.12.1871

♦A new Commission of Lieutenancy has been issued for the City of London. Among Commissioners is SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, Bart. 22.12.1871

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has left London for St. Petersburg, to congratulate the Czar, on behalf of the Board of Deputies, on the Bicentenary of Peter the Great. SIR MOSES is accompanied by Dr. Loewe & Dr. Daniel. 12.7.1872

♦We are happy to state SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE had a safe and agreeable voyage from Hull to Gothenburg. He remained for some hours at the latter port, and embarked for Russia. He is in excellent health. Intelligence has been received of the safe arrival of SIR MOSES at Stockholm. While SIR MOSES was at Hull, he visited the synagogue to offer up a prayer for a safe voyage. The Rev. Mr. Rosenthal happened to be preparing a youth for his barmitzvah. SIR MOSES gave the boy a present. 19.7.1872

♦On SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE's departure for Russia, prayers were offered up in the congregations under supervision of Rev. Dr. Adler, Chief Rabbi, and of Rev. Dr. Artom, Haham. 19.7.1872

♦We are happy to state SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has arrived safely at St. Petersburgh. 26.7.1872

♦On arrival of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE in Russia, a special train was sent by the Czar to convey him, with the gentlemen who accompanied him, to the Capital. SIR MOSES had an interview with the Emperor on Thursday, 25th ult., at an early hour of the morning. A telegram announcing his interview was despatched from St. Petersburg at 10.50 a.m. Immediately after the interview SIR MOSES left St. Petersburg for Berlin. 2.8.1872

♦We are happy to state SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE arrived safely at Ramsgate on Friday. SIR MOSES landed at Dover. He is in good health. 16.8.1872

♦An impressive ceremony took place at the synagogue of the Sephardim congregation in Bevis Marks, on Sabbath morning last, when SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE attended to offer up his thanksgiving to his Heavenly Master for his prosperous journey and safe return. The congregation testified their grateful sympathy by making numerous offerings. SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE attended afternoon service at the Great Synagogue on this Sabbath. There was a large congregation present. The baronet, having been called to the Law, made munificent offerings in thanksgiving for protection vouchsafed him by his Heavenly Father, during his recent journey. Numerous complimentary offerings were made by the congregation. 23.8.1872

♦Our continental Jewish contemporaries give lengthy descriptions of incidents occurring during SIR MOSES MONTFIORE's journey to and from St. Petersburg. At Konigsberg a deputation of Jewish inhabitants addressed congratulations on the result of the mission. The Hotel Sans Souci, where SIR MOSES stayed, was beseiged from Friday to Sunday by visitors. The concert band of the Teichert Society gave in his honour a special performance in the garden, under the windows of his apartment. Thousands of persons greeted his arrival and witnessed his departure. A correspondent who writes to Allgemaine Zeitung des Judenthum describes gratification experienced by the Jewish community of Aix-la-Chapelle at again seeing SIR MOSES amongst them. Special prayers invoking Divine protection were offered in several continental synagogues. 30.8.1872

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE - An interesting article is in the Fanfullan, a daily political paper published in Rome. 6.9.1872

♦Translations of the report of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE's Mission to Russia have appeared in several of our foreign Jewish contemporaries, in the French, German & Dutch languages, and in the Magid, which is printed in Hebrew. The report was reproduced in American Jewish journals. 1.11.1872

♦The annual Purim gifts of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE were distributed to children of the Portuguese Congregational Schools on Thursday. 14.3.1873

♦On the day succeeding the laying of the first stone of the Portuguese Synagogue at Manchester, SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE entertained a large number of gentlemen at an elegant dejeuner at Palatine Hotel. MR. BELISHA proposed the health of SIR MOSES, which was enthusiastically received. 20.6.1873

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE had a private interview with H.M., the Shah of Persia, on Monday. 4.7.1873

♦Dr. Loewe, dating from Broadstairs, comments to the Magid SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE passed the holidays in Ramsgate and continues in perfect health. 24.10.1873 (JW)

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE met with a slight accident on Friday. As he was on his way to synagogue, one of his horses fell, and his carriage was shaken. A great crowd collected, but we are delighted to state though SIR MOSES was obliged to return, he was not injured. 24.10.1873

♦On Tuesday a meeting of the General Council of the United Synagogue was held at Central Synagogue Chambers; SIR ANTHONY ROTHSCHILD, president, in the chair. On the motion of the Chairman, a vote of condolence was passed to SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE on the death of his sister, MRS. BENJAMIN COHEN. The resolution was carried unanimously. 7.11.1873

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, who had been detained at Brighton by an attack of bronchitis, has sufficiently recovered to return to Ramsgate, whither he went on Monday. 20.2.1874

♦A dinner was given last week at the London Tavern by SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, Bart. to employees of the Alliance Life & Fire Assurance Co., to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of his chairmanship of the Company. A large number of guests sat down at the banquet, which was enlivened by delightful singing by guests. MR. R. LEWIS, Secretary of the Company, proposed the health of SIR MOSES, which was received with acclamation. A report of the speeches appears in the Insurance Record. 24.4.1874

♦On Thursday evening 14th inst., Walter Charles Venning, prime warden of the Governing Body of the City Guild of Fishmongers, entertained a select company at dinner in their corporate hall at the north end of London Bridge. The immediate object of the festival was presentation of the freedom of the Company to SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, in consideration of their respect for his high character and public services in the cause of community and civil and religious liberty in various parts of the world. At the last moment the immediate object of the entertainment was rendered practically abortive by receipt of a communication SIR MOSES was confined to his bed by illness and was unable to be present. The dinner proceeded in his absence. The casket which had been prepared to contain the record of freedom is made of 18-carat gold and is of Elizabethan style. 22.5.1874 (JW)

♦The Daily Telegraph contains a leader on the Famine at Jerusalem and on the part taken by SIR MOSES in endeavouring to assuage it. 29.5.1874

♦A deputation from the Board of Deputies waited on SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE at East Cliff Lodge to urge him to again accept office of President of the Board. SIR MOSES, after consultation, complied with the request. 5.6.1874

♦The current number of Illustrated London News is interesting to Jewish readers. It contains an engraving of the casket containing the address presented by the Fishmongers' Company to SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, Bart. 12.6.1874

♦On Monday afternoon a deputation of the Fishmongers' Company waited on SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, Bart., FRS. at his residence, East Cliff Lodge, Ramsgate, for the purpose of presenting him with honorary freedom of the Fishmongers' Company. At conclusion of the ceremony the company were entertained at luncheon by SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE. 3.7.1874

♦On Monday week last, children attending St. Laurence School, Ramsgate were regaled by SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE with a substantial dinner of roast beef and plum pudding. A sentiment expressive of well-wishes towards SIR MOSES was endorsed with a heartiness and zeal as unmistakable as it was sincere. 10.7.1874 (JW)

♦The Sunday Times, referring to the presentation of freedom of the Fishmongers' Company to SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, remarks as follows:- "SIR MOSES has been fighting the battle of the Jews tooth and nail all the days of his life. If a man deserves to be a fishmonger why should that distinction be withheld until his 90th year?" 10.7.1874 (JW)

♦RAMSGATE - On Sabbath last two emissaries of the Society for Promoting Christianity amongst the Jews, presented themselves in synagogue for the purpose of "saving the soul of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE from eternal perdition". They created a disturburbance and they were ejected from the building. 24.7.1874 (JW)

♦It is announced SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has resigned the office of President of the Jewish Board of Deputies. - Morning Advertiser 23.10.1874

♦The Resolutions voted to SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, Bart. by the Board of Deputies on his retirement from presidency have been engrossed and illuminated in a beautiful and artistic style. They have been signed by all members of the Board. 30.10.1874

♦A bust of the Archbishop of Canterbury presented by SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE to St. Peter's Orphanage, Thanet was unveiled on Tuesday. 20.11.1874

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE believing the poor of his congregation must be suffering from extra distress owing to the severity of the weather, sent £100 to the Wardens for distribution among such cases as might appear to them deserving. A meeting was held immediately after Sabbath, to which the poor were invited, and the sum was apportioned among applicants. 8.1.1875

♦Last Saturday's Daily Telegraph contains an article regarding the "MONTEFIORE Testimonial". The following letter appeared in Wednesday's Daily Telgraph:- Sir, I read with pleasure an article relative to the proposed testimonial in recognition of the noble character of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE. During my residence in Palestine and Syria for upwards of thirty years, I frequently acted as almoner of the bounty of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE. The venerable Baronet is in his 91st year, and it is well known the greater part of his life has been spent in untiring efforts towards men of all denominations and nationalities. Thousands in this country will bear testimony to these facts, and give a helping hand to your powerful appeal. - I have the honour to be, sir, your obedient servant, Nivien Moore, Late Consul-General in Syria 19.2.1875 (JW)

♦The London Figaro of Wednesday contained an article regarding the testimonial of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE. 26.2.1875 (JW)

♦A library has been established at Jerusalem bearing the name of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, in order to perpetuate in the Holy City the name of the Baronet. 26.2.1875

♦The Bible Echo has the following: "the SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE testimonial is growing quite rapidly. And what for? To afford help to the agricultural classes of the Holy Land, and bring back the soil from its long sterility to a state of cultivation. Many will hope at last the set time to favour Zion is come." 12.3.1875 (JW)

♦The Chebra, composed of Dutch & Portuguese Jews residing in London, have voted a part of their funds towards the SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE Testimonial Fund. 19.3.1875 (JW)

♦The shareholders of the Alliance British & Foreign Life & Fire Assurance Company have had placed in their Board Room a large size portrait, in oil, of their President, SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE. 26.3.1875 (JW)

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE gave a sumptuous dinner on Wednesday evening to staff of the Alliance Life & Fire Assurance Co., of which SIR MOSES is president. The Chairman proposed the "health of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE". He read a letter from SIR MOSES, expressing his regret at his absence. 2.4.1875

♦The Pictorial of April 3rd contains a likeness of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, Bart., and adds a notice of SIR MOSES' career. 9.4.1875

♦A poem in Hebrew in honour of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has been published by Mr. Fischer, a school-director of Buda. A sketch of SIR MOSES' life in the German language is prefixed. 14.5.1875

♦The Telegraph's Art Critic describes Mr. Richmond's portrait of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE as "a picture of one of the best of men". 21.5.1875

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE visited the Spanish & Portuguese Synagogue on Sabbath, at morning service. He was called to the Law and offerings were made in his honour. A special prayer made and offered by Rev. Dr. Artom was offered in Hebrew and English. SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE attended afternoon service at the Great Synagogue on Sabbath. He was called to the Law, the whole congregation upstanding, and he made liberal offerings. After reading of the Law a Hebrew prayer was read by Rev. the Chief Rabbi. A large number of complimentary offerings in honour and for the safe journey and return of SIR MOSES were announced. SIR MOSES was beseiged by an immense crowd. Hats were raised and waved. SIR MOSES responded in a suitable manner. As he was about to enter a house in Bevis Marks, a rush was made to get near SIR MOSES. As he turned towards the crowd, loud cheers were raised which SIR MOSES acknowledged by bowing and waving his hat and by invoking God's blessing on the people whom he bade to pray for Jerusalem. 11.6.1875

♦Yesterday's Liverpool Mercury contains an article entitled "An Aged Pilgrim", on SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE's mission to Jerusalem. 18.6.1875

♦The London Figaro says:- "SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, who is nearly 91 years of age, is still "going about doing good". The finest and best specimen of humanity is your wealthy wellborn Jew." 18.6.1875

♦We learn by special telegram SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, accompanied by Dr. Loewe, Edward Samuel & Dr. Edmund Aiken, embarked from Dover to Calais yesterday (Thursday morning) on his self-imposed mission to the Holy Land. 18.6.1875

♦The Northern Echo has the following:- "Remembering MR. DISRAELI's enthusiastic beliefs in Jews, in Palestine, and in the Arab race, we regard with suspicion the mission of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE in the East. He has received a telegram announcing the Jews of Tiberius are undergoing terrible oppression at the hands of Mohommadens, and this telegram is but a sample of the innumerable words which will be poured into his ear." 25.6.1875 (JW)

♦On the eve of his departure for the Holy Land, SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE presented to Brighton New Synagogue a valuable Scroll of the Law. It was executed by Rabbi Zebi Hirsch, who is one of the most renowned scribes in Wilna. The concluding words were written by the baronet. 25.6.1875

♦During the week SIR MOSES MONTFIORE left Paris. 25.6.1875 (JW)

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE - The Israelit, in referring to the journey to the Holy Land undertaken by the baronet, copies a biographical sketch published on the continent, in which there are inaccuracies. The writer states SIR MOSES was a native of London. SIR MOSES was born at Leghorn. But he was very young (we believe a child of 4 years) when he was brought to England. 25.6.1875

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE is making satisfactory progress. On Thursday, 13th inst. he visited the synagogue at Venice. Several hundred persons crowded round the building. Vice-Admiral Sir John Drummond, Commander of the British Mediterranean Squadron, visited SIR MOSES, and offered his services. On Friday last he embarked for Alexandria, on board the P. & O. steamer "Geelong". We learn by telegraph SIR MOSES arrived (yesterday) afternoon at Alexandria. 9.7.1875

♦The Sunday Times of last Sunday contains a letter eulogising the career of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE. 9.7.1875

♦We learn from the Bedfordshire Times "That on Sunday morning, Rev. John Brown referred in terms of high commendation to the Mission being prosecuted by SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE." 9.7.1875

♦A correspondent from Venice writes to the Vessillo Israelitico: We have had the philanthropist, SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, on his way to the Holy Land for two days in our midst. On the day of his arrival he repaired to the ghetto incognito distributing charity with a generous hand. 30.7.1875

♦We have the gratification to inform our readers a telegram has been received announcing the safe arrival (on Monday) of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE at Jerusalem. 30.7.1875

♦On 18th ult. a special service was held before a large congregation at the Jewish Temple at Linz, when Rev. Dr. Frank gave an address on the life and labours of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE. At conclusion of the service a considerable amount was subscribed towards the Testimonial Fund. 6.8.1875 (JW)

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE arrived in Jerusalem on 25th ult. On the Wednesday following his arrival the baronet visited a large synagogue in the Holy City belonging to the Ashkenazim Congregation. We regret to learn the philanthropist was so fatigued by his visit he was compelled to keep his bed the following day. On making his exit from synagogue, it was with difficulty SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE was enabled to make his progress through the streets, upwards of 20,000 people. 13.8.1875 (JW)

♦The Vessillo Israelitico gives an account of the scene at the Departure of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE from Venice for Alexandria. The Ghetto through which SIR MOSES passed was densely crowded. The people stood bareheaded and cheered and shouted blessings upon him, and the choir of the synagogue chanted hymns. Arriving at the bank of the canal, the sight was imposing. As he descended the steps, people hurrahed and cried out "Viva MONTEFIORE". All the papers of the city announced his arrival and departure. The

Vessillo Israelitico produced an extract from the Register at Leghorn, regarding the birth of SIR MOSES. (On October 24, 1784 was born a son to MOSES HAIM & RACHEL MONTEFIORE whom he will call MOSES HAIM). 20.8.1875

♦The Irish Times of August 17 contains an article on the visit of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE to the Holy Land. 20.8.1875 (JW)

♦We are gratified at being able to state SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has left Jerusalem en route for England, and embarked at Jaffa in good health. SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has contributed £10 to the "MICHAEL HENRY" Memorial. 27.8.1875

♦We have the gratification to announce SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has returned to England in good health and spirits. The "Tage", with SIR MOSES on board, arrived at Marseilles on 30th ult., after an excellent passage from Alexandria and Naples. The French authorities only subjected the travellers to the minimim quarrantine of five days. SIR MOSES went to Paris to stay a few days. On Wednesday he crossed from Calais to Dover, and yesterday (Thursday), he arrived safely at Ramsgate, where he is resting. 10.9.1875

♦The name of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has been perpetuated in Amsterdam. Hereen M.J. de Beer & A.J. Maykels have given the name of "Montefiore Park" to a street just laid out on their estate in the Plantage at Amsterdam. 10.9.1875 (JW)

♦During his stay in Jerusalem SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE visited the school and synagogue of the Portuguese Jews. We understand the philanthropist gave large sums of money to the poor in the Holy Land. Habazeleth contains a eulogistic article on the benevolence of SIR MOSES. 17.9.1875 (JW)

♦It having been rumoured SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE would attend morning service at Bevis Marks Synagogue on Sabbath last, a numerous congregation assembled. As SIR MOSES was leaving the building, a vast concourse of persons assembled. SIR MOSES attended Mincha service Great Synagogue on the same day. Some time before 2 o'clock every seat was occupied, while many hundred persons were unable to gain admission. Duke's Place and Bevis Marks were filled with a dense, enthusiastic crowd, composed of Jews and Christians. A way was made for the gentleman, and as he made his appearance, the cheering was vociferous. Hats, umbrellas and handkerchiefs were waved and hurrah succeded hurrah. Every window in the street was adorned with a number of heads. The police had the utmost difficulty in keeping the way. Not less than 4,000 persons could have collected in the streets to receive SIR MOSES, and followed him, to MR. ISAACS' house in Bevis Marks, where he was staying. The enthusiasm of the crowds was not satisfied until SIR MOSES appeared at the windows and addressed a few words to them. 24.9.1875 (JW)

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE'S LATEST JOURNEY - The Washington Chronicle drawing upon its imagination, published an editorial on the subject, from which we copy the following: "It is believed some immense scheme will be agreed upon when SIR MOSES reports the results of his observations. Hence, a way may be paved for the return of the children of Israel to the Promised Land." The subject is worth a serious reflection. 15.10.1875

♦The members of Dalston Synagogue presented on Monday an address to SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, congratulating him on his safe return from Jerusalem. 12.11.1875

♦The marble busts of the Archbishop of Canterbury and Mrs. Tait, commissioned by SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE for St. Peter's Orphan & Convalescent Home, Broadstairs, having been executed by Mr. Weekes, were last week placed in the hall. 14.1.1876

♦The substance of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE's report on Jerusalem was well summarised in the Daily News on Monday. 11.2.1876

♦The usual Purim gifts given by SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE to teachers and children of the Spanish & Portuguese Schools were distributed last week. 17.3.1876

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE is staying at Harrowgate for the benefit of his health. He arrived at the Great Northern Hotel, Leeds on Friday. He drove to the Synagogue, Belgrave Street, where he offered up prayers and left a handsome sum for the poor. During the stay of the Baronet at Leeds, members of Leeds Congregation presented to him an address couched in eulogistic terms. 25.8.1876

♦On Monday week SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE gave a treat to inmates of Ramsgate Workhouse. The baronet distributed in person many of his gifts, consisting of packets of tea, tobacco, snuff, etc. Each inmate was presented with a new sixpence, wardmen and nurses receiving a shilling. We extracted these particulars from the Kent Coast Times - SIR MOSES recently presented to a Jewish gentleman at Boston, Mass. a handsome Scroll of the Law and a silver kiddush cup as a testimonial of esteem. The Sepher was presented to the congregation "Gates of Prayer", which has leased Paine Memorial Hall. 15.9.1876

♦We have recognised among names of coreligionists appointed members of the new Commission of Lieutenancy issued by Her Majesty SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE. 15.12.1876

♦Through the munificence of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, Bart. inmates of Jews' Deaf & Dumb Home were enabled to celebrate the Feast of Hanucah with delight. They were regaled, on Saturday and Sunday, with a sumptuous dinner, and in the evening of the latter day they were entertained by Prof. Proskauer's slight of hand performance. 22.12.1876

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE sent last week to Mrs. B. Lindo for the Spanish & Portuguese School a donation of £40, for advancement of the children's education. He added £3, a gift for MISS PARIENTE, who is head governess of the Villareal and Infant Schools. 12.1.1877

♦On Tuesday the usual Purim gifts of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE were distributed to children of the Portuguese Schools, Heneage Lane, Bevis Marks. They consisted of small sums of money. 2.3.1877

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE is a member of the Stafford House Committee, formed for the purpose of ministering to wounded soldiers of the Turkish armies. 4.5.1877

♦"Coming Events" says "SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has sent out, at his expense, an agent to inquire into the distressed condition of Jews in Danubian towns threatened in the war. It is said it was with difficulty the family of the philanthropist succeeded in persuading him to send a messenger instead of undertaking the task himself." 1.6.1877 (JW)

♦The Monetary Gazette has a portrait of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE with the motto "Faith, Philanthropy and Finance". 13.7.1877

♦JERUSALEM - SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, writes Gates of Zion, gives instructions employment should be given to Jews on the estate "Moses & Judith". Scarcely had this become known, when about 200 persons applied for work. Of course, all of them could not find employment. 24.8.1877

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE attended Nether Court Fancy Bazaar in aid of the Building Fund of the Parochal Schools of St. Lawrence, near Ramsgate. The Daily Telegraph says: "At head of the list of the largest contributions and purchases was SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE." 24.8.1877

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE AND THE CONGREGATION OF LIZZ - SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE having presented the newly constituted community a splendid silver cup and a beautifully written Scroll of the Law, the congregation elected him honorary member. 31.8.1877

♦(Translated from Hebrew) - Jerusalem, February 28, 1878 - SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE remitted the sum of £105 to the Committee of the Talmud Torah School to be employed in engaging teachers to instruct pupils in Arabic. He remitted £70 to be employed in engaging teachers to instruct girls in Hebrew. - A.J. Lunz 15.3.1878

♦REBELLION AT JERUSALEM - A number of fanatics rose in rebellion against the Committee of the Talmud Torah Schools who, at the proposal of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE and at his expense, were anxious to introduce instruction in Arabic, the language of the country, into the school entrusted to their care. 22.3.1878

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has sent back to Jerusalem the sum returned to him, because it could not be used for the study of Arabic in the Talmud Torah School. It is to be divided between the three female teachers, whose livelihood is precarious. 3.5.1878

♦The following telegrams have been exchanged between Baron Bleichroder of Berlin and SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE: Baron Bleichroder "Equality of religon was accepted yesterday for Roumania. Congratulations." SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE: "Most gratified with the happy intelligence contained in your telegram. I beg to congratulate you on the succcess of your unceasing efforts. Praise to the God of Israel for his mercy and goodness to his people." 5.7.1878 (JW)

♦To the Editor of the "Jewish Chronicle" - Sir, my letters from Jerusalem announce by orders from SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, Bart. and at his expense, all land in front of the Judah Touro houses have been prepared for cultivation. Terraces are built along and divided into partitions, whereby all inmates will have an opportunity of cultivating land. The Baronet has caused a large cisturn to be constructed in the centre of the field which will secure to them the blessings of an over abundant supply of water.
He has sent them from London a beautiful verandah to be placed in front of the houses to protect them from the glare of the sun. A new entrance has been made by his orders, a lodge building for a watchman, and a large bell affixed to one of the houses in case of emergency. All this has given employment at a critical period of their lives, on account of famine prices for all necessaries of life, to a large number of workmen. Yours obedient, H. GUEDALLA - London 6.9.1878

♦Article from the World "SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE at Ramsgate". 4.10.1878

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has forwarded a donation of £50 towards relief of sufferers from the yellow fever epidemic in America. 4.10.1878

♦Cptn. Taylor of Boston, U.S.A. has asked SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE for permission to give his newly built vessel the name of "MONTEFIORE". 4.10.1878 (JW)

♦On Monday children of the Spanish & Portuguese Schools, Bevis Marks were addressed by Rev. Dr. Artom, Chief Rabbi, on the 94th birthday of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, Bart., patron of the schools. A telegram was forwarded to SIR MOSES, conveying congratulations. 8.11.1878

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has contributed £100 to the proposed memorial to the late Mrs. Tait, which is to take the form of an endowment of St.

Peter's Orphanage & Convalescent Home. 28.2.1879 (JW)

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE was among donors to the annual Purim "treat" on Sunday last for children of Jews' Infant School. 14.3.1879

♦The dinner given to staff of the Alliance Life & Fire Assurance Co. by the President, SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, Bart. took place at the Grosvenor, New Bond Street on Monday. The proceedings were enlivened with an excellent selection of music. The health of the President was drunk with enthusiasm. 11.7.1879

♦Part II of the Etcher contains a portrait of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, executed by MR. E.L. MONTEFIORE. A brief biography of the baronet is given. 1.8.1879

♦The attendance at Ramsgate Synagogue during the holidays was very good. The absence of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE was regretted by the Congregation. A large party of visitors at Ramsgate and others were invited to his mansion to breakfast on "Rejoicing of the Law", after Morning Service. The absence of the noble figure of the host (he being obliged to keep to his bedroom) occasioned a void which everyone deplored. 17.10.1879

♦Tomorrow SIR MOSES MONTFIORE will celebrate the 95th anniversary of his birthday. According to custom, SIR MOSES forwarded to congregational authorities a sum of money to be distributed among 95 poor persons. 24.10.1879

♦On the first evening of Hanukah inmates of Jews' Deaf & Dumb Home were through the munificence of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, Bart. treated to a good tea, and received useful little presents. 19.12.1879 (JW)

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, Bart. has forwarded £20 to the vicar of St. Peters for relief of the poor. 2.1.1880 (JW)

♦On Tuesday, 6th, 60 cloaks were distributed to children attending the Spanish & Portuguese Infant and Villareal Schools, through the generosity of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, who desired garments should be given to the most necessitous of children, and those who were most regular in their attendance at Synagogue. 9.1.1880

♦Two congregations in Baltimore, U.S.A. have received a beautiful scroll of the Law from SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, each to use it for a year alternately. 9.1.1880 (JW)

♦The poor of St. Luke's Parish had a tea meeting last week when someone seems to have started the idea of a slight token of their esteem for and gratitude to SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE would be opportune. The result is a beautifully bound copy of Scriptures of the Old Testament printed in Hebrew and English in parallel columns was presented to the baronet. The book has been exhibited in shops in the district. 30.1.1880 (JW)

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has given to every inmate of the Touro Institution in Jerusalem a plot of ground to be converted into a kitchen garden. He has shipped a quantity of implements, so the old people may have the pleasure of providing their own vegetables. 6.2.1880 (JW)

♦Yesterday the usual Purim benefactions of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE were distributed to children attending schools connected with he Spanish & Portuguese congregations. 27.2.1880

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE - We are glad to state the baronet, who has been confined to his room by a severe attack of bronchitis, has greatly improved in health. 5.3.1880 (JW)

♦To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, I hear from Jerusalem SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has caused to be planted 339 trees on land situate opposite to houses known under the name of Judah Touro's Almshouses. The exceptional rain and snow of the winter having greatly damaged roofs of the houses, SIR MOSES sent £40 worth of cement for repairs. From Safed I hear the doctor, Mr. Schadua, having informed SIR MOSES the hospital had no instruments necessary for surgical operations, the latter ordered Fergusson & Co. of London to send out a case to heads of the Jewish community, containing instruments of the best quality to the value of £100. Famine prevails at Safed to an alarming extent. A short time ago, SIR MOSES being informed by telegraph, telegraphed an order to distribute £200 to poor Jews, and sent £100 for poor Turks. Yours obediently, H. GUEDALLA, London, May 24, 1880

♦On Wednesday, 13th, being the 96th anniversary of the birthday of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE (according to Hebrew date) £96 was distributed to poor deserving families of the Spanish & Portuguese Congregation by the Board of Guardians, the amount having been forwarded by SIR MOSES. Similar benefactions were given through other charities. 15.10.1880

♦SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE has contributed £3 to the Elzas Relief Fund. 19.11.1880

♦The children of Jews' Deaf & Dumb Home had their annual Hanuca treat on Saturday evening, when they were regaled with a sumptuous tea, followed by an exhibition of the magic lantern. The expense was defrayed by part of a gift from SIR MOSES MONTFIORE, Bart. 10.12.1880 (JW)

♦SOCIETY OF PROMOTERS OF CHARITY - On Monday the Annual General Meeting of members was held at Committee Rooms, Bedford Hotel, Holborn, MR. M. NATHAN in the chair. The Chairman stated he had received a letter from SIR MOSES in which he enclosed a cheque for £4.4s. 17.12.1880

♦Last Thursday evening SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE entertained staff of the Imperial Gas Company at the Albion. 31.12.1880 (JW)

The teachers and scholars of the Spanish & Portuguese National Infant and Villareal Schools and inmates of Beth Holim Hospital received gifts on EDWARD MAYER MONTEFIORE, son of MR. N.M. MONTEFIORE, attaining his 13th year and becoming Bar Mitzvah. 30.4.1875

NATHANIEL MONTEFIORE

A treat was given last week to children of Jews' Infant Schools by the President, MR. N. MONTEFIORE, on his daughter's marriage to MR. LUCAS. A plentiful entertainment was provided, with Mr. Punch, and other amusements. 2.5.1873

♦A treat given by NATHANIEL MONTEFIORE to the Spanish & Portuguese Schools, in honour of his daughter's marriage to MR. LUCAS, was held on Monday at the schools. It consisted of a tea in the girls' room to nearly 200 children. After which a conjuror performed, and gave away toys. At conclusion each child departed with a handful of cakes. After tea impromptu recitations and songs were given by the children. 9.5.1873

♦We understand NATHANIEL MONTEFIORE has purchased the estate in Coldeast (Southampton) situated near the Solent, and almost direct opposite Osborne House. 12.9.1873 (JW)

♦The inmates of the Portuguese "Beth Holim" Hospital, Mile End had a day's excursion to Rye House. It is to be regretted the state of the weather interfered with the enjoyment of the excursionists. The expense of the treat was defrayed by the President, NATHANIEL MONTEFIORE. 16.7.1875 (JW)

♦The children of Westminster Jews' School took their annual excursion this week to Hampton Court. On Saturday every boy and girl who had not missed an attendance during the year was presented with one shilling from NATHANIEL MONTEFIORE. 25.8.1876

♦MR. NATHANIEL MONTEFIORE has forwarded £100 to authorities of the Portuguese Synagogue and Temple Emanuel-El, New York to be divided equally between the congregations, in recognition of the active sympathy displayed by them on the death of his son, LEONARD MONTEFIORE. 12.12.1879 (JW)

♦We are requested to mention the portrait of REV. DR. ARTOM which hangs in the "Gates of Hope" Schoolroom was presented by NATHANIEL MONTEFIORE, President of the Schools. 25.6.1880

♦The inmates of the Portuguese Beth Holim Hospital were, on Wednesday, treated to an excursion to Rye House, the expense being defrayed by NATHANIEL MONTEFIORE, President. 23.7.1880 (JW)

REV. MARKS MORRIS
Summonses obtained by Inspector Williamson, of the Manchester & Salford Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, against the Manchester Shochet (slaughterer of animals) and three butchers, had been fixed for hearing on Tuesday. - The case was adjourned until 11th July. 21.6.1878
♦At Manchester City Police Court on 11th inst. MARKS MORRIS, second reader at the Old Synagogue, Cheetham Hill Road, and living at Clarence Street, Southall Street, Salford, and William Seymour, William Shaw and William Morris, butchers, were summoned for illtreating a bullock at Manchester abbatoirs, Walter Street on 5th May. Mr. W. Cobbett appeared to prosecute on behalf of Manchester & Salford Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Mr. Cobbett said the defendants were three English journeymen butchers and MARKS MORRIS, who held some semi-ecclesiastical office in connection with a Jewish synagogue, and whose duties consisted amongst other things of taking part in the killing of such animals as were killed for the use of certain Jewish persons in the city of Manchester; the charge against them was cruelly beating, ill-treating, abusing and torturing a bullock. R. Williams, inspector of the society, gave evidence as to treatment of the beast, in support of Mr. Cobbett's opening. He stated MR. MORRIS took no active part until he cut the animal's throat.

Mr. Leresch submitted for the defence the case did not come within the meaning of the act. He contended what was suggested as the offence was torturing of the animal, and nothing of that sort had been made out.
Mr. Headlam intimated he thought it would be cruel if it was shown by the process of killing there was needless pain. Mr. Leresche replied pain must be inflicted with a cruel intention, and it had not been made out. Mr. J. Greaves, butcher, Manchester gave evidence he did not know of any better way of killing beasts for the use of the Jewish community than that in question.
GEORGE PAUL, Jewish slaughterman in Whitechapel Market, London stated it was necessary to throw the animal down. Prof. A. Gangee of Owens College gave evidence he had seen beasts slaughtered in the Jewish fashion. Assuming the animal had to be put to death by loss of blood he considered the method practised by Jews was humane.
Mr. Headlam said it seemed to him there was no intention of cruelty; it was a matter of custom; there was contradictorial evidence. The summons was dismissed. 19.7.1878

MAURICE MOSELY
SOUTHAMPTON - At a meeting of the Scientific & Literary Association, held on Friday evening last, a paper was read by MAURICE MOSELY on "The Ocean". 4.12.1874

MAURICE S. MOSELY
Death 5.8.1871 at Richmond Terrace, Clifton, after a few days' illness, deeply regretted by his family and friends, beloved son of ABRAHAM & ELLEN MOSELY, aged 27 years.
♦After three days illness - at first indicating no alarming symptoms - MAURICE S. MOSELY (son of MR. A. MOSELY of Clifton) succumbed to the consequences of bronchitis. Apart from the loss of a firstborn, the parents have to mourn a child of promise and genius. He was eminently distinguished beyond his profession of law, of which he was a Clifford prize holder. An editor of law magazines, and author of useful manuals, he was an art critic, no ordinary musician, and contributed to the Westminster and other high literary serials; in his profession he was winning a recognised position as a consummate lawyer. The Bristol and Clifton journals speak highly of his merits. 18.8.1871

NOTICE TO THE JEWISH PUBLIC - MR. B. MOSES of 13 Tower Street, St. Martin's Lane, having issued a circular addressed to Jewish householders, stating he has engaged the services of a MR. VAN NIEROP as Schochet, and was prepared to sell meat killed by him as kosher; This is to give notice MR. VAN NIEROP is not an authorised Schochet, and License given to MR. MOSES as a Jewish retail butcher has been withdrawn by the Ecclesiastical Authorities. Consequently, MR. MOSES & MR. VAN NIEROP are interdicted from supplying the Jewish community with meat and meat sold by them is, according to Jewish law, prohibited to be eaten. By order, S. ALMOSNINO, Secretary to the Board for Affairs of Shechita. London, 12 October, 1871
♦MR. B. MOSES, Butcher, 13 Tower Street, St. Martin's Lane, WC. returns his sincere thanks to the Jewish public for the liberal support he has received, and begs to inform them he intends selling hind quarters, and has engaged SOLOMON VAN NIEROP to act as Schochet for him, he having received permission from Dr. Hirsch, late Chief Rabbi of Amsterdam. 13.10.1871
♦BOARD FOR THE AFFAIRS OF SHECHITA - To the Jewish Public - Notice is given that BENJAMIN MOSES of 13 Tower Street, Seven Dials is not licensed by the Ecclesiastical Authorities to supply the Jewish community with meat and according to Jewish Law meat sold by him is trifa and prohibited to be eaten by Jews. By order, HY. HARRIS, Secretary June 21, 1872
♦Same notice as above 10.10.1873
♦Several tradesmen from Seven Dials have been summoned at Marlborough Street Police-Court for Sunday trading. One of the defendants, BENJAMIN MOSES, butcher, has been summoned twice previously. He said it was hard on tradesmen like himself to be obliged to shut their shops on Sundays, while other tradesmen were allowed to keep open. Mr. Knor said he would suspend the fine until the defendant had made his appeal to the Commissioners. 26.12.1873 (JW)

A letter from the CHIEF RABBI appeared in the Western Mail, in reference to the case of MR. MOSES of Swansea, who was prevented by magistrates from presenting the case by his refusal to violate Sabbath. 10.3.1871
♦To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, I annex a copy of a letter forwarded to the Home Secretary. Yours obediently, E.F. MOSES 26 College Street, Swansea, February 11, 1871 - To the Rt. Hon. Henry Austin Bruce Esq., MP. - "Honourable Sir - I deem it my duty to call your attention to a case that came before the bench of magistrates sitting in petty sessions here, this day, and to request you will give the same your official investigation. Your humble and obedient servant - (signed) E.F. MOSES
"Swansea Police Court, Saturday, February 11, 1871 - James Wallace was charged with having stolen one pair of stockings and one cap, property of EMANUEL FREDERICK MOSES of Swansea. Before being sworn, I addressed the bench, requesting them, if the case should be proved, to allow me to sign depositions after dusk or adjourn the case till Monday. My reason for making the request is as follows: Being of the Jewish persuasion, I must not write on my Sabbath Day. They refused, unless I would sign the deposition, in case of conviction or commitment, which I declined to do so. The magistrates consulted their clerk, and decided against me, 'discharged' the 'prisoner' in the dock, and gave him up my 'property'." 14.4.1871

♦We have to record the death of a patriarch who passed away in quiet resignation conscious of his approaching end and in full vigour of his mental powers. MR. HENRY MOSES, of Park Terrace W., died at Brighton on Friday evening last. MR. MOSES had been married sixtythree years. Upright and just, he possessed great business capacity, and marvellous industry, and this, combined with unimpeachable integrity, won for him a large fortune, and a distinguished position among merchant princes of this metropolis. His origin was humble, and he had the merit of having created his own position. His sons, and his son-in-law, LOUIS NATHAN, are and have been among the best workers of our community. He is one of those of whom we owe the existence of the synagogue in Portland Street and acquisition of the burial ground in Willesden. MRS. MOSES, an octogenarian, survives her husband. 10.12.1875 (JW)
♦He was interred on Wednesday at Willesden Cemetery, the establishment of which originated mainly from his wishes, carried into effect by his exertions, in conjunction with members of the community, of his eldest son, EDWARD H. BEDDINGTON, whose remains now repose there. 10.12.1875
♦We have been favoured with the following particulars of some of the charitable bequests contained in the Will and codicils of the late HENRY MOSES of Park Square: Jewish Board of Guardians £1,200; Jews' Hospital £1,000; the United Synagogue (for purposes of the Central Synagogue) £300; London Hospital £300; Stepney Jewish schools £300; Metropolitan Free Hospital £200; Jews' Free School £200; Jews' Orphan Asylum £200; the Hand-in-Hand Asylum £200; Jewish Emigration Society £200; the Consumption Hospital, Brompton £100; the Hospital for Diseases of the Chest, Victoria Park £100; the Free Hospital, Gray's Inn Road £100; Jews' College £100; Jews' Infant School, Commercial Street £100; the Aged Needy Society £50; the Jewish Blind Society £50. 14.1.1876
♦NOTICE TO CREDITORS - HENRY MOSES Esq., of 2 Park Square W., Regent's Park, Middlesex (who died at Brighton, Sussex 3rd December, 1875 and whose Will was proved by MAURICE, HYAM LEOPOLD, SAMUEL HENRY & DAVID LIONEL BEDDINGTON, Executors). - 16 May, 1876 - EMANUEL & SIMMONDS, 36 Finsbury Circus, in the City of London, Solicitors for Executors

JACOB HENRY or HENRY MOSES
Death 10.8.1875 at Deane House, Ryde, Isle of Wight, of 35 Hyde Park Square, aged 70.
♦We regret to announce the death of MR. J. HENRY MOSES, which took place on Tuesday at Ryde, Isle of Wight. MR. J. HENRY MOSES was eldest son of ABRAHAM LYON MOSES. He married MARIANNE, youngest daughter of the late ASSUR KEYSER. He had six children, all of whom survive him, three sons and three daughters. He was 70 years of age three weeks before his death. He had been an invalid or in delicate health for the last thirty years of his life, which incapacitated him from taking part in public communal life in later years. He had been a munificent contributor to most of the public movements which the community had set on foot, but his chief charities were dispensed quietly. He had a number of pensioners in his bounty, which in many cases was advanced in substantial sums. Two cases are known in which he lent a thousand pounds to individuals to start them in life. He was a trustee of the Beth Hamedrash (to which institution his father had left a large bequest), and a member of the Council of the United Synagogue, but had for many years been prevented from taking any part in congregational management. On the death of his wife in 1859 he built, in her memory, almshouses for poor widows, which are situated in Lincoln Street, Mile End, and which he has endowed. He was a strong observer of all traditional ceremonies, yet of a tolerant disposition. A man of handsome presence and genial countenance, he died from a lingering malady, and was interred yesterday (Thursday) next to his late wife at West Ham Cemetery.
He sent a fortnight ago £100 to his son-in-law, LIONEL L. COHEN, in aid of the fund to the memory of MICHAEL HENRY, Editor of this journal. 13.8.1875
♦A Scroll of the Law has been presented to Brighton Synagogue in memory of MR. J. HENRY MOSES. 10.9.1875
♦The will of MR. J.H. MOSES, of 35 Hyde Park Square, who died on 10th ult. at Deane House, Isle of Wight, was proved by ASSUR HENRY & ELEAZER HENRY MOSES, sons of the deceased, and HENRY BEHREND & LIONEL LOUIS COHEN, sons-in-law of the deceased, the executors, the personal estate being sworn under £140,000. The testator bequeaths upon trust for three daughters, MRS. BEHREND, MRS. COHEN & MRS. DE PASS £15,000 each; upon trust for his son ELEAZER £10,000; in the event of his marrying any person not professing the Jewish religion he is to lose his legacy; upon trust for his sons ASSUR & MOSES £25,000; and subject to a few other legacies, including gifts to two of his granddaughters, he leaves the residue of his property to his two sons, ASSUR & MOSES. 1.10.1875 (JW)
♦NOTICE TO CREDITORS - HENRY MOSES Esq., (otherwise known as JACOB HENRY MOSES), late of 35 Hyde Park Square, Middlesex, Esquire (who died at Deane House, Ryde, Isle of Wight on or about 10th August, 1875 and whose will was proved by ASSUR HENRY MOSES, ELEAZER HENRY MOSES, HENRY BEHREND & LIONEL LOUIS COHEN, executors). - 4 October, 1875 - EMANUEL & SIMMONDS, 36 Finsbury Circus, City of London, Solicitors for Executors
♦An apportionment has been made from the estate of the late JACOB HENRY MOSES of £1,250, the interest to be annually applied in blankets, coals and money to the poor. The benefaction has been accepted by the Council of the United Synagogue. 5.11.1875

JULIA MOSES
MRS. JULIA MOSES thanks for condolences for her lamented brother. May his soul rest in peace. South Norwood, February 26, 1873
♦At Croydon Petty Sessions on Saturday, MRS. MOSES, Matron of the Jewish Convalescent Home at Norwood, was charged with stealing a banknote for 1,000 francs, the property of MRS. CHARLOTTE RAMSDEN, an inmate of the Convalescent Home, in November. The Rev. A.L. Green and George S. Joseph, Hon. Secretaries of the institution, attended, and spoke of the high character which MRS. MOSES held. The magistrate dismissed the charge, and expressed the belief the complainant was labouring under some delusion. 5.1.1877
♦On Thursday and Friday week an extraordinary trial took place at Surrey Sesssions, when MRS. MOSES, matron of the Jewish Convalescent Home, Norwood, and her daughter, MISS ROSE ESSINGER, were charged, the former with sealing a thousand franc note from MRS. RAMSDEN (who had been a patient of the Insitution last autumn), and the latter with receiving same. After hearing evidence, the jury returned a verdict of acquittal. The Countess D'Avigdor, Miss Goldsmid, Mr. F.D. Mocatta, Rev. A.L. Green & George S. Joseph bore evidence to the integrity and character of MRS. MOSES and her daughter. - On Monday MRS. CHARLOTTE RAMSDEN, 44, of 3 Foxbury Road, Brockley, MOSES AARON, 29, glazier, 3 Goulstone Street, Whitechapel, CAROLINE FINBERG, 48, Wardrobe dealer, 127 Leman Street, ELIZABETH LEVI, 29, 118 Leman Street, RACHEL FLATOW, 36, 3 Goulston Street, and MARIA VANDEVOOR, 62, vegetable merchant, 67 Tooley Street were charged at Southwark Police Court with conspiracy and perjury. After hearing evidence of MRS. MOSES and MISS ESSINGER and others, the magistrate remanded the prisoners and refused bail. 16.3.1877
♦Death 31.5.1879 after a painful illness, of the Convalescent Home, South Norwood.
♦We have to announce the death of a valued public servant, MRS. MOSES, esteemed mistress of the Jewish Convalescent Home, who died on Saturday. MRS. MOSES held the post of matron from the foundation of that institution in 1869, and she fulfilled her duties in a manner which left nothing to be desired, and to which the success of the charity must be in great measure attributed. She devoted herself entirely to patients who were entrusted to her charge. The deceased was able to attend to her duties up to the last. The funeral was solemnised on Monday. The procession started from the Home to Willesden, and was met at the cemetery by Mr. A.L. Green & Mr. G.S. Joseph, Hon. Secretaries of the charity. Among mourners were REV. B. BERLINER, and REV. J. BENJAMIN of Bristol, relatives of the deceased. 6.6.1879
♦The annual general meeting of Governors and Subscribers of the Jewish Convalescent Home was held on Sunday at the Committee Room of Bayswater Synagogue. A tribute of respect to the memory of the matron, MRS. MOSES, is paid in the report: "Devoted to duties of her office, her firm yet gentle demeanour rendered her universally beloved by those who were entrusted to her care." 27.6.1879
♦The Tombstone of MRS. JULIA MOSES, late Matron of the Convalescent Home, will be set at Willesden Cemetery 3 August, 1879.

SAMUEL MOSES
On Sunday presentation of a portrait was made to SAMUEL MOSES, for forty years treasurer of Jews' Orphan Asylum, previous to its amalgamation with Jews' Hospital, at his residence in Pembridge Square. The portrait, which is painted by MR. B.S. MARKS, was presented on behalf of the committee by MR. B.L. COHEN, in the presence of nearly the entire Executive of the charity, and all members of MR. MOSES's family. MR. COHEN referred to the esteem in which MR. MOSES was held by the committee, remarking the favourable position of the Asylum was mainly due to his services as treasurer. By his urbanity he had won the affection of officers and inmates. 1.6.1877 (JW)

SAMUEL JACOB MOSES
Death 2.10.1873 at 19 York Terrace, Regent's Park, late of Bon Vista, Hobart Town, Tasmania. Aged 66.
♦INAUGURATION OF WILLESDEN CEMETERY - The ground would not have been opened so soon, had it not been decided MR. S. MOSES, of York Terrace, should be buried in the new cemetery. He requested, on his death-bed, he should be laid in the new ground, and the holyday approaching the dedication was hurriedly decided on. Notwithstanding shortness of notice, a large number of persons, probably about 200, were present. The Cohanim, who had been summoned in order to dig the first grave according to custom, found a portion of labour prepared, but they set to work and completed digging of the grave before arrival of the coffin. The REV. CHIEF RABBI assisted, he being a "Cohen". Among visitors present, SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE was remarked. 10.10.1873
♦THE LATE SAMUEL MOSES - (From a correspondent) - On Sunday a good and pious Israelite was laid in the fields of Willesden. When first he visited the shores of Tasmania Jews were rapidly sinking into the past all rites and ceremonies which have made Israel the one and peculiar people.
Prior to his departure from England he qualified himself for performance of the Abrahamic rite, and many a time, during his residence in the colony, he travelled great distances to render the service to his coreligionists.
In 1845 the congregation of Hobart Town presented him with a testimonial of his services. On quitting the colony for Europe in 1858, the congregation by a similar act evinced their appreciation for his zeal during the many years he acted as their President. In later years as an active magistrate and justice of peace in Tasmania, he successfully brought his influence to bear in order that those unfortunates of his brethren who languished under the severe penal regime of the colony might be permitted to attend divine service in the synagogue on solomn occasions, to observe as far as possible Jewish holidays. To the sick, weary and dying, he was a friend, and at many a humble deathbed has he administered divine consolation. Unobtrusive, kindly and generous, he loved to work good deeds alone and in silence that gives not pain to the recipient.

On the morning of his death he sang aloud those sacred hymns and prayers he had often rehearsed by the deathbed of others, and blessing his children, resigned himself into the hands of the Almighty; thus calmly and peacefully surrounded by his sons, while the minister (Rev. Mr. Green) chanted prayers for the dying, he passed away. 10.10.1873
♦On Tuesday a meeting of the General Council of the United Synagogue was held at the Central Synagogue chambers.
Dr. Asher, Secretary, read a statement with regard to the opening of Willesden Cemetery:- "The honorary officers beg to report late on the evening of Thursday, 2nd October, a request was made to permit internment in Willesden Cemetery of SAMUEL MOSES, of York Terrace, a member of the congregation at the West End, whose dying request was he might be interned at Willesden. Having received statements from the Architect and Chairman of the Building Committee the ground was in a fit state for internments to be permitted, the honorary officers did not feel justified in disregarding the request of the deceased gentleman and his family and internment took place on Sunday morning (October 5)."
MR. S.A. HART proposed a vote of censure on the President and Vice-Presidents for having sanctioned the opening of the cemetery.
There was no seconder to the resolution which fell to the ground.
MR. DAVID BENJAMIN proposed: this meeting consider such explanations satisfactory. Few men had done more good for Jews in the colonies than the deceased. When the number of Jews there was small, he had taken great trouble on their behalf. As Mohel he had placed his services at disposal of the community in Australia regardless of time and expense. SIR BENJAMIN PHILLIPS said he had pleasure in seconding the resolution. It was done on humane grounds, and out of respect to the memory of a gentleman whose family had been large benefactors to the community.
After discussion the resolution was carried by 33 to 22. 7.11.1873

Death 7.9.1872 at 12 Royal Crescent, Ramsgate, of 148 Harley Street, late of Montreal, Canada, aged 58 years. Deeply regretted by his sorrowing wife and children.
♦THE LATE DAVID MOSS - On Saturday night, September 7, members and Ministers of the German & Polish Synagogue, Constant Street waited upon H.D. MOSS Esq., St. Catherine Street, to pray for the soul of his departed father. After performance of this ancient rite, Rev. Mr. Myers addressed the mourners, and read, on behalf of his congregation, the following series of resolutions, which were engrossed on vellum:
That having learned with regret of the demsie of DAVID MOSS, formerly of this city, officers and members express their profound sympathy with his widow and children and condole with them.
That in consequence of the great services and munificent gifts received by this congregation from the departed, who has been Chief Founder and who has left a lasting monument in the edifice he assisted in erecting in this city to the Honour and Glory of the God of Israel, this congregation have prayers read for the repose of the soul of the departed whenever such may be done at public worship.
That we now pray the Father of widows and orphans may protect the widow and children of our benefactor and give them strength and fortitude to bear their affliction.
That a copy of these Resolutions, engrossed on vellum, be sent to MRS. DAVID MOSS, and the same be published in two Jewish journals in New York, and the "Jewish Chronicle" in London, England, and "Montreal Herald".
That a letter of condolence be sent to EDWARD MOSS of London, England, brother of the departed.

ISAAC MOSS
I, ISAAC MOSS, of Fulwood Road, Sheffield do apologise to ALFRED K. MYER, of Sheffield, and express my regret for having made an assertion to the effect he had appropriated to his own use or not accounted for money which came to his hands as secretary to the committee for building the synagogue at Sheffield, about August, 1872, which assertion I find and acknowledge to be untrue; I consent to publication of this apology in the "Jewish Chronicle" & "Jewish World". - 20 July, 1874 - ISAAC MOSS (signed). Witnesses: W.E. Tattershall, Solicitor, Sheffield; M. VALENTINE.
I certify the above to be a correct copy of the apology which I this day saw signed by ISAAC MOSS and which lies before me. - W.E. Tattershall

ISAAC MOSS
Death 15.3.1876 at Tapton Mount, Sheffield, aged 73. Deeply lamented by his sorrowing wife and relatives. His end was peace.
♦The death is announced of ISAAC MOSS, a wellknown and respected member of Sheffield Jewish community. 24.3.1876 (JW)

♦We cull from the Sheffield Daily Telegraph the following obituary notice of ISAAC MOSS, who died at Sheffield on 15th inst.: "This well-known citizen, one of the chief leaders, died after an illness of five days at 9 o'clock on Wednesday night. MR. MOSS, who was a native of the town of Arodna, in Russian Poland, came, a poor man, to Sheffield about fiftytwo years ago, and commenced business as a jeweller in High Street. Here he amassed, by industry and upright dealing, an independency, and about fourteen years ago retired from business. He was the principle support of the old synagogue, and was really founder of the new synagogue, for he collected for its foundation a large sum among his Christian friends, and continued to be chief subscriber to its funds. He presented the synagogue at the time of its opening a holy scroll with silver ornaments valued at £100. He was one of the leading subscribers to Sheffield Infirmary and other charitable institutions. MR. MOSS's wife, who had pre-deceased him, was buried in the Jewish cemetery in Birmingham, and yesterday morning his remains were conveyed to that town by rail, and interred in the cemetery there, in the presence of a large number of persons." 24.3.1876

♦To the Editor of the "Jewish Chronicle" - Sir, In your last issue a tribute is paid to the worth of the late ISAAC MOSS of Sheffield. Happily for him the declining years of his life were cheered by a partner so identified with all of his good deeds, but so free from self-seeking and independent action that herein the best excuse may be pleaded for an omission so unjust.
The notice should have run "MR. MOSS's first wife predeceased him", whereto might have been appended words to the effect he had left a worthy widow. Yours obediently, A Lover of Justice and truth. 31.3.1876

♦We learn from a Sheffield contemporary ISAAC MOSS, who recently died at Sheffield, has bequeathed legacies free of duty to the following charitable institutions: the Hebrew School at Birmingham £200; to each of the following £100: Hebrew School at Manchester; Jews' Hospital, Lower Norwood; Jews' College, Finsbury Square; Sheffield General Infirmary; Sheffield Public Hospital; Sheffield Womens' Hospital; Sheffield Cherry Tree Orphanage; £50 to Sheffield Boys' Charity School and Sheffield Girls' Charity School. 31.3.1876

♦The tombstone in memory of ISAAC MOSS, Tapton Mount, Sheffield will be set 4.3.1877 at the Cemetery, Birmingham.

Death Sunday, 21.4.1872 at his residence 2 Marshall Place, Halliwell Lane, Cheetham, Manchester, aged 64 years. Deeply regretted by his family and a large circle of friends. May his soul rest in peace. - Amen. 26.4.1872

♦Death 21.4.1872 at his private residence at Cheetham, after a long and painful illness, of Market Street, Manchester, aged 63 years. Deeply mourned by his bereaved widow, children and relatives and sincerely regretted by all who knew him. May his soul rest in peace. 3.5.1872

♦The Jewish community of Manchester have suffered a severe loss in the death of MR. J.S. MOSS, whose connection with the synagogue dates back nearly forty years. He was senior member.

His father was founder of the old congregation, also Shamas and Mohel both in Manchester and Liverpool. The deceased was a staunch and active member of his congregation and a liberal supporter of all charities. For many years successively he was elected President. He was president and founder of the Jewish Sick and Burial Society. He was a friend to the poor, though many who found relief did not know it came from his hand. The regret for his loss and esteem he was held in were shown by the immense crowd that attended his internment. At one point of the route 150 poor women met the hearse, as mourners. 10.5.1872

He has been forty years in business in Liverpool. 9.5.1873
♦Speaking of SAUL MOSS, a candidate for the Liverpool vestry, the Liverpool Mercury states:- "There are few members of Vestry who have excelled MR. MOSS in their attention to public duties." 24.4.1874 (JW)
♦MR. SAUL MOSS has been elected a member of the Liverpool Vestry. The candidature of MR. MOSS gave rise to some excitement in town in consequence of attacks made on that gentleman. 24.7.1874
♦MR. SAUL MOSS has been re-elected a member of the Select Vestry of Liverpool. 9.4.1875
♦A Liverpool paper mentions "MR. SAUL MOSS has presented a handsome musical box for the use of imbecile paupers lodged at Dinglemount Institution in connection with the parish of Liverpool." 19.1.1877
♦MR. SAUL MOSS has been re-elected a member of the Select Vestry of the Parish of Liverpool to serve for three years. 13.4.1877
♦MR. SAUL MOSS, for several years member of the Select Vestry in Liverpool, has resigned his office in consequence of ill-health. The Liverpool daily papers speak in eulogistic terms of that gentleman. MR. SAUL MOSS is residing in London. 25.4.1879 (JW)
♦A complimentary dinner was last Thursday given by a few Liberals in connection with St. Peter's Ward, Liverpool, at the Reform Club to SAUL MOSS, in recognition of useful services rendered by him to the party while in Liverpool. The Chairman proposed the toast of the evening, "MR. SAUL MOSS", saying he spared no time or expense to serve the Liberal party, and he was ever ready to encourage them when they were depressed by defeat. Their friend had been a member of the Select Vestry, and had discharged his duties with credit to himself and with advantage to the town. MR. MOSS stood for economy, without being parsimonious, striving to do that which was just to all. 20.8.1880 (JW)

Death at Falmouth, Jamaica 18.11.1877 after a painful illness, aged 74 years. The deceased was engaged as a merchant in a large scale of business in Kingston, where he was highly esteemed and universally respected. He left Jamaica several years ago to reside in England and returned to the island on a visit only a few months since. He has left a widow and sons and daughters in England and relatives here to mourn the loss of one warm in his affection, and who in every relation in life was exemplary in the discharge of its duties. - (Copied from Public Advertiser, Falmouth, Jamaica.) 21.12.1877

REV. ISAAC HENRY MYERS
The REV. ISAAC H. MYERS, of Ramsgate, attended as a member of the deputation of the Education Registration Association which waited on Rt. Hon. Mr. Forster on Tuesday in reference to incorporating the scholastic profession. 17.2.1871
♦Death 22.6.1877 at Temple Cottage, Ramsgate in his 66th year.
♦We regret to announce the death, which took place on 22nd inst., of REV. ISAAC H. MYERS, Minister of Ramsgate Synagogue since its foundation in 1833. Previous to this he acted as assistant teacher to MR. NEUMEGEN's scholastic establishment, then at Highgate. It may be mentioned MR. MYERS was the oldest minister in office in this country, he having acted as SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE's chaplain for more than fortyfour years. The funeral took place last Monday at the Portuguese Cemetery, Mile End, the body having been conveyed to Holborn Viaduct Station of London, Chatham & Dover Railway. Previous to the departure of the corpse for London, a service was performed at Ramsgate Synagogue, SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE being present. The baronet accompanied the cortege to the railway station. A large concourse of persons - including the metropolitan Jewish clergy - assembled at the cemetery. 29.6.1877 (JW)

REV. M.H. MYERS
Among the list of those admitted to membership of the British Horological Institute we notice the name of REV. M.H. MYERS. 4.2.1876
♦On Sunday members of the Committee of Dalston Synagogue waited upon REV. M.H. MYERS (who has been for some time gratuitously conducting services at the synagogue) to present to him a testimonial consisting of a handsome and valuable gold watch and chain in recognition of services he has rendered. MR. ELIAS COHEN, President, made the presentation, and referred in eulogistic terms to MR. MYERS' abilities and zeal. MR. MYERS expressed his acknowledgments and invited those present to co-operate in efforts made to found a Jewish school in the North of London. 17.3.1876
♦Classes for instruction in Hebrew and principles of the Jewish religion have been formed in connection with Englefield College, Englefield Road, Islington. They will be conducted by REV. M.H. MYERS of Dalston Synagogue. 9.1.1880 (JW)

MRS. MARK NATHAN
TO THE BENEVOLENT - The exceptional misfortunes experienced by the widow of MARK NATHAN, of Sandy's Row, Spitalfields deserves pity and commiserations, having on the same day buried her husband and two children. The husband, having been known as an industrious man during his lifetime, was confined on a sick bed for a long period; the widow is left in destitute circumstances, and her pitiable state of mind as well as pecuniary, has induced some gentlemen to raise a sum of money to aid her in continuing the business of her husband, to enable her to support her young family for which she has to provide. Donations towards this object will be thankfully received. 12.5.1871 (JR)

MR. EMANUEL NELSON, honorary conductor of Liverpool Jewish Choral Society, was on Thursday presented with a handsomely chased and engraved silver salver, subscribed for by a few friends in recognition of MR. NELSON's services and in honour of his marriage. 21.8.1874
♦At a special general meeting of members of Liverpool New Congregation, Hope Place, held on Sunday, EMANUEL NELSON was presented with a splendid silver tankard - bearing a suitable inscription - on his marriage, and in appreciation of his services as honorary conductor of the synagogue choir. 28.8.1874
♦A marriage ceremony took place at Liverpool on Wednesday, 26th ult., accompanied by circumstances of public interests to such extent an important journal of that town, a Conservative newspaper, devotes a column to a description of the affair. The bridegroom was EMANUEL NELSON, a gentleman of wellknown musical circles, and whose name has often appeared in our journal as originator and honorary conductor of Liverpool Jewish Choral Society and of the choir of Liverpool New Hebrew Congregation. The ceremony was performed in Hope Place Synagogue, which was occupied by a large and fashionable asemblage, Christian as well as Jewish. There were special musical performances, in which the choir took part. Dr. Stern delivered a simple and impressive address. In the course of the day the bride and bridegroom received congratulatory telegrams from the Marquis de Caux and his wife, Sgnr. Arditi and most of the Royal Italian Opera and Her Majesty's. 4.9.1874

LEOPOLD NEUMEGEN
Death 8.4.1875 at Gloucester House, Kew in the 89th year of his age.
♦LEOPOLD NEUMEGEN has been for half a century a household word. There is scarcely a family of any position whose members have not received a portion of their education at the school which he conducted many years successfully. He reckoned among his pupils men who have achieved distinction.
MR. NEUMEGEN was born in Posen in 1787. He first taught in Gottingen, in Sweden; he removed about 1816 to this country, where he became Principal of a boarding house at Highgate. His pupils were numerous. After many years of labour he retired from the profession, but having made some unfortunate investments he found it necessary to re-open a school. He established his school at Gloucester House, Kew. But in this second act on his life's drama, he had the good fortune of the sympathy and co-operation of a wife - an accomplished and amiable lady, justly beloved. 16.4.1875
♦The funeral took place at Brompton Cemetery on Sunday, and was attended by about 70 gentlemen, the majority of whom were former pupils of the deceased. 16.4.1875 (JW)

♦SIR B.S. PHILLIPS, accompanied by MR. SEBAG & MR. R.L. HENRY, visited MRS. NEUMEGER at her residence at Kew, on Sunday, for the purpose of presenting to her a handsome silver inkstand, and to her daughter a bracelet, in conjunction with 300 Madras Railway Stock (value £35) which had been purchased by some of the former pupils and a few friends of the late MR. NEUMEGER, as a testimony of their regard and esteem. SIR BENJAMIN alluded to the long and untiring labours of MR. NEUMEGER, which he could date back for sixty years, when he was one of the pupils. MRS. NEUMEGER expressed her warm acknowledgements to contributors of the fund. 31.3.1876

JOHN NUNEZ
To the editor of the "Jewish Chronicle" - Sir, It is much to be regretted you have allowed your columns to become the vehicle for launching ridicule and abuse against the Spanish & Portuguese Congregation. The case of the boy NUNEZ was brought under the notice of the Wardens by the Visitation Committee of the United Synagogue. The child is the illegitimate offspring of a Jewish mother and non-Jewish father. The matter was placed before the Board of Elders, and it was unanimously decided congregational funds could not fairly be appropriated for the purpose of adopting unfortunate children of this class. It was considered by countenancing such cases we should be assisting to perpetuate the evil, if it was understood Jewish congregations were ready to assume not only pecuniary but moral charge of bastard children when abandoned by their parents. I would call attention to the fact had the mother been married to a non-member of our Congregation her children would have no claim upon us. Yours obediently, M. CASTELLO, Hazeldean, Sydenham Hill, January 8, 1878
♦JOHN NUNEZ - To the editor of the "Jewish Chronicle" - Sir, If any doubt existed as to the duty and obligation of the Portuguese Congregation on religious grounds to place this lad with Jews, they ought to have asked Dr. Artom and adopted his decision, but this is a case so clear no legal subtleties could have saved their pockets. The mother is dead. In spite of all that has been written the child will be rescued from Forest & District School, and I tender my thanks to REV. MR. SAMUEL for bringing the case under public notice, and to the Jewish Chronicle for having compelled a result in accordance with my views. Yours obediently, H. GUEDALLA, 13 January, 1878
♦We are informed owing to the successful interference of REV. DR. ARTOM, Ecclesiastical Chief of the Spanish & Portuguese Congregation, the orphan boy JOHN NUNEZ will be removed from Forest Gate Parochial School and placed with one of his relatives, who, being in humble circumstances, will be assisted from private sources. We understand endeavour will be made to secure for the boy's maintenance £25 per annum, to be contributed by private individuals. 8.2.1878
♦THE BOY JOHN NUNEZ - This boy has been removed from Forest Gate Parochial Schools, and an endeavour is being made by Rev. Dr. Artom, Ecclesiastical Chief of the Spanish & Portuguese Congregation, to raise by private subscription the amount required for the boy's maintenance. - 15.2.1878

MR. OPPENHEIM
It is stated, says the Morning Advertiser, MR. OPPENHEIM, the accountant, whose name will be recollected in connection with the winding up of Messrs. Overend, Gurney's estate, is donor of the equestrian statue of the Prince Consort on Holborn Viaduct, unveiled by the Prince of Wales, on Friday last. It is stated shareholders in Overend, Gurney & Co. were so pleased with the manner in which MR. OPPENHEIM had performed his duties, as a mark of their appreciation they desired to present him with £3,000, which he refused to accept; but agreed to give it to the Corporation of the City of London, for the purpose of erecting a statue of the late Prince Consort. 16.1.1874

HERMANN OPPENHEIM
The Israelite gives an account of the death at Paris of HERMANN OPENHEIM, chief of ALBERTI, OPPENHEIM & CO., of Alexandria. The deceased died in the prime of life. Born in a small place, near Frankfort, of parents who were by no means in affluent circumstances, he knew, despite many vicissitudes, how to raise himself to a financial magnate. It was in London where he served his apprenticeship to haute finance, and where he became agent to an Egyptian advance and loan company. It was he who brought out the loan known as the Khedive's and introduced Egyptian bonds into Germany. He had houses in Alexandria, London, Paris and Constantinople. In prosperity he did not forget the poor, and considerable sums were annually sent by him to his country. He is supposed to have left behind him an immense fortune. 4.8.1876

SIMEON OPPENHEIM
We can scarcely pass by the golden wedding of SIMEON OPPENHEIM. The regard entertained for MR. OPPENHEIM, formerly secretary of the Great Synagogue, justifies the community in uniting their congratulations with those of his friends. 28.6.1872
♦Death 22.10.1874 at 16 Westbourne Square in the 77th year of his age.
♦On Monday last earthly honours were paid to SIMEON OPPENHEIM. MR. OPPENHEIM was born in February, 1798. From an unpublished letter between ALEXANDER and VAN OVEN in 1803, it was stated there were not ten Jews in London worth severally £10,000. To be elected warden was to be translated to the Jewish peerage. Among the "upper 10", SAMUEL JOSEPH, maternal grandfather of MR. OPPENHEIM, was a prominent peer. He assisted in founding Jews' Hospital and Jews' Free School. He was first President of the latter, and he was even more associated with the Talmud Torah. SAMUEL JOSEPH, his son, JOSEPH JOSEPH, his grandson, a son of JOSEPH JOSEPH, were wardens, and his grandson, SIMEON OPPENHEIM, his daughter's son, held at different times offices of Relieving Officer and Secretary. SAMUEL JOSEPH was deeply attached to the Great Synagogue. SIMEON OPPENHEIM as a child participated in all events which added to the glory of the synagogue. He was one of the boys who strewed flowers before the Royal Dukes when they visited the Great Synagogue in 1808.
SIMEON OPPENHEIM married in June, 1822 MARIA, daughter of MR. S. JOSEPH, and niece of LEWIS COHEN of the West Indies. MR. OPPENHEIM was elected secretary of the synagogue, and for twentyfour years he held that post, and retained the bearing of a gentleman. Up to his retiring from office he enjoyed the friendship and respect of every officer of the congregation. On his retirement he not only retained his full salary, but a vote of 100 guineas was passed in the vestry to mark the respect of the synagogue. A few months ago MR. OPPENHEIM lost a beloved daughter, and the shock, added to an insidious disease, told with rapidity on his system; though his end was one of peace and calm resignation, it must have touched his family from its suddenness.
In 1815 MR. OPPENHEIM's father's house in Mansell Street was burnt down. In this fire he lost a brother, and among the few things he saved and most valued were his Bar Mitzvah Tephillin, scorched and shrivelled. This he preserved for 62 years, and as a last request, he ordered they should be buried with him, which request was complied with. MR. OPPENHEIM leaves a sorrowing widow, four sons and four daughters. MR. MORRIS OPPENHEIM, the oldest son, has from his boyhood, associated with our institutions; MR. DE CASTRO, a son-in-law, has taken from his teens an active part in affairs of his congregation, the Portuguese body, and institutions in connection therewith. 30.10.1874
♦The funeral was attended by all ministers of metropolitan synagogues. The Council of the United Synagogue showed the respect in which it held the gentleman by issuing invitations to its members, and providing them all with mourning coaches. He was buried close by his daughter. 30.10.1874 (JW)

BARNET ORCHOVICH
On Monday John Humphreys held an inquest at the London Hospital on the body of BARNET ORCHOVICH, aged 8 years, who, it was alleged, died from effects of injuries inflicted upon him by a schoolmaster named ISAAC MARCHOVICH, a Russian. The evidence, which was interpreted by MICHAEL NATHAN, went to show deceased was in the habit of attending a school kept by MARCHOVICH, in order to learn Hebrew. On Monday 6th instant, he returned home and complained of having been kicked downstairs by the schoolmaster. The great toe on his right foot was found to be injured, and on 9th inst. he was removed to hospital, where he died a few hours after admission. A post-mortem examination was made by Dr. Holts, who found death was due to blood poisoning, arising from injury to the foot. A younger brother of the deceased deposed the latter had been ill-treated as described. MARCHOVICH swore it was untrue he assaulted deceased, and two of his pupils, named COHEN, gave testimony to the effect on the day deceased complained of being kicked downstairs they were at the school, and saw nothing of the kind take place. The jury returned a verdict ORCHOVICH died from blood poisoning consequent upon an injury to his foot, but there was not sufficient evidence to show how the injury was caused. 17.12.1880

REV. A. ORNSTIEN
The REV. A. ORNSTIEN was a passenger on board Inman steamer, City of Brussels, bound for New York, which ran ashore, during a thick fog, off the Irish coast, on 14th inst. There were nearly 800 passengers on board, none of whom were injured, and the steamer was enabled to proceed on her voyage apparently uninjured. 21.5.1875 (JW)

REV. A.F. ORNSTIEN
The Australian Israelite reports REV. A.F. ORNSTIEN and his family left Melbourne for London on 9th December by the "Rodney". A large number of ladies and gentlemen assembled to witness the departure of the reverend gentleman, and accompanied him down to the bay to the spot where the vessel was anchored. In addition to £260 voted to MR. ORNSTIEN by the congregation, the committee granted him £50, and presented him with his life policy; the testimonial to MR. ORNSTIEN, reported as amounting to £206, has been supplemented by a sum of between £60 and £70. Before leaving the reverend gentleman received many tokens of friendship. 26.2.1875 (JW)
♦After a voyage extended over four months, REV. A.F. ORNSTIEN, formerly first minister of Melbourne Hebrew Congregation, arrived in London with his family on Wednesday. 16.4.1875 (JW)

JOHN PEARTREE
Death 24.2.1879 at 31 Bevis Marks, aged 59.
♦On Wednesday Mr. Payne, City Coroner, held an inquest at 31 Bevis Marks, St. Mary Axe on the body of JOHN PEARTREEE, who died on Monday from effects of an acccident. The evidence of the son of the deceased went to show on November 6th his father was superintending workmen who were removing a machine from the basement to the 1st floor. The work having been completed, deceased was proceeding to his office when he inadvertently walked into the hole of the trap-door in the floor of the warehouse, and fell on the stones 10' below. He was much hurt, specially about the head, but slightly recovered. During last week he had a relapse. Dr. F. Gordon Brown having deposed to death having been caused by apoplexy, from the injury to the head by the fall, the jury returned a verdict of accidental death. The deceased was interred at West Ham Cemetery yesterday. 28.2.1879 (JW)
♦MR. PEARTREE was warden of the New Synagogue for some years, and a member of the Board of Guardians for ten years, as well as a member of the United Synagogue since amalgamation. He was for upwards of thirty years treasurer of the lodge of "Tranquility", and was much respected. 28.2.1879

Mr. Payne, City Coroner, held an inquest on Saturday at the Coroner's Court, Golden Lane, on the body of MRS. ROSE PEREIRA, a Spanish Jewess, aged about 79, who lived at 21 Catherine Wheel Alley, Bishopsgate. It appeared the deceased had lived with a MRS. LEVY, both of whom were in receipt of about 10 shillings a week from various sources. The room in which the deceased died was in a filthy condition. The rubbish in the room had filled two dust carts. The deceased received 4 shillings per week from the

City Union and 2 shillings and 6 pence per week from the Spanish & Portuguese Congregation, and was in constant receipt of meat, grocery, clothes, etc. DR. D.H. DYTE said he called to see deceased on Wednesday. She was in a dying state, and lay on the floor with her head under the fire-grate. A woman named LEVY, her companion, was in a similar condition, and she was removed to the infirmary. The deceased was in a dirty condition. A heap of rubbish in the room consisted of rotten garbage, pieces of fish and meat bones in a putrid states, decomposed vegetable refuse, and mouldy pieces of bread. There was a quantity of dirty rags. All these had been collected by the the woman LEVY. The body of the deceased was in a loathsome condition. Death resulted from want and neglect. There was no food in her stomach and, in his opinion, it was a case of voluntary starvation, for deceased possessed money and food at the time of her death. It was stated the deceased had refused to go into the infirmary with the City Union. The jury, after consulting, returned a strong verdict which, upon the suggestion of the Coroner, was reduced to the following terms: "That deceased died of serious apoplexy, accelerated by privation through her own neglect. The jury desire to express their strong opinion the sanitary authorities had neglected their duty in allowing the room to remain in such a filthy condition, and for allowing removal of such filth from one house to another." 2.4.1880

MRS. PHILLIPS
The Committee of Jews' Free School, Bell Lane, has granted to MRS. PHILLIPS, late Head Mistress, a liberal pension on her retirment from the office which she has held for twentyfive years. 6.6.1879
♦MRS. PHILLIPS, Head Mistress of Jews' Free School, who is retiring from her office, has been recipient of testimonials from teachers, pupils and servants of the institution. The gift consisted of an electro-plated tea and coffee service from the teachers, and of a salver to match from pupils, both being properly inscribed. The servants have presented a hot-water jug to correspond, besides a handsome flower epergue and other tokens of respect. The evidence of affection which accompanied these gifts cannot fail to be pleasing to MRS. PHILLIPS. 20.6.1879
♦In addition to gratifying demonstrations made towards MRS. PHILLIPS, late head mistress of Jews' Free School, she was favoured a few days since with a handsome testimonial from the Ladies' Committee. It consisted of an elegant Portfolio inscribed with names of donors "in recognition of MRS. PHILLIPS' past services", and a cheque for £5.10s. This was accompanied by a letter from LADY DE ROTHSCHILD, requesting MRS. PHILLIPS' acceptance "as a remembrance from the Ladies' Committee and as proof of their regard and esteem". 18.7.1879

LADY BENJAMIN PHILLIPS
In our report of the Distribution of Prizes to pupils of Stepney Jewish Schools, the prize promised by LADY PHILLIPS was in memory of her beloved grandchild, MARY FAUDEL BARNETT. 12.6.1874
♦Death 31.1.1880 at Queen's Gardens, Brighton, wife of SIR BENJAMIN S. PHILLIPS, Knt., Alderman.
♦We regret to announce the death of the wife of SIR BENJAMIN S. PHILLIPS. The deceased had been suffering ill-health for some time. The body was brought to London on Tuesday morning, and was buried at West Ham Burial-Ground in a reserved grave, next to her brother, the late HENRY FAUDELL, a former President of Jews' Hospital, and an active member of the committee. LADY PHILLIPS, during the forty years of her married life, actively supported SIR BENJAMIN in the discharge of those public, civic and communal duties which he has rendered with so much advantage to the corporation and community, as well as honour to himself. As it is remarked in the obituary notice of the Times: "During her husband's year of office as chief magistrate in 1865, she discharged duties imposed upon the Lady Mayoress with grace, tact and dignity. She leaves two sons and a daughter." The Daily Telegraph says: "To the City of London and a section of the public LADY PHILLIPS was known for the graceful courtesty and considered kindness displayed by her during the hospitalities of SIR BENJAMIN's Mayoralty. but only those who were nearly allied to her, or admitted to intimacy with her, could fully understand the affectionate nature which, during sixty years of friendship, have brightened the career of her husband, and during fortyseven years of married life have solaced his home." 6.2.1880
♦There were no mourners around the grave save nearest relatives, and employees of FAUDEL, PHILLIPS & SONS, of which SIR BENJAMIN is head. 6.2.1880 (JW)

SAMUEL PHILLIPS
An accident of the most appalling character took place in New York on Sunday, 30th ult. A ferry boat, full of passengers to Staten Island, suddenly exploded, sending many souls to their last home. We reproduce from the Jewish Mercury an account of the affair.
"Among the many were Mr. & MRS. SAMUEL PHILLIPS, (well known as LADY PHILLIPS) natives of England, but for nearly forty years past residents of this city (New York). Last year celebrating their Golden Wedding, and rejoiced at seeing so many descendants around them, they looked forward to a peaceful old age. Last Sunday, in company with their son, his wife and their two young children they drove to the ferry intending to visit Staten Island, to see some estate MR. PHILLIPS had recently purchased. Entering the boat they remained in their carriage. A rush of steam, and the bursting boiler, hurled them into the depths of the vessel. One by one was rescued - MRS. PHILLIPS for two hours waited between the smoke-stack and debris of the carriage; they were borne to hospital, scalded and wounded. The children died on the way. MR. PHILLIPS expired in agony early Monday morning, his wife a few hours later and the condition of MR. & MRS. MOSS PHILLIPS (daughter of ISRAEL COHEN of London) is such friends despair of their recovery."
"A painful funeral was that on Wednesday, grandparents and grandchildren. MR. PHILLIPS was one of the founders of the Congregation Shaaa ray Tefila. He was of a genial temperament. He was 73 years old. His wife had attained her 70th year. She was a good woman, a practical Jewess." 18.8.1871 (JR)

EMANUEL REESING or KEESING
An inquest was held on Wednesday morning respecting the death of a child named EMANUEL REESING, aged 6 years, of 12 Frying Pan Alley, who had died without medical attendance. It was stated his parents had sent for a neighbouring doctor, who refused to attend unless he was paid. Before money could be obtained, the child died. The jury returned a verdict of "Death from Natural Causes". 29.8.1879
♦To the Editor of the "Jewish Chronicle" - Sir, Allow me to call to the following particulars respecting the coroner's inquest on the body of a Jewish child named EMANUEL KEESING. The child was taken ill, but the mother thought it was a cold. On the following morning about 7 o'clock, the child being worse, the father went for a doctor about 120 yards off. Finding he did not attend, five messengers were sent to him in the space of one hour. When he came at 9 o'clock (after his fee of 1 shilling and 6 pence was forthcoming) the child had died three minutes before. The execuse he gave was he did not think it was so serious a case, and he could not come without being dressed. The inquest was held on Wednesday, 27th ult. Instead of this doctor being in attendance, DR. DYTE attended. No witnesses were called except the mother, who has five children. This is the way our poor are being treated. Yours obediently, N. NATHAN - 76 Wellington Road, Bow 5.9.1879

COUNT RICCI
The Berlin Borsen Courier reports a marriage was solemnised in Paris by a preacher of the Jewish Reform Congregation in Berlin, between a niece of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE and COUNT RICCI. The bride belongs to the Jewish and the bridegroom to the Anglican Church, and as both parties agreed not to change their faith, no minister could be found in Paris willing to perform a religious marriage ceremony. On the part of the bride's family negotiations were opened with the Reform community with the result one of its ministers, Dr. Oppenheimer, proceeded to Paris, where he solemnised the marriage at the British Embassy, the service being conducted in the German language. 20.8.1880

REV. MOSES RINTEL
Death 9.5.1880 at his residence, Speedwell House, Drummond Street, Carlton, Victoria, senior Jewish Minister, in the 57th year of his age. 16.7.1880
♦The news has reached England of the death of REV. MOSES RINTEL, Minister of East Melbourne Congregation. The deceased was a son of RABBI MEYER, an erudite Talmudist and excellent writer in Hebrew, and who for many years was Hazan and teacher at Edinburgh, and settled in London. MR. RINTEL was born in 1823 in Edinburgh and received from his father his Hebrew education. After acting for many years as Reader of Brighton Synagogue he went in 1844 to Sydney and in 1849 was elected minister of East Melbourne Congregation. In 1857 MR. RINTEL, who was the first authorised Jewish minister in the colony, resigned his office, which led to the establishment of another place of worship under the title of "Mikveh Yisrael Melbourne Synagogue". This small synagogue was opened for divine service in 1860, and for some time MR. RINTEL officiated without remuneration. He was widely respected in the Australian colonies. He acted, on nomination of the Chief Rabbi, as Chief of the Beth Din, and was an upholder of orthodox Judaism. 9.7.1880
♦Additional particulars of the late REV. MOSES RINTEL are given by the Jewish Herald, Melbourne, from whom we extract the following: "MR. RINTEL was a Chazan of the old school; besides being an earnest preacher, he was a Bal Koreh of more than ordinary ability, and was a skilled Mohel and Shochet. He was a member of the Committee of the Jewish Philanthropic Society, and one of the prime movers in the establishment of Jewish Almshouses on St. Kilda Road. He was one of the founders of the United Jewish Benefit Society, and was elected first President in 1856. MR. RINTEL had been for some years a victim to consumption. During the latter part of Passover he sought his room, never again to leave it. The deceased gentleman leaves a widow and three daughters to mourn his end." 30.7.1880

Death 28.12.1876 at the "Beth Holim", Mile End Road aged 76. Deeply and deservedly lamented.
♦The tombstone of DANIEL RODRIGUES will be set 29.7.1877 at the Spanish & Portuguese Cemetery, Mile End.

MRS. DANIEL RODRIGUES
The sympathy and generosity of the benevolent are solicited on behalf of the widow and orphans of DANIEL RODRIGUES, who are left destitute; the widow being incapable, from a severe internal affliction, from following any occupation. A few gentlemen have resolved to make this appeal, with a view to obtain an amount to establish her in a business which will enable her to support herself and family. 22.8.1873

♦To the editor of the Jewish World - Sir, It may be in the recollection of some of your readers that MRS. FANNY ROPHE (formerly widow of the late MAURICE DA COSTA, a member of the Spanish & Portuguese Jews' Congregation), who died in August, 1878, after making numerous charitable and other bequests (including sums of £500, £500 and £1,000), directed her residuary estate should be paid to the late REV. DR. B. ARTOM and myself, upon trust, to pay or distribute the sum to, or among, such Jewish charity or Jewish charitable institutions, as we should think fit. Owing to the death of REV. DR. ARTOM the duty of distributing the residue devolved upon me, and I have no doubt it will interest the Jewish community to know after consulting MANUEL CASTELLO and MR. F.B. HALFORD (who with me are special trustees of the sums mentioned). I have distributed £2,800 in the proportions following:- the Spanish & Portuguese Board of Guardians £500; Jewish Board of Guardians £300; Westminster Jews' Free School £200; Stepney Jewish Schools £200; Gates of Hope School £100; Jews' Free School £100; Bayswater Jewish Schools £100; Jews' Hospital & Orphan Asylum (Norwood) £100; Deaf & Dumb Home £100; Jewish Convalescent Home £100; Jews' Emigration Society £100; Society for Relieving the Aged Needy £100; Spanish & Portuguese Orphan Society £50; Spanish & Portuguese Hospital (Beth Holim) £50; Hand-in-Hand Asylum £50; Widows' Home Asylum £50; Jewish Home £50; Indigent Blind Institution £50; Soup Kitchen for the Jewish Poor £50. (Other legacies mentioned here.) The special legacies alluded to comprise a trust of £500 for training, as nurses for the sick, girls to be selected, and a trust of £1,000 for clothing and annual prizes to be awarded to children of the "Gates of Hope School and National Infant School". The special legacies, amounting to £2,000, have been invested in Metropolitan Board of Works stock, which is standing in the names of the trustees and myself. Your very obedient servant - GABRIEL LINDO, 12 Kings Arms Yard, Moorgate Street. October 27, 1880 (JW)

LORD ROSEBERY
LORD ROSEBERY'S MARRIAGE - In the House of Convocation on 16th instant, Rev. Prebendary Ainslie, Henstridge obtained permission to read the following petition:
1. That two persons, one of them a Jewess, were married by civil contract before the Superintendent-Registrar of St. George's, Hanover Square, on March 20, last.
2. That on the same day these two persons, being married, presented themselves at Christ Church, Mayfair for solemnising of their union with the marriage service of the Church of England.
3. That a priest of this diocese did read the Church's service with them and according to that service, bless them.
4. That this use of the service for one who is an unbeliever in the Christian religion is a plain profanation of holiness, and a great scandal in the eyes of your petitioner and other Christians.
5. That this ceremony was performed under sanction of a licence which was issued from the Bishop's registrar, and carried the episcopal seal, and styled by the two persons "our well-beloved in Christ".
6. That such licence was not merely needless in the case of two persons joined by civil contract, but might have been withheld at the discretion of the Bishop or his registrar.
7. That your petitioner earnestly entreats your revered House to take the matter into your consideration.
Signed by him, Charles Gutch, BD. This 15th day of May, 1878

REV. M. ROSENSTEIN
MR. M. ROSENSTEIN begs to express his heartiest thanks to members of the German Synagogue for their kind support in recent elections for Chazan of the Synagogue. - 35 Duke Street, Aldgate. 24 April, 1877 ♦Birth Monday, 14.7.1879 at 26 Bunhill Row, Finsbury a daughter.

REV. VICTOR ROSENSTEIN
The REV. V. ROSENSTEIN has been appointed first reader of the East London Synagogue for one year and will at once enter on his duties. 18.5.1877 (JW)
♦REV. VICTOR ROSENSTEIN, East London Synagogue, begs to thank the Wardens, Committee & Congregation of Fashion Street Synagogue for the handsome mark of respect they presented him with on Sunday last. 28.11.1879
♦A numerously attended meeting of seat holders of the East London Synagogue, convened by requisition, was held on Sunday at Synagogue Chambers. The Meeting, which had been called for the purpose of "enquiring into all matters regarding REV. V. ROSENSTEIN" was boisterous, and proceedings were frequently interrupted by deafening cheers and hisses, while as business proceeded the scene became one of confusion. MR. W. NEUMEGEN moved and MR. S. ABRAHAM seconded "this meeting recommends the Council of the United Synagogue to retain REV. V. ROSENSTEIN in his present position". The motion was carried unanimously. The following resolution, being proposed by the Chairman (HENRY SOLOMON, Warden), and seconded by MR. M. JOSEPH was carried, "this meeting regrets the conduct of the Executive of the East London Synagogue in recommending to the Council of the United Synagogue dismissal of their First Reader without consulting seatholders". It was carried that the resolutions be immediately forwarded to the President and Secretary of the United Synagogue. The meeting terminated with cheers for the Chairman and amidst enthusiastic demonstrations. 9.1.1880 (JW)
♦EAST LONDON SYNAGOGUE - An enthusiastic but noisy meeting of about 100 members of the above synagogue who object to the dismissal of REV. V. ROSENSTEIN, minister, took place on Sunday at Beaumont Assembly Rooms, Mile End. MR. MORRIS, who occupied the chair, stated he and several members had waited upon Rev. The Chief Rabbi that morning in reference to the misunderstanding which had arisen between the executive and their minister, and the Chief expressed a hope the matter would be settled amicably, and urged with a view to compromise, an apology should be made and forwarded by MR. ROSENSTEIN to Wardens of the East London Synagogue and Council of the United Synagogue. It was resolved the meeting counsel REV. MR. ROSENSTEIN to adopt the course pointed out. 19.3.1880 (JW)
♦EAST LONDON SYNAGOGUE - At a meeting of the Board of Management, held last Tuesday, to consider aplications for the post of Reader, REV. V. ROSENSTEIN was accepted, out of eight candidates, for re-election. 11.6.1880 (JW)
♦A numerously attended meeting of seatholders was held on Sunday, in the East London Synagogue, for the election of reader. The voting was by ballot and resulted in the re-election of REV. V. ROSENSTEIN. 9.7.1880 (JW)
♦UNITED SYNAGOGUE - A letter was read from the East London Synagogue of REV. R. ROSENSTEIN as minister. MR. A.E. SYDNEY, as hon. solicitor of Council, advised it was not competent for the East London Synagogue to re-elect their late minister. He moved a resolution in that sense. MR. BENN DAVIS seconded the resolution. The resolution was carried nem. con. 9.7.1880 (JW)
♦A meeting of the Council of the United Synagogue took place on Tuesday at the New Synagogue Chambers, Great St. Helen's. MR. N. DAVIS moved the resolution of Council of July 6th regarding REV. MR. ROSENSTEIN be rescinded. MR. S. MONTAGU considered MR. ROSENSTEIN is unfitted to fill the post of a Jewish clergyman. A division took place and the rescinding of the resolution was carried by a majority of 8. - 23.7.1880 (JW)

BARON ANSELM VON ROTHSCHILD

We regret to announce the death of BARON ANSELM DE ROTHSCHILD, head of the branch of the Rothschild House established at Vienna. The Baron was in the 71st year of his age. The Baron's eldest son BARON FERDINAND DE ROTHSCHILD married some years back EVELINA DE ROTHSCHILD, younger daughter of BARON LIONEL. This amiable and accomplished lady died in childbirth shortly after her marriage. Since his marriage, BARON FERDINAND has resided in London. He fills the office of Treasurer to the Board of Guardians and was for a time Warden of the Central Synagogue. 31.7.1874

♦(From our own correspondent) - Vienna August 1, 1874 - The death of BARON ANSELM DE ROTHSCHILD has produced a deep impression throughout the city. The Baron died on Monday evening at about 6 o'clock at Dobling, near this town. He had attained the age of 71. He was born on 29th January, 1803 at Frankfort-on-the-Maine. He was a son of BARON SOLOMON DE ROTHSCHILD, who was a grandson of this dynasty, ANSELM MAYER. He spent his youth at Frankfurt, and passed some time during his young manhood at Berlin, where he attended the University of that city.

He was attached to scientific pursuits and held communion with scientific men throughout his life.

It is said he had a special acquaintance with history, but he acquired renown as an enthusiastic friend of the fine arts, and was a connoisseur in painting and archaeology.

In 1855 he took up residence in Vienna, and rarely quitted it except during hot weather, when he went to his estate at Schillersorf in Silesia. He married his cousin CHARLOTTE, daughter of his uncle BARON NATHAN MAYER ROTHSCHILD, head of the London branch (father of BARON LIONEL & SIR ANTHONY ROTHSCHILD). He lost his wife in 1859. He had seven children, viz: NATHANIEL, FERDINAND & ALFRED, and JULIA, wife of ADOLPHE CHARLES DE ROTHSCHILD, MATILDA who married WILLIAM CHARLES DE ROTHSCHILD, LOUISA who married BARON FRANCHETTI, and ALICE who is unmarried. His sons have no children; BARON FERDINAND is a widower.

BARON ANSELM DE ROTHSCHILD evinced an adherence to orthodox principles of the religion of his fathers. He was obliged to submit to a painful operation. For some days before his death this catastrophe was regarded as inevitable. He died of an illness called by doctors "prostrate".

Immediately on hearing of the death of the Baron, our Emperor sent his adjutant to offer his condolences to the family as did the Emperor of Germany, Czar of Russia, and King of Italy by their respective ambassadors. Prince Bismarck and Count Andrassy, Prime Minister of the Austro-Hungarian realm, sent telegrams of sympathy. The Vienna correspondents of the Standard of Monday contains an account of BARON ANSELM DE ROTHSCHILD. 7.8.1874

♦The fortune of the late BARON ANSELM DE ROTHSCHILD, according to Galignani, is estimated at more than a thousand millions of francs. The Morning Advertiser states the Baron's fortune runs up as high as 60 million pounds sterling. 7.8.1874

♦A correspondent informs us internment of BARON ANSELM DE ROTHSCHILD took place in the family vault at the Jewish cemetery in Frankfurt-on-the-Main on 31st ult. According the the Baron's desire, his body was laid by the side of his wife. The corpse was removed from the railway station in a carrier's van. The cortege was followed by the sons of the deceased, and by representatives of the London, Paris and Frankfort branches of the family. The funeral service was in accordance with orthodox customs, and at the grave an impressive oration was delivered by Dr. Hirsch, Rabbi of the Orthodox community in Frankfort. Several prominent banking houses sent representatives. The Vienna correspondent of the Eastern Budget, writing on 31st ult., says: "The papers are full of articles, describing the smallest incidents in the Baron's career, and the influence he exercised on the commercial world." 14.8.1874

♦The Vienna Fremdenblatt gives the following details of testamentary dispositions made by BARON ANSELM DE ROTHSCHILD: "Nothing is left to the daughters. They are supposed to have received their quota during their father's lifetime; the fortune of BARONESS ALICE amounts to about £150,000. The fortune is valued at £22m. The largest portion is left to BARON NATHANIEL, eldest son; the next largest part goes to BARON ALBERT, and the second son, BARON FERDINAND, has the least." 14.8.1874 (JW)

Author's note: The honours "von" and "de" are both correct.

♦Among members of the Committee of the Hungarian Inundation Relief Fund is SIR ANTHONY DE ROTHSCHILD. 23.7.1875

♦SIR ANTHONY ROTHSCHILD was second son of the founder of the family, and he saw the light in 1810. He was a baron of the Austrian Empire, and he was made a British baronet in 1846, with special remainder to the sons of his elder brother, BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD. SIR ANTHONY married in 1840 LOUISA, daughter of ABRAHAM MONTEFIORE, by whom he leaves two daughters. SIR ANTHONY was Austrian Consul-General, and Magistrate, and Deputy Lieutenant for Bucks., in which county he served office of High Sheriff, and a Commissioner of Lieutenancy for London. He died on Monday night, after a long illness, which had lately become hopeless, at his temporary residence near Southampton.

The late baronet was a kind-hearted, good-natured man, possessed of a fund of sagacity and practical good sense. He was blunt and outspoken in speech, preferring substance to form, and he resembled in manner an English Squire. He was ready to receive kindly those who knew him, and the door of the parlour of St. Swithin's Lane was never closed against charitable appeals of those in whom he had confidence. He administered his estates with care and wisdom, treated his dependants and tenants with kindliness. His splendid mansion at Aston Clinton, in Buckinghamshire, was renowned for its hospitality.

SIR ANTHONY became indentified with his estates. He and his family exercised charity among the surrounding poor, and they worked cordially with clergy of surrounding parishes. SIR ANTHONY preferred to help those who helped themselves. He kept his labourers at work throughout the winter; the cottages of his estates were excellent, and he was considered the best of landlords.

The body of SIR ANTHONY was removed from Southampton to London last evening by the south western Railway. The train arrived at Vauxhall Station at 10, where the body was removed to the residence of the deceased, 2 Grosvenor Place.

We extract the following from the Times of Wednesday: SIR ANTHONY's life was not eventful. He was a quiet country gentleman; but in this retired sphere he rendered public and private service of great value. 7.1.1876

♦A meeting of the General Council of the United Synagogue was convened for Tuesday. A resolution to adjourn the meeting was formally passed, and proceedings terminated. 7.1.1876

♦SIR ANTHONY was elected President of the Great Synagogue in August, 1847. He declined to serve. He was again elected President on August 30, 1855. He accepted the position, and filled it with satisfaction to the congregation until the formation of the United Synagogue. He became a "privileged member" of the Synagogue in October, 1840.

On 14 December, 1870 SIR ANTHONY was unanimously elected President of the Council of the United Synagogue, and from that time until when his illness became too serious to permit him to take part in his official duties with regularity, he took an active part in deliberations. But though illness prevented his attendance, he did not cease to take personal interest in all questions.

He took a share in the purchase of the new cemetery at Willesden. Finding last year the drainage defective, he brought the question before the Council of the United Synagogue, and at his suggestion it was agreed to apply remedial measures which were carried out under his supervision.

The erection of an East London Synagogue will be remembered amongst advantages which Jews of London owe to a great extent to the generosity and zeal of SIR ANTHONY.

Although a supporter of all our public Jewish Schools it is Jews' Free School with which the deceased's name is associated. SIR ANTHONY was elected President on January 24th, 1847.

He was for a brief period President of Jews' Hospital, and he laid the foundation stone of the building at Norwood on June 6th, 1861. He was one of the gentlemen who brought before managers of Jews' Hospital & Orphan Asylum the scheme for federation of the charities.

The remains of SIR ANTHONY DE ROTHSCHILD were interred in the Jewish cemetery at Willesden on Sunday morning. The hour fixed for departure of the funeral cortege from 2 Grosvenor Place, town residence of the deceased, was 10 o'clock. It is computed upwards of 200 persons had assembled in the house of mourning. Among those assembled were:

Count Schonvaloff(Russian Ambassador), Count Benst (Austrian Ambassador), Baron Penedo (Brazilian Minister), Earl of Hardwicke, Lord Henry Lennox, Count Clary (representing the ex-Empress of the French), Rt. Hon. C.P. Villiers, Hon. Robert Grimston, Mr. Bigelow (Financial Agent of the American Government), REV. DR. N.M. ADLER, Jewish clergymen representing every metropolitan synagogue, Rev. Mr. Weldon (of Aston Clinton), Mr. May (of the Bank of England, MR. MONTEFIORE (representing the Alliance Assurance Co.), Mr. Lorent (of the Bank of Belgium & Holland), clerks and employees at New Court, 50 employees of the refinery.

The coffin rested in the Oak-room, over which a black pall was thrown covered with garlands of white exotic flowers enfused with maiden-hair ferns. Outside the house a large number of persons were assembled. The remains of the deceased were enclosed in two coffins, the outer shell composed of oak. The hearse was drawn by four horses. It was not until nearly 11 o'clock the last carriage drove from the door, and the funeral cortege, consisting of upwards of 64 mourning coaches and upwards of eight private carriages, was one of the largest which has been seen in London for many years. At Edgware Road the procession was joined by carriages containing members of the Council of the United Synagogue. Among private carriages were those of the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador, the Russian Ambassador, the Brazilian Minister, Duke of Wellington, Margaret, Duchess of Somerset, Viscount Kirkwall, Rt. Hon. the Lord Mayor, Lady Molesworth, Mr. Gibbs (Governor of the Bank of England).

The hearse arrived at the cemetery about 12 o'clock. Processions of children from the Jews' Free School, Jews' Hospital, "Gates of Hope" School, Borough Jewish School, Jews' Deaf & Dumb Home, and others were drawn up in the cemetery. It was computed upwards of 2,000 persons had assembled in the burial ground. The constituent synagogues were represented by officials. The committee of the proposed East London Synagogue attended. The officials of the Western Synagogue joined the funeral procession in a mourning coach. Even poorer members of minor synagogues and of smaller societies followed in cabs. The number of Christians present was large.

The grave of SIR ANTHONY is near to that of BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD.

A body of police was stationed at the cemetery and all along the route.

A Special Service in memory of SIR ANTHONY was held on Monday afternoon at Jews' Free School, Bell Lane. Over a thousand children were ranged on tiers of seats in the Boys' School. The children were all dressed in mourning. Among those assembled were BARONESS LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD, BARONESS CHARLES DE ROTHSCHILD (of Frankfurt), BARONESS ALPHONSE DE ROTHSCHILD (of Paris), LEOPOLD DE ROTHSCHILD.

At a meeting of the Council of Jews' College, held on Wednesday, votes of condolence to LADY ROTHSCHILD and BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD were passed. A special service was held at the German Synagogue. 14.1.1876

♦THE LATE SIR ANTHONY DE ROTHSCHILD - On Sabbath in nearly all metropolitan synagogues offerings were made in memory of the deceased. At the Great Synagogue (at the service of which SIR NATHANIEL DE ROTHSCHILD attended) offerings amounted to nearly £200, nearly 150 offerings having been made. Several preachers alluded in their sermons to the death of SIR ANTHONY. 21.1.1876

♦The Graphic and Illustrated London News contain portraits and biographical notices of SIR ANTHONY ROTHSCHILD. 28.1.1876

♦The ROTHSCHILD family have presented 600 guineas to Jews' Hospital in memory of SIR ANTHONY DE ROTHSCHILD. 21.7.1876 (JW)

♦A life size bust, in terracott, of SIR ANTHONY ROTHSCHILD, has been presented to Jews' Free School by MR. RUSSELL. The bust is the work of a young Italian artist. 15.6.1877

BARON ARTHUR DE ROTHSCHILD

Our Italian contemporaries have referred to visits from BARON ARTHUR DE ROTHSCHILD, who was yachting in the Mediterranean. At Salonica he received Dr. Allatini, Chief Rabbi, and heads of the community, whose visits he returned. At Corfu he was received by the rabbi and heads of the community with demonstrations of honour. 18.8.1876

BARONESS BETTINA DE ROTHSCHILD (BETTY)

Many journals, says V.I., have stated the fortune (125m.) which BARONESS BETTY DE ROTHSCHILD brings as marriage portion to her cousin of Vienna. 14.1.1876

♦On Wednesday was solemnised at the Synagogue, Rue de la Victoria, Paris the marriage of BETTINA DE ROTHSCHILD (daughter of BARON ALPHONSE DE ROTHSCHILD of Paris, and granddaughter of BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD of London) with BARON ALBERT DE ROTHSCHILD of Vienna. It is stated the Comte de Paris went expressly to sign this contract.

The Paris Correspondent of the Daily Telegraph telegraphs the following particulars of the marriage ceremony:- The marriage of MDLLE. BETTINA DE ROTHSCHILD with BARON ALBERT DE ROTHSCHILD proved an interesting ceremony. Twelve o'clock was mentioned on cards of invitation, but it was nearly half an hour after that time before the pair arrived in a magnificent equipage, followed by other members of family in voitures de gala.

The following particulars are furnished by the correspondent of the Daily News. The Princes and Princesses of the Orleans family were placed close to the sanctuary. Behind them were the Ministers of Finance, War and Foreign affairs, and several generals. When the bride was announced the rabbis went to meet her. She is small and fair. The bride's mother was in white brocade, trimmed with rich lace and gold. The cortege was preceded by ushers with yellow and blue favours. When the newly married couple were being congratulated in the vestry, Psalms were sung in the organ loft. The bride's sister, a little girl 6 years old, in blue toilette, escorted by a juvenile cousin in velvet knicker-bockers, made a collection for the benefit of Jews suffering from the inundations. The following details are given by Paris Figaro: All Princesses of the House of Orleans in Paris were present on Sunday evening at the Hotel St. Florentin, where a grand entertainment was given after the civil ceremony. The bride is daughter of BARON ALPHONSE, eldest son of the late BARON JAMES, who is par excellence financier of the family. It is stated he is at the bank earlier than many of the clerks, and never leaves till it has been closed for the day. His amusement is shooting. MDLLE. BETTINA DE ROTHSCHILD at the age of 16 passed her examinations and received from university a diploma entitling her to act as a teacher. She is unaffected and unassuming in manners, and she annually provides for the education of ten young girls as teachers. On her marriage she has provided marriage portions for five young girls of respectable families suffering from reverses of fortune. She brings to her husband, who is the richest member of the German branch of the family, a dowry of £400,000, and it is needless to say more of her trousseau than to quote remark made by her young sister MDLLE. ANAIA:

"How fortunate she is to be married." "Why so?" was the rejoinder. "Why, to have so many dresses", was the reply. The jewellery would form no small fortune. The BARONESS JAMES presented her granddaughter with a necklace of fine pearls. Last Saturday BARONESS NATHANIEL gave a grand dinner, and on Wednesday, after the religious ceremony, a luncheon will be given at Hotel St. Florentin. On Saturday BARON ALPHONSE will give a grand ball to all employees of the house. 24.3.1876

HANNAH DE ROTHSCHILD
BARON & BARONESS MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD celebrated the birthday of their daughter by entertainments at Mentmore to their tenants and servants These entertainments took place on Saturday and Monday, and they were thoroughly enjoyed. Many hopes were expressed for the welfare of the young lady. 2.8.1872

♦BARONESS MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD celebrated the birthday of her daughter, HANNAH, grandchild of the late BARONESS N.M. DE ROTHSCHILD, by an entertainment to 200 poor Jewish children, who frequent the Penny Dinners. MISS DE ROTHSCHILD presented the children with combs and brushes. MR. LEVY addressed the children, to whom he explained the occasion of the entertainment; he added MISS HANNAH DE ROTHSCHILD seemed to inherit the benevolence of her grandmother, the late BARONESS N.M. DE ROTHSCHILD, whose name she bore, and who had done so much for the education of the parents of many of those whom he was addressing. He proposed the health of MISS DE ROTHSCHILD, and his "toast" was received with cheering. It may be mentioned MISS DE ROTHSCHILD is granddaughter of another active worker in the cause of Jewish education, ISAAC COHEN. 2.8.1872

♦Amongst ladies and gentlemen who met the Prince and Princess of Wales and the Czarewitch & Csarevana of Russia at the Duke of Edinburgh's evening party on 3rd inst. was MISS HANNAH DE ROTHSCHILD. 11.7.1873

♦MISS HANNAH DE ROTHSCHILD has presented £2,000 to the Royal National Life Boat and Institution to found and endow a Life Boat Station in memory of her father, BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD. 19.2.1875 (£200(JW))

♦MISS HANNAH DE ROTHSCHILD having contributed £10 and BARONESS MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD £45 towards the new Brighton Central Synagogue, it has been decided these amounts shall be devoted to the purchase of a pair of candelabra, to be placed, near the ark, in memory of BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD. 2.4.1875 (JW)

♦The Bazaar in favour of the Royal National Hospital for Consumption and Chest Diseases at Ventnor was opened on Wednesday at Knightsbridge Riding School and remains open till this evening. MISS HANNAH DE ROTHSCHILD was among stall-holders. 18.6.1875

♦The Rabbi of Nice has received from MISS HANNAH DE ROTHSCHILD 1,000 francs to be distributed among the poor and several charitable societies of the Jewish community. 11.5.1877

♦MISS HANNAH DE ROTHSCHILD has made the following contributions to Jewish institutions, in memory of her mother, BARONESS MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD. The Jews' Infant School £1,000; Board of Guardians £500; Jews' Emigration Society £350; Borough Jewish Schools £300; Metropolitan Free Hospital, Jewish Wards £200; Penny Dinners Society £100. 17.8.1877 (JW)

♦THE BOARD OF GUARDIANS - Receipt of £500 from MISS HANNAH DE ROTHSCHILD in memory of her mother. It was ordered a letter of thanks be forwarded. 21.9.1877 (JW)

♦MISS HANNAH DE ROTHSCHILD has presented £1,000 to Jews' Free School in memory of her mother, BARONESS MAYER. 16.11.1877 (JW)

♦THE LATEST FASHIONABLE MARRIAGE - We might have deplored in silence the studied ostentation with which so pernicious an example has been set. We should ill discharge our duty were we not to express our astonishment and grief that children of the patriarchs should have deemed it reconcileable with their sacred conviction to give countenance to this union by their presence at the religious ceremony. Must it not have jarred upon their ears on hearing the most sacred tie a rational being can form contracted by a daughter of Israel, in the name of one included in the prohibition "Thou shalt not have strange gods before My face?" We mourn, we deplore this degeneracy. 29.3.1878

Death 16.9.1880 at 4 Rue de Lisbonne, Paris, after seven years of intense suffering, beloved wife of L.M. ROTHSCHILD, in her 60th year.

♦The Funeral of MRS. L.M. ROTHSCHILD will leave Victoria Station this morning (Friday) at 10.30 and arrive at Willesden Burial Grounds at about twelve. 22.10.1880

♦On Friday last the remains of MRS. L.M. ROTHSCHILD (nee HESTER LEVERSON) were interred in the Jewish cemetery, Willesden. The deceased had expressed the wish her body might be brought over to her native country, and on Friday it was consigned to its last resting-place, near the grave of her daughter, MRS. EMMA GOLDSCHMIDT, whose death had caused such grief to her mother, as to aggravate her disease and hasten her end. For more than thirty years the residence of MR. & MRS. L.M. ROTHSCHILD was known as the gathering-place of Jewish worthies in every branch of intellectual acquirements. In his sermon on Sabbath last, Rev. A.L. Green referred to the death of MRS. ROTHSCHILD, and spoke of her as an example worthy of imitation by all mothers in Israel. 29.10.1880

♦The BARONESS DE ROTHSCHILD has forwarded a donation of £20 to Newcastle-on-Tyne "Ladies' Hebrew Benevolent Society". 14.1.1876

♦We are pleased to hear the health of BARONESS MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD is improved. She is on board her yacht "Czarina", laying in Portsmouth Harbour, and on Tuesday the Naval Commander-in-Chief of that port (Admiral & Mrs. Elliott) went on board and were introduced to the Baroness by MR. E.L. EMANUEL of Portsea, after which luncheon was served. 31.3.1876

♦The Malta correspondent of the Times, writing on 5th inst., says: "The steamer 'Kedar' arrived here on 29th ult., from Nice, where she landed BARONESS MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD and her daughter, having embarked them at Falmouth, and cruised with them on the coasts of Portugal and Spain. The Baroness had intended to cruise for three months, but the state of the Baroness's health would not permit her to encounter discomforts of the sea." 15.12.1876

♦The BARONESS MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD was not allowed to close her eyes on the paternal soil which she loved so much. Her daughter and one of her sisters, who joined her at Nice, were present at her death. She died on Friday last in her yacht at Nice.

The deceased was philanthropic. She was fond of taking young promising lads under her patronage.

JULIANA, BARONESS MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD was the eldest of three children, all daughters of the late ISAAC COHEN, brother of the late BARONESS ROTHSCHILD, and of SARA, a member of the family of SAMUELS. She received her education under the paternal roof. Her first sorrow was the loss of her father. On Friday night - 10th January, 1846 - he sat down to evening meal with his family and guests. At 10 o'clock the party broke up. A few hours later the hospitable master of the house lay on the ground - a corpse. An apopletic fit had carried him off. JULIANA resumed her course of studies, and she was four years later engaged to her cousin, BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD, fourth and youngest son of the late NATHAN MEYER DE ROTHSCHILD. While at Vienna, the Baroness, her aunt and mother-in-law, was carried off as suddenly as her father was. The newly married couple had to hasten back to the metropolis.

She divided her time, when not travelling, between her town-house in Piccadilly and the magnificent estate at Mentmore. She became the mother of her only child, HANNAH. These happy days came to an end by the attack of a rheumatic fever.

She had the misfortune of witnessing the death of her husband, who had been ill for some time, and whom she nursed until his death, three years ago. Her life was despaired of two years since. Her death was expected when she rallied again, and, by the advice of her medical attendant, and accompanied by her daughter, who hardly left the side of her mother, she betook to sea in her yacht. In September she embarked at Southampton and cruised about the Mediterranean, visited Athens and Malta and reached Nice. She leaves behind a daughter, as yet single, a mother, SARA, and two younger sisters, the MISSES LOUISA & LUCY COHEN.

She leaves behind the introduction of lip-reading among deaf-mutes, which was not only adopted in the Jewish community, but among the population, and which wass chiefly promoted by her. The Jews' Deaf & Dumb Home was principally supported for a time by her. H.R.H. the Prince of Wales on Tuesday, at the festival in aid of the Association for the Oral instruction for the Deaf & Dumb, said: "I cannot forget one whom I know all interested in this institution will mourn deeply has been taken from us. We know what an interest she took in this institution, and she helped by every means in her power to strengthen its usefulness."

The body of the Baroness was brought to London by special train, via Calais and Dover to Victoria Station, where it arrived on Wednesday night a few minutes after midnight. Several members of the family were present at the station. Having been placed in the hearse, the coffin was borne to the town residence of the deceased, 107 Piccadilly. 16.3.1877

♦The funeral of BARONESS MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD took place on Friday last. The cortege - consisting of a hearse drawn by four horses and 36 mourning coaches, followed by a large number of private carriages - started at a few minutes after 10 from the late residence of the deceased. Within the mansion were assumbled relatives and friends, as well as a large number of tenants from Mentmore. The coffin - which was of polished walnut wood, with silver handles, etc. - rested in an ante room. The coffin was borne to the hearse by the crew of the yacht, "Czarina" - men who had accompanied the body in its journey from Nice. Among those who assembled at the house of mourning was JOHN SAMUEL (uncle of the deceased).

Among private carriages which followed were those of:

The Austrian Ambassador, Turkish Ambassador, Brazilian Minister, Lord Houghton, Lord Kirkwell, Lord Dorchester, Lady Peel, Lady Lindsay, Dowager Lady Somerset, DR. ADLER, etc.

Upon arrival of the procession at the cemetery at Willesden, the body was borne into the Hall, where the 16th Psalm was read by Rev. A.L. Green. The coffin was carried to the grave next to that where the remains of BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD are buried. One of the pupils of the Deaf & Dumb Home said Kaddish.

At the cemetery were detachments of children of Jews' Free School, Jews' Hospital & Orphan Asylum, Westminster Jews Free School, Deaf & Dumb Home, and scholars of the Association for the Oral Instruction of the Deaf & Dumb. 23.3.1877

♦The whole world has received with expressions of regret the news of the demise of BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD. LIONEL NATHAN DE ROTHSCHILD, a Baron of the Austrian Empire, and until the opening of the present Parliament, a representative of the City of London during twentyseven years, was born at New Court, St. Swithin's Lane on November 22nd, 1808. He was eldest of those three sons of NATHAN MEYER ROTHSCHILD - founder of the London house - of whom their father told Sir Thomas Fowell Buxton, "I wish them to give mind and heart and body to business." In 1836 LIONEL married his cousin, CHARLOTTE - a daughter of BARON CHARLES of Frankfort. His father proceeded to Germany to witness the ceremony, but was taken ill and died afterwards, and it was the fate of bride and bridegroom to accompany the remains of their parent to England. LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD succeeded to his father's title and direction of the House in St. Swithin's Lane. He negotiated the Irish Famine Loan in 1847; he took up the Turkish loan of 5 million in 1855 on security of England and France; he took up 16 millions for the war against Russia and for the deficiency of 10 millions in the revenue. In an hour of need BARON LIONEL advanced the British Government £4m. to purchase the Khedive's shares in the Suez Canal. Recently he seconded the exertions of the English and French Governments to induce system of order into the finances of Egypt; in the funding of the United States he took a large share. He was President of the Great Synagogue, and for some time a member of Council of the United Synagogue. At the time of his death he was a member of the Board of Deputies and Council of the Anglo-Jewish Association, but during the last few years, in consequence of his infirmities and the absorbing nature of his financial enterprises, he was never present at deliberations of these bodies, assisting them with his advice and his purse. BARON LIONEL was centre of the struggle for Jewish emancipation. He was equally wellknown in sporting circles. His benefactions were enormous and, as is the custom with many members of his family, usually bestowed anonymously. During the last twenty years he had suffered from rheumatic gout, in consequence of which he was wheeled in a specially constructed chair from room to room in his house and from his office to his carriage. On Friday last he was in his usual health, and after attendance at his office in New Court paid his customary visit to the Baroness at Gunnersbury. Returning to Piccadilly, he complained of not feeling well. Dr. Chepmell pronounced the attack to be gout, but it gradually became aggravated, until it was found necessary to summon Sir William Gull and Sir William Jenner. On Monday symptoms increased in their severity and on the following morning, at 20 minutes past 6, he peacefully expired. The last few years of his life were compaxed with anxiety and trouble, not only in consequence of his infirmities, but of the illness of his accomplished and beloved wife. He is succeeded in his titles and his position in New Court by SIR NATHANIEL MEYER DE ROTHSCHILD, MP., but the firm will consist of his three sons, SIR NATHANIEL, LEOPOLD & ALFRED. He leaves one daughter, LEONORA, who in 1857 was married to BARON ALPHONSE DE ROTHSCHILD of Paris. His other daughter, EVELINA, wife of BARON FERDINAND DE ROTHSCHILD, died in 1866. Her memory has been perpetuated by foundation of an endowment of the Evelina Hospital for Sick Children at Southwark. BARON LIONEL was a magistrate for Middlesex, a Commissioner of Lieutenancy for London and a Director of the Alliance British & Foreign Life, Fire & Marine Insurance Companies and Lord of the Manor of Tring. 6.6.1879 (JW)

♦All daily journals have published lengthy obituary notices of the Baron, and most of them comment in leading articles about his death. 6.6.1879

♦The funeral of BARON LIONEL NATHAN DE ROTHSCHILD took place this morning (Friday,

BARON LIONEL NATHAN DE ROTHSCHILD
continued

6th instant) at the new cemetery at Willesden. At an early hour all thoroughfares between Piccadilly and Marble Arch were full of private carriages and groups of special bodies of police. Towards the end of Park Lane, carriages were arranged five deep, and a dense crowd was assembled in front of the residence of the Baron. There were about 50 mourning coaches in all, 58 of the private carriages of the family and 148 other private carriages which followed in the cortege. The route chosen was by way of Marble Arch, Edgware Road and Willesden Lane, the line being occupied by groups of spectators, kept in order by a strong detachment of police, whilst mounted officers were stationed at streets and road corners. The hearse was drawn by four horses. Deputations from the following educational establishments with their teaching staff were stationed in the cemetery: The Jews' Free School, Jews' Hospital & Orphan Asylum, Jews' Deaf & Dumb Home, Infant School, Westminster Jews' Free Schools, Borough Schools, Stepney School, Jews' College, Bayswater School, Portuguese Orphans and Gates of Hope Schools. Many of the servants employed on the estates at Mentmore, Gunnersbury & Aylesbury, together with a large number of clerks from New Court, were present. At New Court, business of the Bankinghouse was suspended until 2 o'clock. On Sabbath last, at Hope Place Synagogue, Liverpool Rev. Dr. Stern offered up the usual prayer in Hebrew for eternal bliss of the soul of BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD. A special "Yiscor" was made in all metropolitan synagogues on Sabbath last for the memory of the Baron. Donations of £100 each have been forwarded to the Great, Central & Bayswater Synagogues; each of the other congregations, comprising the United Synagogue, have received a donation of £20. 13.6.1879 (JW)

♦A Meeting of the Board of Deputies held on Wednesday at the Spanish & Portuguese Synagogue Vestry Room, Bevis Marks "to consider the propriety of presenting an address of condolence to the family of the late BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD." The motion was agreed to. 13.6.1879

♦On Monday a special meeting of the Board of Guardians was held for election of honorary officers and Sub-Committees. LIONEL L. COHEN, President, proposed a vote of condolence should be transmitted to SIR NATHANIEL DE ROTHSCHILD, one of the Treasurers of the Board, which was unanimously agreed to. 13.6.1879

♦To the Editor of the Jewish World - Sir, Among references that have been made to the benevolent career of BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD, I have not been able to detect any mention of the practical sympathy he exhibited with inhabitants of the Holy Land. I can testify it was his custom to give consideration to every application that reached him from his brethren in Palestine. As a native of Jerusalem I, on behalf of my brethren in the Holy Land, desire to place on record our gratitude to the late Baron. Yours obediently, B. STEINHARDT (of Jerusalem), 13 Newnham Square, Goodman's Fields 13.6.1879

♦Many contradictory rumours have been circulated as to the will of the late BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD. The Daily News says: "The Will of the late BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD is understood to be sworn under £2,700,000. The will is in the handwriting of the deceased, and is dated July 24, 1865, New Court, St. Swithin's Lane. His sons, SIR NATHANIEL & ALFRED, are executors of the will. The testator leaves to his wife £100,000 and life interests of £50,000 arising from houses at Frankfort and in London, together with a residence in Piccadilly and estate at Gunnersbury. A request is made 'my good wife' shall give £10,000 to Jewish charities and £5,000 to others. Annuities (in connection with which the mother is to exercise discretionary power) are made in favour of sons and daughters; the testator expresses a hope they will be kind to their mother, who has been kind to them, and him. To his two brothers (since dead) he bequeathed £1,000 each to purchase something in remembrance of himself. The testator thanked God for success and prosperity that had attended him. We understand there are imperfect attestation clauses in the will and marginal notes, not signed. The testator advises his sons of the unity that existed between him and his brothers, to which he attributes the success of the firm."

The following letter from "a Christian Reader" appeared in the Bedfordshire Mercury on Saturday: "Sir, Some time ago I wrote to the Baron on behalf of a candidate for admission to an institution of which he was a subscriber. The vote was already promised, but £5 was enclosed to me for the needy Christian applicant."

A correspondent writes:- "Many years ago Jewish convicts were scattered in prisons all over the country. But through the exertions of the late Baron, the Government of the day had them grouped together in one prison - Her Majesty's Convict Prison, Portsea." 20.6.1879

♦MR. D. MEYER, President of Nottingham Hebrew Congregation, writes: At a meeting on 17 August, 1879 it was unanimously decided the Yahrzeit BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD should be celebrated at our synagogue every year. On Sabbath last our reader said a prayer for his soul, and an offering was made from all members present. 28.5.1880

♦There has been erected on the grave of BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD, at Willesden Cemetery, a handsome granite tomb. It is massive and constructed of two pieces; the bottom portion is of dark Aberdeen granite, and the top of red Peterhead granite, beautifully moulded with carved running wreaths of leaves and flowers round the top edge. The upper portion is eliptic in form. The work has been carried out by J. SAMUEL & SON, of 147 Sidney Street, Mile End. The tomb bears the following inscription: In affectionate memory of LIONEL NATHAN DE ROTHSCHILD. Born November 22, 1808. Died June 3, 1879. He was beloved by the multitude of his brethren, worked for the welfare of his people and spoke peace to all his children. Esther 2. Let him die the death of the righteous and may my end be like his. Numbers XXIII.10. May his soul rest in peace. A considerable space around the grave is enclosed by a stone wall of handsome design, erected by CUBITT & CO. from plans of GEORGE LEVY, architect. The style of architecture is English Renaissance. The stone came from Nottinghamshire and is called "Ketton". The enclosure is planted with shrubs and flower plants. 19.11.1880

BARON MAYER AMSCHEL DE ROTHSCHILD

H.R.H. the Prince of Wales hunted with BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD's hounds on Monday. 3.3.1871

♦It is gratifying to find organs of the Press bear evidence of the popularity of the Rothschild family, as expressions of gratification greeted BARON MEYER DE ROTHSCHILD's success at the great race of the year. 2.6.1871

♦The Times in alluding to the winning of the St. Leger by BARON ROTHSCHILD's horse, Hannah, says:- BARON ROTHSCHILD has attained a sucess on the Turf unprecedented. He has won the Derby, Oaks Leger, and One Thousand Guineas - a feat never accomplished before. The other daily papers refer to the success of BARON ROTHSCHILD's horse in a similar strain. 15.9.1871

♦The continued success of BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD is remarkable. He has gained the Cesarewitch Stakes. It is pleasing to find his triumphs recorded in the press in terms which must be gratifying to the Baron and his friends. 13.10.1871

♦Dr. Lynn, the lecturer, who showes vagaries of spirit rapping and clairvoyance are produced by scientific or natural means, gave a private seance on Thursday week at the home of BARON & BARONESS MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD in Piccadilly. 27.6.1873

♦We learn from the Times the presentation to BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD, MP. by some of his Folkestone constituents, of a picture on a local subject, became the occasion of a pleasant gathering at the Baron's house in Piccadilly. The deputation of friends and constituents who presented the picture were entertained at luncheon. 4.7.1873

♦Amongst ladies and gentlemen who met the Prince & Princess of Wales and the Czarewitch & Csarevana of Russia at the Duke of Edinburgh's evening party on 3rd inst. was BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD. 11.7.1873

♦We regret to learn BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD is seriously ill at his town mansion in Piccadilly. 1.8.1873

♦We are glad to learn the medical attendant of BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD pronounces his health to be fairly re-established. 8.8.1873

♦BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD, MP. has sufficently recovered from his serious illness to leave London for his country seat at Mentmore. 5.9.1873

♦We have heard better news as to the state of BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD's health. An eminent authority who is in professional attendance sees no reason why his patient should not be restored to health. - Bucks. Advertiser. 19.12.1873 (JW)

♦From latest enquiry we learn the condition of BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD (although he is still in a weak state) is improved. 6.2.1874

♦BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD has succumbed to the inevitable decree. The Baron had been ill for several months. He had been for some time in a critical condition, so his death was not unexpected, and he expired on Friday morning last, at 11 o'clock at his town house, Piccadilly. BARON MAYER was youngest son of the late NATHAN MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD of Frankfort, founder of the English branch of the Rothschild family. He was born on June 29th, 1818 and was educated at Trinity College, Cambridge. The Baron was married June 28th, 1850 to JULIANA, eldest daughter of the late ISAAC COHEN, by whom he leaves a daughter, HANNAH. MR. ISAAC COHEN was brother of the Baron's mother. The marriage of BARON MAYER with his cousin was one of love. He was elected Member of Parliament for Hythe in 1859, which borough he represented till the recent dissolution, when he declared his desire of not being re-elected on account of his failing health. He was amongst principal landowners in Buckingham, and subscribed with generosity to nearly every institution in the country. He was patron of three livings in Buckinghamshire. A memoir on the late Baron is given by the sporting correspondent of the Morning Post. 13.2.1874 (JW)

♦The funeral of BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD took place on Tuesday morning. Large crowds assembled around the town residence of the deceased in Piccadilly, and for some distance along the route. Representatives of nearly all metropolitan Jewish congregations and principal charitable institutions were present at the funeral. BARON LIONEL DE ROTHSCHILD was present at the house of mourning, but owing to indisposition was prevented from following the remains of his brother.

The cortege consisted of a hearse drawn by four horses followed by 35 mourning coaches, and a large number of private carriages, among which were those of the Prince of Wales, Duke of Cambridge, Dukes of Buccleuch, Duchess of Somerset, the Russian Ambassador, Bavarian Minister, Duke of Wellington and Vicount Kirkwall.

Many of the household and tenants from Mentmore (where the estate of the deceased is situated) headed by Rev. Mr. Grubb attended the funeral.

The procession - which extended to a distance of about a quarter of a mile - caused excitement along the route through which it passed. Along Piccadilly and Park Lane, blinds of nearly all residences were drawn. Special arrangements were made by the police authorities for facilitating progress of the procession. At the cemetery a large crowd was assembled some time before the arrival of the cortege.

At the grave Rev. B.H. Ascher delivered an impassioned address in which he spoke with emotion of the virtues of the Baron.

The coffin was borne to the grave, where garlands of exquisite flowers were laid upon the lid; one wreath of intermingled violets and camelias had been sent from Paris by BARONESS ALPHONSE DE ROTHSCHILD.

At the burial ground were a number of boys representing the following schools: Jews' Free School, Jews' Hospital, Westminster Jews' Free School, Borough Jewish Schools and Jews'Infant Schools. The children were headed by their preceptors, and they bore draping banners. 13.2.1874

♦Bell's Life says:- "Considerable uncertainty exists as to the future of the late BARON ROTHSCHILD's racing stud. The Baron's hunters will, we hear, be retained, without being made use of in the field."

Land and Water, speaking of the late BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD, says:- "As a country gentleman, his loss will be irreparable." The Field bears tribute to the virtues of the late Baron. Our contemporary says: "No-one could come to know BARON MAYER and not like him. With a manner so genial and unassuming, you could scarcely imagine him to be master of his own hounds." 13.2.1874 (JW)

♦Special offerings in memory of BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD were made in Borough Synagogue last Sabbath. 20.2.1874 (JW)

♦The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says "The fortune which has been left by the late BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD is likely to exceed three million sterling." 20.2.1874

♦The ROTHSCHILDS of Paris have suspended their receptions on account of the death of BARON MAYER. 27.2.1874 (JW)

♦The current number of the Illustrated London News contains a portrait of the late BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD. 27.2.1874

♦At the training establishment at Newmarket on Thursday, the racing stud of the late BARON MEYER DE ROTHSCHILD was brought to the hammer. The number of thoroughbreds disposed of was about 20, but when we consider they realised upwards of £14,000, at an average of over £700 each, nothing more need be said of their quality. 27.3.1874 (JW)

♦St. James's Magazine for this month contains an obituary of BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD. 27.3.1874

♦The Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News contains an engraving of the late BARON MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD from the sketch by R. Dighton, together with a notice of the Baron's character and career as a model sportsman, quoted from Bailey's Magazine. 26.6.1874

♦The Memorial raised over the graves of BARON & BARONESS MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD, at Willesden Cemetery, was set on Sunday. The memorial is of polished white marble and is of an elaborate and artistic design. 4.1.1878

HENRY RUSSELL
At the Hand-in-Hand Asylum, Wellclose Square, an inmate named RUSSELL, who has nearly completed his hundredth year, and who is, we believe, uncle to the celebrated singer, performed a portion of the service. 17.10.1873
♦On Wednesday one of the inmates of the Hand-in-Hand Asylum (HENRY RUSSELL) reached his hundredth year. He read services for the synagogue attached to asylum on Sabbath last and during the week. He reads without aid of spectacles, and his voice - which is stated to have been of great power and sweetness in his early days - is pleasant and comparatively strong. 14.7.1876
♦On Friday last HENRY RUSSELL, one of the inmates of the Hand-in-Hand Asylum, Well Street. Hackney died at the age of 104 years. He had preserved his faculties to within a couple of weeks of his death. He was a native of Sheerness, and often spoke of incidents of the Mutiny of the Nore, of which he was an eye-witness. He lived to see four generations. 18.6.1880

♦In reference to the death of SOLOMON SACHS, who died on 31st ult., in the 97th year of his age, a correspondent informs us the gentleman was at the time of his death "patriarch" of Birmingham Hebrew Congregation, and was noted for his benevolence. He had filled various offices in the congregation, and was for many years an extra member of the congregational Council. He laid the foundation stone of the synagogue in 1855, and was held in high esteem. At the death of his wife, he founded in her memory a scholarship of £5 per annum to the best girl. He gave prizes for the study of Hebrew. He has left bequests to all charities connected with the congregation, and several of the officials, and bequests to the schools; also four marriage portions of £50 each to be given under conditions. 11.1.1878

MORRIS SAGMAN
EDINBURGH - On Monday an indictment for robbery of £26 from a traveller, MORRIS SAGMAN, was tried at the High Court of Judiciary before Lord Young. Mr. M'Kechnie, in addressing the jury for the prisoners, said he admitted evidence was sufficient to convict if the jury believed it. But it seemed to him the evidence of the two Polish Jews was more like trumped up evidence than anything he had seen. Going on to say the evidence was one of credibility between a respectable Scotchman who said this was not the woman, and two Polish Jews - two foreigners of whom they knew nothing, he was interrupted by Lord Young, who said the words "Polish Jews" had been repeated with offensive frequency. It was true SAGMAN was a Pole by nationality and a Jew by race, but there was nothing to find fault, and they usually treated foreigners with courtesy in this country. (Applause.) The jury unanimously found the accused guilty. His lordship stated the male prisoner had already been sentenced to eight, and the female prisoner to seven years' penal servitude each, to be followed by five years' police supervision. 22.10.1880

MISS ANNIE SALAMAN has published a 2nd edition of her work, "Footsteps in the Way of Life". 19.6.1874
♦Death 10.4.1879 at her residence at Brighton, youngest daughter of the late SIMEON KENSINGTON SALAMAN, formerly of Baker Street, Portman Square. Sincerely mourned by her family and a large circle of friends.
♦It is with regret we announce the death of MISS ANNETTE SALAMAN, at her residence 23 Sillwood Road, Brighton, where she passed the last few years of her life, devoted to the highest moral and spiritual objects. Her first publication, "Footsteps in the Way of Life", was issued in 1874. We cannot do better than insert her own preface as a history of that work: "In my early youth, during years of ill-health, when long hours threw me upon religious study for support and guidance, I found deep interest in sorting out, by comparing and classifying, the following collection of scripture texts." She afterwards published a little volume for children, entitled "Aunt Annette's Stories to Ada". MISS ANNETTE SALAMAN died (after a lingering illness of three months) as she had lived, the embodiment of the highest faith in God. During two or three hours of her last moment, she requested chapters to be read from her own "Footsteps in the Way of Life". MISS SALAMAN was sister to CHARLES K. SIR DAVID SALOMONS continued

SIR DAVID SALOMONS, Bart., MP. & Alderman, of Great Cumberland Place & Broom Hill, Tunbridge Wells, to CECILIA, widow of P.J. SALOMONS Esq. of Upper Wimpole Street.

♦From enquiries made before going to press, we are pleased to be enabled to state SIR DAVID SALOMONS is progressing favourably towards recovery. 23.5.1873

♦We are glad to state from personal enquiries SIR DAVID SALOMONS is progressing favourably towards recovery. 6.6.1873

♦Death 18.7.1873 at 26 Great Cumberland Place, W. in his 77th year.

♦Although it had long been known SIR DAVID SALOMONS was in a precarious state of health, announcements in our columns and those of other organs had led his friends to anticipate he would recover from the illness under which he was suffering; it was with consternation intelligence was received on Saturday morning SIR DAVID SALOMONS was no more.

In 1835 SIR (then MR.) DAVID SALOMONS attempted admission into the municipality of London. His urbane and genial manner, his popularity, his ability and courage succeeded, and he became first Jewish Sheriff of London and Middlesex. A few years later, he became High Sheriff of Kent, a county in which his estate was situated; he was the first Jewish High Sheriff in the country. In 1835, he stood as a candidate for the Aldermanic Gown of the Ward of Aldgate, and he succeeded; he was not able to take his seat at the Guildhall, because Jews were not admitted to municipal privileges of this character. In 1844 he sought suffrages of electors of Portsoken Ward. He was obliged to resign the post which the laws of the country did not allow him to fill. Sir Robert Peel brought in a bill securing municipal privileges to his Jewish fellow subjects. There was little opposition to it, and the result was successful. It was not until 1847 SIR DAVID offered himself again for election, and he selected the Ward of Cordwainers. The result was SIR DAVID was returned; never was an alderman more popular or beloved by his constituents. ALDERMAN SALOMONS became Lord Mayor of London; it was then the Times made the declaration at last the City of London had for its Lord Mayor a gentleman who could speak Queen's English without murdering it. His gracious demeanour and pleasant presence added to a charm of eloquence - his great hospitality and affable bearing rendered his career at the Mansion House one of exceptional brilliance and popularity.

SIR DAVID entered himself as a barrister in Middle Temple, and was called to the bar in 1849.

SIR DAVID SALOMONS was the first Jewish justice of the peace within these realms; we think we are right in stating in order to enable him to fill office, a special Act of Parliament had to be passed to substitute an oath in lieu of the oath ordinarily taken. SIR DAVID having decided to enter Parliament offered himself as a candidate to several boroughs. His defeat at Greenwich in 1847 was unexpected. SIR DAVID again offered himself for Greenwich, and was elected in 1851. The oath of abjuration existed, and all persons except Roman Catholics and Quakers had, on presenting themselves to be sworn before taking their seats, to pronounce "On the true faith of a Christian". When the words were read to him, the member for Greenwich declined to repeat them, and the clerk refused to register the oath. The question having arisen in the House as to the propriety of the oath, DAVID SALOMONS had the courage to address the House. He voted in two divisions. An adverse vote having been taken, MR. SALOMONS was directed to withdraw. He respectfully refused to do so unless compelled by force. It was not until the Serjeant-at-Arms placed his hand on his shoulder and requested him to withdraw, MR. SALOMONS retired. An amicable law suit was instituted by MR. SALOMONS to suport his views as to his legal rights to take his seat. MR. SALOMONS did not take his seat until the Act of Parliament was passed by the Conservative Government.

Whilst in the House of Commons SIR DAVID always spoke to the purpose. He was a zealous defender of the Dockyards men and working classes of the constituency of which he belonged. The course he took in obtaining privileges for Jewish working classes under the Factory Acts must remain in the remembrance of his industrial brethren.

Mainly by his popularity in the House of Commons he obtained a privilege for Jewish workmen in regard to the Sabbath question, and effected the first legislative recognition of claims of Jews to their Sabbath. He acted as Chairman of two or three select committes of the House of Commons. It is wellknown he was for some years Chairman of the Great Bank Corporation - London & Westminster Bank. It was not until 1869 the leader of the political party of which he was long a zealous supporter offered him a baronetcy. SIR DAVID having no family, the baronetcy descends to his nephew DAVID LIONEL, son of his brother PHILIP SALOMONS. The mother of the present baronet, who is a student at Cambridge, belonged to the family of MONTEFIORE, but she died in the bloom of her youth. SIR DAVID SALOMONS was connected by marriage with the GOLDSMIDS, two of his sisters having married two members of that family, his brother having married a sister of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE. SIR DAVID first married JEANNETTE, daughter of SOLOMON COHEN and niece of the late BARONESS DE ROTHSCHILD and the late LADY MONTEFIORE. MRS. SALOMONS' health prevented her from taking an active part as Lady Mayoress during her husband's mayoralty, and her duties were occasionally performed by her sister, MRS. WAGG. MRS. SALOMONS died before her husband attained his baronetcy; nearly a year ago SIR DAVID contracted a second alliance. The lady he selected was CECILIA, widow of the late MR. P.J. SALOMONS, and daughter of the late MR. S.M. SAMUEL. SIR DAVID SALOMONS was 75 years of age at the time of his decease. His first marriage took place 18 April, 1825.

SIR DAVID SALOMONS was at one time an officer of the New Synagogue, and President of the Board of Deputies. He had been President of Jews' Hospital and of Jews' Free School. He once obtained a grant of £100 from the Corporation of London on behalf of Jews' Free School. He was President of Westminster Jews' Free School in Greek Street. He was first treasurer of the Anglo-Jewish Association. SIR DAVID was a member of Council of the United Synagogue.

The funeral took place on Wednesday morning. The procession started from SIR DAVID SALOMON's town residence, Great Cumberland Place, at half-past ten. The vestibule and porch of the house were crowded with representatives of all congregations and all sections of our community, also delegates from the Greenwich constituency, of which SIR DAVID was representative.

The cortege passed down Great Portland Street, and stopped momentarily opposite the Central Synagogue, of which SIR DAVID was a member.

The funeral procession of the Alderman produced sensation in the City. Twentyfive mourning coaches and twenty private coaches followed the hearse which was drawn by four horses. A few policemen headed and followed the procession which passed amidst signs of respect through City streets. On reaching Aldgate, crowds were found awaiting approach of the procession.

At the Burial Ground at West Ham, large detachments of boys of the following schools, headed by draped banners and accompanied by masters were present: Westminster Jews' Free School, Jews' Free School, Jews' Hospital, Jews' Orphan Asylum and Gates of Hope School. The inmates of the Hand in Hand Asylum attended.

The Times makes the following reference to the death of SIR DAVID:- More than a passing notice is due to the late SIR DAVID SALOMONS, who closed an honourable life, after a lengthened illness, as briefly mentioned in the Times on the 19th. SIR DAVID SALOMONS was the first Jewish County Magistrate, first Jewish Sheriff and first Jewish Alderman and Lord Mayor. To his care to its interests are greatly due the success of the London & Westminster Bank and development and importance of joint-stock banks in London. SIR DAVID SALOMONS was a man of fine presence, and amiable and winning manners, and his kindness of heart made him beloved in many circles among whom he moved. He was fond of Art, and had an excellent collection of modern pictures. 25.7.1873

♦OBITUARY OF SIR DAVID SALOMONS, BART., MP. - Born 22 November, 1797 in Bury Street, Bevis Marks he died Friday evening last at his residence in Great Cumberland Place. The baronet was second son of the late LEVY SALOMONS, a merchant and underwriter at Lloyds and a member of a Jewish family long resident in the metropolis. His mother was MATILDA DE METZ of Leyden, Holland. 25.7.1873 (JW)

♦NOTICE TO CREDITORS - SIR D. SALOMONS, Bart., MP., Alderman of the City of London, late of Broom Hill, Tunbridge Wells, Kent & Cumberland Place, Hyde Park (who died at Cumberland Place 18th July, 1873 and whose Will with six Codicils was proved by SIR DAVID LIONEL SALOMONS, Bart. & ARTHUR WAGG, two of the Executors). - 5 September, 1873 - ROY & CARTWRIGHT, 4 Lothbury, London EC., Solicitors for Executors.

♦The will with six codicils of the late ALDERMAN SIR DAVID SALOMONS, Bart., MP. of Broom Hill, Cumberland Place & 14 Lothbury was proved on 27th ult. by the executors, SIR DAVID LIONEL SALOMONS, Bart., the Baronet's nephew, and ARTHUR WAGG. The personal estate was sworn under £160,000. The testator bequeaths presentation plate given him by the Jews for his exertions in the advancement of religious liberty to the Corporation of the City of London; presentation plate given him by the Jews when Lord Mayor, as the first Lord Mayor of that religion, to the master and wardens of the Worshipful Company of Coopers; £100 each to the following charities: the London Hospital, Consumption Hospital, Brompton, London Orphan Asylum, Watford, Tonbridge Wells Dispensary, Kent Dispensary at Greenwich, Jews' Bread, Meat & Coal Charity, Jews' Orphan Society, Baroness N.M. Rothschild's Lying-In Charity, Jews' Blind Society, Westminster Jews' Free School, Greek Street and the New Synagogue, Great St. Helen's; £50 each to the Truss Society, Infant Orphan Asylum, Wanstead, City Dispensary, Fatherless Children's Asylum, Jews' Infant School, Metropolitan Free Hospital, Portuguese Synagogue, Reform Synagogue of British Jews, and the Western Synagogue. To Jews' Free School £100 to be funded, and interest devoted to a gift in his name to the girl selected to recite the English Ode at the annual dinner; to Westminster Jews' School a house at Margate and a house at 59 Chepstow Place, Pembridge Square; incomes of the houses to be divided into three parts, and given as prizes, two as prizes for boys and one for girls; £1,000 Consols, the interest (£30) for affording to a boy trained at Jews' Free School and Westminster Free

School a superior education for three years, alternately at each school; to the Greenwich District Board of Works £100 for a drinking fountain to bear the testator's name as a memorial; to Jews' Free School £100 for its general funds. To the Corporation of London he leaves a £1,000, "The money to be expended in some memorial to me in connection with the proposed new Library and museum". There are many legacies and rembrances to relations, friends and servants, and provision is made for his wife, LADY CECILIA SALOMONS. The Testator leaves the residue of his property to his nephew and successor in the baronetcy, DAVID LIONEL SALOMONS. 12.9.1873

♦MR. ELLIS A. DAVISON has written a letter to the Echo regarding SIR DAVID SALOMONS. 3.10.1873

HENRY SAMUEL
MR. HENRY SAMUEL, on retiring from SANDERS & CO., has presented 200 guineas for distribution among four charities - two Jewish and two Christian. MR. SAMUEL is a son of the late MOSES SAMUEL of Liverpool, whose literary services and proofs of devotion to the Jewish cause are well known. 10.5.1872
♦On Tuesday a complimentary dinner was given at the London Tavern by friends of HENRY SAMUEL, on his retiring from SANDERS & CO. The chair was taken by Digby Seymour, QC.; amongst the company was Mr. D. Chinery, Minister of Liberia. A numerous gathering of Christian visitors from all parts of the United Kingdom assembled for the purpose of testifying their esteem for MR. SAMUEL. After dinner, the chairman alluding to MR. SAMUEL's earlier career, remarked he had worthily followed the example of his esteemed father. The chairman expressed his pleasure at being present to do honour to one who had "won his laurels" by exercise of integrity and perseverance. MR. SAMUEL responded in feeling terms. He expressed the pleasure he experienced his friends should have chosen the day of the coming of age of his eldest son. The chairman, on behalf of MR. H. SAMUEL, handed cheques of 50 guineas each to the chairman of the City of London Hospital for Diseases of the Chest, to the representative of the City Dispensary, to MR. E. ALEX, in aid of the Jewish Board of Guardians, and to MR. S. SOLOMON for the Institution for the Relief of the Indigent Blind. The proceedings were enlivened by music. 24.5.1872

MR. HENRY SAMUEL, of Redcliffe Gardens, Kensington has celebrated the occasion of his son's attaining his 21st year by a series of munificent donations to charity. 16.5.1873
♦The children of Jews' Hospital on Monday were regaled with additions to their ordinary fare at dinner and tea; the evening was devoted to a series of amusements. The children before retiring gave repeated cheers for their benefactor. - At Jews' Orphan Asylum MR. H. SAMUEL and his son, ALBERT H. SAMUEL, gave the superintendent £2 to be distributed among the children as pocketmoney. MR. H. SAMUEL placed in the hands of the treasurer a sum sufficient to give the children a day's excursion into the country. The girls at the Work Rooms of the Jewish Board of Guardians were regaled, after work hours, with chocolates and cakes. - The young ladies engaged as teachers in Jews' Free School, and female attendants, enjoyed ice and cakes, after school hours. - 268 children were regaled with plum puddings in addition to ordinary dinners at "Penny Dinners". A number of free dinners were distributed. All these "treats" were given by HENRY SAMUEL in honour of his son's majority. 23.5.1873

ELIAS SAMUELSON
At the meeting held in the Vestry Room 13th January, 1874 it was proposed and seconded the following address be presented to MR. E. SAMUELSON on his leaving Dublin for London: Synagogue Chambers, Mary's Abbey, Dublin, 5 February, 1874 - To ELIAS SAMUELSON Esq. - Dear Sir, We cannot allow the occasion of your leaving Dublin to pass over without expressing to you our deep regret at losing so valued and respected a member of our community. We feel assured success must follow such industy, perseverance and honourable conduct as you have displayed. We bid you farewell in the hope we shall have opportunities of enjoying your society and friendship. We are, dear sir, for the Dublin Hebrew Congregation ALFRED W. HARRIS, President, WOLF COHEN, Vice-President 13.2.1874
♦DUBLIN - This declining congregation has suffered a fresh blow by removal of one of its oldest and most active members, MR. E. SAMUELSON, who will reside in London. MR. SAMUELSON, during his thirtythree years residence in Dublin, gained the esteem of all who knew him. He served the congregation twice as president, when by his thorough business habits materially contributed towards its financial success. Its members unanimously resolved to present MR. SAMUELSON with an address. MR. WOLF COHEN, Warden and JOHN D. ROSENTHAL, deputy, made the presentation in the presence of members and ministers on Monday. MR. ROSENTHAL expressed the unanimous regret of the congregation in losing so estimable a member. MR. DE GROOT followed.
MR. ROSENTHAL handed to MR. SAMUELSON, on behalf of friends and coreligionists, an elaborately chased and appropriately inscribed silver claret jug, as a token of esteem and friendship. 13.2.1874

♦SIR A.D. SASSOON, desirous of commemorating his presiding at the distribution of prizes at the Gates of Hope Schools, has provided £300 to be invested to establish a prize in honour of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE, to be given annually to the most proficient and best conducted boy in the school. It will be called the Montefiore Prize. 1.8.1873
♦In accordance with a resolution passed by the Common Council of the City of London, the Freedom of the City was yesterday presented to SIR ALBERT D. SASSOON, CSI. The presentation took place in the Council Chamber at the Guildhall. The Lord Mayor took the chair at 1 o'clock, and shortly after SIR ALBERT SASSOON arrived, and was followed by a deputation from the Fishmongers' Company. There was a full attendance of Aldermen and Councillors, and every vacant space was filled by the public. This is the first time an East India merchant has been admitted to the honour. Among those present, we observed Rev. the Chief Rabbi, Rev. Dr. Artom, Rev. Dr. H. Adler. 7.11.1873
♦He has followed the footsteps of his late father, whose benevolence caused him to be loved and revered. 7.11.1873 (JW)
♦The last number of the Illustrated London News contains an illustration of the gold casket presented to SIR ALBERT SASSOON by the Corporation of London on 6th inst. 14.11.1873 (JW)
♦The Echo, when referring to the presentation, observes "The City of London among the most graceful deeds has done not the least graceful in honouring SIR ALBERT SASSOON. Time was when an Indian Jew, receiving the Freedom of the City of London, would have seemed to our ancestors the most impossible of impossible things". 14.11.1873 (JW)
♦The Graphic contains illustrations in connections with presentation of the freedom of the City to SIR ALBERT D. SASSOON, CSI. 21.11.1873

ISAAC SCHWABE
THE JEWISH POOR OF LIVERPOOL - To the Editor of the Jewish World - Sir, Will you allow me to call the attention of your readers to the following fact? In Dean Road Cemetery in this town, there was buried on Sunday, 21st ult., the Dutch Jew, SCHWABE. This fellow died in the workhouse without any of his coreligionists attending him in his last moments. There are several Jews in the workhouse who are never visited by any of their coreligionists except by a benevolent gentleman. - "Young Israelite" Liverpool, March 1, 1875
♦To the Editor of the Jewish World - Sir, Referring to the letter of "a young Israelite", permit me to say SCHWABE was in the infirmary of Liverpool workhouse for two months. During that period he was occasionally visited by REV. J. PRAG, REV. M. JOSEPH and others, and was regularly supplied with kosher food. On the Thursday morning - the day of his death - SCHWABE mentioned to the girl who took him his breakfast he would like to see her father, ISRAEL MYERS. MYERS was away from home, but on his return, later in the day, he proceeded to the workhouse, where he found SCHWABE was dead. The corpse was removed to the mortuary of Deane Road Cemetery (Jewish burying ground), and tended to by members of "Tahara Hebra", of which I am Secretary. The funeral was conducted with every mark of decency and respect. I am, Sir, yours obediently, RALPH ROBINSON, Lime Street, Liverpool 12.3.1875
♦To the Editor of the Jewish World - Sir, Your issue of 5th inst. contains a communication from a "young Israelite" which does little justice to ministers of this congregation for their constant attention to wants of the poor - and to the community at large. Doubtless your correspondent was not aware ministers visit hospitals weekly. The case referrred to, viz., that of the late ISAAC SCHWABE, received their particular care. Kosher meals were daily supplied to him, and copies of Jewish periodicals were sent to him. The day previous to his decease one of the ministers had visited him. I may state Executives of the Congregation receive monthly reports from their ministers regarding the sick poor in hospitals. I am, Sir, your respectfully, H.M. SILVER, Secretary, Liverpool Old Congregation March 8, 1875
♦Sir, Two letters appeared in your issue of 12th instant. MR. ROBINSON says "SCHWABE mentioned to the girl who took him breakfast he would like to see her father". The truth is the man received no meals from outside of the workhouse except his dinner. In neither of the letters do I find any mention made SCHWABE, some hours after his death, was washed and shaved by inmates of the workhouse. MR. SILVER says kosher meals were daily supplied to SCHWABE, and copies of Jewish papers sent to him. He received one kosher meal per day, and as for Jewish papers, he asked Jewish officials who visited him to send him some, but he was not supplied with a journal. There is in the workhouse infirmary an aged Jew who is totally disabled by a paralytic stroke, and during the time he has been located there ten years), he has not received a kosher meal or tasted a Passover cake. Yours, etc. another young Israelite March 16, 1875
♦To the Editor of the Jewish World - Sir, ISAAC SCHWABE died at about 12 o'clock on February 18 and in the evening the body was removed to the Jewish Cemetery and properly watched. MR. ISRAEL MYERS was with the man at 8 o'clock the night previous and would have stayed the night had he thought the end so near. It may be mentioned MR. SCHWABE was at first a patient in the Royal Infirmary, from whence he was taken to the Workhouse Hospital - this is frequently done when the former institution is full. An application was made by REV. MORRIS JOSEPH to authorities of the London Jewish Home for his admission, but a reply was received stating the necessities of the case could not be attended to there. One of your correspondents stated kosher dinners only were sent in daily to the man. Did he wish kosher breafasts, teas and suppers to be taken in? He states no Jewish papers were given to him. The Ministers took them to him. This correspondent affirms there is a MR. FRIDMAN, a Jew, in the workhouse Hospital. This man has been regularly visited by REV. JACOB PRAG, and by several members of the congregation. Kosher dinners have been offered, but he has preferred money. The Executive hope for the future inquiry may be made before publishing unfounded assertions of meddling young individuals. Your respectfully, H.M. SILVER, Secretary, Liverpool Old Hebrew Congregation March 18, 1875

HARRIS SECONSKI
At Assizes, held at Leeds, before Mr. Justice Field, HARRIS SECONSKI, a tailor's presser, was indicted for breaking into the synagogue, Belgrave Street, and stealing a wine cup, a spice bottle and two boxes, property of JACOB SLOMAN, on 22nd September. Mr. V. Thompson appeared for the prosecution, and proved by evidence of ISRAEL HARRIS, keeper of the synagogue, the articles used in worship were missed by him on the morning of. During the night an entrance had been effected by means of a heap of refuse soil in the rear of the building. On 13th October the prisoner took to the shop of Mr. Hammond, pawnbroker in Leeds, the cup. He could not speak English, and the witness refused to have anything to do with the article. Seeing the prisoner talking to a young woman in the street, he called him into the shop and asked him to let him look at the cup again, and the witness observed upon it the inscription, "the Hebrew Congregation". He noticed the cup had been subjected to the action of a fire, and having a neighbour who was a member of the Jewish congregation, he consulted him. That person's name was TANENBERG, and he obtained from the prisoner the spice bottle, and it was found to have upon it TANENBERG's name as the silversmith who had presented it to the synagogue. The prisoner's defence was he had found the property in an adjoining street, and suspecting it had been stolen was afraid to acknowledge his possession. The Judge passed a verdict of 6 months' imprisonment with hard labour. 12.11.1880

CHARLES SEMON
Through the liberality of CHARLES SEMON, JP. of Bradford & Broughton Hall, near Skipton, a convalescent home for 60 inmates has been erected on the verge of Rembald's Moor, near Ilkley, Wharfedale, Yorkshire at a cost of £8,000. The home is intended for the use of poor people from all parts of the country, to enable them to promote a spirit of independence and strength lost in illness. With a view to promote the spirit of independence, and to relieve the home from the appearance of a charity, a small sum is charged weekly to each patient. The home, which is to be opened for admission of patients on 3rd August, stands in the centre of five acres of land, which will be laid out as pleasure grounds. - Pall Mall Gazette - MR. SEMON is a member of the Jewish community. 6.8.1875
♦MR. CHARLES SEMON, a merchant of Bradford, last year erected and opened at Ilkley a home for the reception of convalescent patients. He recently proposed to vest it in the Corporation, together with £3,000 as a fund for working expenses, and the Town Council at a meeting agreed to accept the trust. The Scheme of the Institution provides no restriction on account of religion shall be made. It provides there shall be provided for private use of patients copies of the scriptures and prayer books. Religious ministration will be permitted in a separate room, and any patient unable to walk to a place of worship may be carried to and fro in a conveyance at the expense of the institution. 21.7.1876
♦MR. CHARLES SEMON, one of the most prominent citizens of Bradford, died on 18th inst., at Tarasp, Switzerland, whither he had gone for benefit of his health. The deceased was much respected at Bradford. He was elected Mayor in 1874, was a Justice of the Peace and a Deputy-Lieutenant of the Riding. He was a member of the Chamber of Commerce from its commencement, and was for several years a member of Council of that body, and in 1871 was elected a Vice-President. The deceased was a munificent supporter of local institutions, in the management of which he took a prominent part. In 1874 he built a Convalescent Home at Ilkley, at a cost of £7,000. MR. SEMON interested himself in movements for improvement of the working classes. Although holding "advanced" views, MR. SEMON rendered service to the Jewish community. He interested himself in the formation of the Jewish Association at Bradford. We believe it was chiefly through MR. SEMON's interposition the Bradford Chamber of Commerce made representations to the Government on the proposed Romanian Commercial Treaty. As an indication of the esteem in which the deceased was held, the Bradford Observer devotes nearly a column and half to his obituary. He was born at Dentzic in 1814 and was 63 years of age when he died. 27.7.1877
♦The funeral of CHARLES SEMON took place at Bradford Jewish Burial Ground on Friday last. 3.8.1877
♦BRADFORD - The honours of a public funeral were granted to CHARLES SEMON, who recently made a gift to the corporation of a home for convalescents which he had erected, at the cost of £12,000. MR. SEMON has, it is said, bequeathed the sum amounting to between 30 and 40 thousand pounds for educational institutions in Bradford. 10.8.1877 (JW)
♦MANCHESTER - The late CHARLES SEMON has bequeathed Wardens of the Great (Old) Synagogue £500 to be invested in Consols, annuity interest arising to be divided for maintaining and keeping in repair the grave and tombstone of the testator's wife in Prestwich Cemetery, and the balance to be given to the poor. 6.9.1878 (JW)

MR. ISAAC SHAFFERAN, Hairdresser, 4 St. Anne's Court, St. James's was last week finally examined, charged with attempting to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. - The prisoner, who had been in hospital several weeks, appeared recovered. - Mr. Benson asked what had induced him to attempt to take his life. - The prisoner replied it was through mental distress arising from money matter. He had a wife and five children dependent on him, and though having lost much money, he would do his best to retrieve his position. He and his family had come from Australia, having considerable property, but difficulties overtook him. - Mr. Benson asked the accused's wife if she thought he could be released without danger. - MRS. SHAFFERAN said she would be happy to have him home again. The REV. S. LYON, of the Central Synagogue, said he had been in communiction with the prisoner and had no doubt of his repentance. - Mr. Benson discharged the prisoner. 15.12.1876 (JW)

ALBERT MARCUS SILBER
MR. A.M. SILBER of Wood Street, Cheapside has been elected an Associate of the Institute of Civil Engineers. This institution is exclusive, and elects members and associates on "personal knowledge". MR. SILBER is an active member of the United Synagogue Council and Board of Guardians. 23.2.1872
♦The ingenious lighting apparatus of MR. A.M. SILBER forms the subject of a long article in Monday's Times, headed "An Alternative for Gas". 20.12.1872
♦Our advertisement columns contain a notice of a company formed to carry into industrial effect patents of MR. SILBER. MR. SILBER has secured, under numerous Letters Patent, arrangements for carrying into effect the theory of burning vegetable and mineral oils for illuminating and heating purposes. 17.1.1873
♦A favourable notice of MR. SILBER's lamps and lighting system appears in the Railway News. 31.10.1873
♦MR. A.M. SILBER has been elected a member of the Royal Institution. 13.3.1874 (JW)
♦At the levee on Monday, held by H.R.H. the Prince of Wales on behalf of the Queen, ALBERT MARCUS SILBER was presented by Sir Thomas Biddulph. 5.6.1874
♦A meeting of scientific gentlemen and others took place at the London Tavern on Saturday evening to witness a series of experiments to demonstrate progress made in application of the SILBER system of lighting, and to hear an address from MR. A.M. SILBER upon advantages of his discoveries. MR. SILBER's address was much applauded throughout, and at his conclusion Lord John Hay proposed a vote of thanks to him which was carried with acclamation. At conclusion of the meeting a sumptuous dinner was served. 17.7.1874
♦Among liverymen of the spectacle makers of the City of London is MR. A.M. SILBER. 28.8.1874

M. SILBER
MR. M. SILBER has presented a handsome drinking fountain with dog trough to the parish of St. Alban, Wood Street, Cheapside. The Fountain, which is in granite, has been erected in the church at Wood Street. The Vestry of the Parish have passed a vote of thanks to MR. SILBER. MRS. HENRY SIMMONS
A Jewish woman named SIMMONS has mysteriously disappeared from her home in Manchester. Her disappearance is not accounted for. 20.12.1872
♦We regret to learn the paragraph relating to MRS. SIMMONS of Manchester in last week's Chronicle has given pain to relatives of that lady, who, we are informed, is an esteemed member of a respectable family. Her disappearance is attributed to depression of spirits consequent on the sudden death of an infant. 27.12.1872
♦Found drowned in River Mersey, near Manchester, late of Manchester. Aged 33 years. Only daughter of LEWIS HARRIS, Dublin. Her remains were removed to Dublin and interred this morning by the side of her mother. God rest her soul. 18 June, 1873
♦We mentioned in an earlier number a lady of Manchester, wife of MR. SIMMONS, a member of a respected family, had, to the distress of numerous relatives and friends, been missing from home. This lady had been ill, and had suffered a bereavement. Every effort was made to discover her by her family. We regret to state the body of the lady has been found in the River Mersey. 20.6.1873

SERJEANT SIMON
On Saturday a presentation was made by SERJEANT SIMON, MP. for Dewsbury, to the Serjeant Simon Lodge, of the Independant Order of Foresters, at the Royal Oak Hotel, Dewsbury. The presentation was a portrait of the member, which as a likeness is the best we have seen. The artist is WALTER GOODMAN of 22 Lancaster Road, Westbourne Park, London. It is enclosed in a superb gilt frame. - Dewsbury Chronicle 24.11.1871
♦MR. SERJEANT SIMON, MP., attended the soiree of Dewsbury Mechanic's Institution on Thursday, 24th ult., when he delivered an address on the value of Mechanic's Institutions. 1.11.1872
♦On Thursday, 9th inst., SERJEANT SIMON, MP. laid the foundation stone of a new school to be erected in Carlton Road, Dewsbury, under auspices of Dewsbury School Board. The gentleman delivered an address, in which he reviewed subjects of education. The remarks were much applauded. 17.1.1873

♦MR. SERJEANT SIMON's address to Jewish working men has been published in a pamphlet form by request. 9.5.1873

♦At a meeting of the Town Council of Dewsbury, held on 3rd inst., a vote of condolence was passed to SERJEANT SIMON, MP., on the death of his son. A letter of condolence was sent by SERJEANT SIMON's Executive Committee. 13.6.1873

♦MR. SERJEANT SIMON, MP. for Dewsbury, presided at the banquet of Dewsbury District Licensed Victuallers' Association last week. 31.10.1873

♦The Law Times, in an editorial leader referring to promotion on the Common Law Bar to the Bench, says SERJEANT SIMON has proved in the House of Commons his capacity for dealing with local reforms, and his promotion would be approved by the profession by whom he is held in great esteem. 20.2.1874

♦A banquet to celebrate the return of SERJEANT SIMON for Dewsbury was held at the Royal Hotel, Dewsbury on Friday evening last. The toast of MR. SIMON's health was enthusiastically received. 20.3.1874 (JW)

♦MR. SERJEANT SIMON, MP. headed a successful deputation to the Home Secretary on Monday, with reference to the Fines, Fees & Penalties Bill. 1.5.1874

♦The Honorary Society of Serjeants Inn have appointed SERJEANT SIMON, MP. a member of the Incorporated Council of Law Reporting for England & Wales. 12.6.1874 (JW)

♦The Jewish Messenger contains an argument on the distribution of prizes at Jews' Free School, headed "A Lesson from London". The writer speaks highly of SERJEANT SIMON's address and his advocacy of Hebrew instruction. 31.7.1874

♦MR. SERJEANT SIMON, MP. has presented to the House of Commons a petition in favour of Women's Suffrage from the Executive Committee of the Women's Weavers Association of Dewsbury. 19.3.1875 (JW)

♦MR. SERJEANT SIMON, MP. introduced the deputation from the Anti-Slavery Society which waited upon Lord Carnarvon on Wednesday. 19.11.1875

♦SERJEANT SIMON, MP. addressed his constituents last week and delivered a speech in which he alluded to the Eastern Question and supported the view of Mr. Gladstone as to actions of the governement. The local journals speak in appreciatory terms of the speech. 27.10.1876

♦To the Editor of the Jewish World - Sir, I have always been under the impression the Jewish World was a non-political journal and must protest against the article termed "The Political Inconsistencies of SERJEANT SIMON, MP." I assert he is no more responsible to the Editor of the Jewish world for the political opinions he holds, and votes he gives in Parliament, than he is to that gentleman for the cut of the coat he wears. No man has more eloquently defended his foreign brethren than he has, but in giving his votes to Parliament, he does not ask himself whether he will benefit Jews of other countries, but the Imperial interests of England guide him. Yours obediently, MOSES MOSES, 79 Marquess Road, Canonbury 26.4.1878 (JW)

♦MR. SERJEANT SIMON has issued an address to electors of Dewsbury, in which he says if he comes forward for re-election at dissolution he desires to be the candidate of the Liberal party. He will not go into Parliament for the Borough unless he goes as representative of the bulk of the party. 6.9.1878 (JW)

♦A small synagogue has been opened in Oxford. On Sunday OSWALD J. SIMON, of Balliol College, (son of SERJEANT SIMON, MP.) delivered a sermon. 18.10.1878

♦The speech delivered by SERJEANT SIMON, MP. in the House of Commons on 18th ult., in moving rejection of the bankruptcy Bill, has been republished in pamphlet form. The serjeant gave an historical sketch of operations of bills sanctioned by Parliament. 1.8.1879 (JW)

♦BIOGRAPHICAL DETAILS OF JEWISH CANDIDATES IN THE FORTHCOMING ELECTION - MR. SERJEANT SIMON - The member for Dewsbury has for eleven years been an active and useful member of Parliament. He is only son of a Jamaican family and was born on December 9th, 1818 at Montego Bay. He was educated at University College, and in 1841 graduated as LL.B. at the University of London. In 1842 he was called to the bar at Middle Temple, and practised for many years at Liverpool. Coming to London in 1856 he entered into a large practice, and when Dr. Bernard was prosecuted for complicity in the Orsini conspiracy he was retained as Second Counsel. In 1864 he was created a Serjeant-at-law, and four years later secured a Patent of Precedence from Lord Chelmsford. In 1866 he offered himself as a candidate for Parliamentary representation of Nottingham, but to prevent a division in the Liberal interest retired. In 1868 he was elected for Dewsbury, and was re-elected in 1874. SERJEANT SIMON has always been an ardent promoter of every measure which he regards as beneficial to his co-religionists. He was an active colleague of SIR FRANCIS GOLDSMID in the establishment of the Reform Synagogue, and in Parliament has been foremost in advocacy of rights and privileges of Jews. In 1843 he married RACHEL, daughter of MR. T.K. SALAMAN. 19.3.1880 (JW)

On Friday last at Station Hotel, Batley, MRS. SIMON, wife of SERJEANT SIMON, MP., was presented with a handsome testimonial by ladies of St. John's Ward, Dewsbury, consisting of a splendid electro fish service, suitably engraved. Mrs. Balmsforth made the presentation, assuring the respondent how spontaneously the gift had spring from the hearts of that part of the borough, and how, through her, they hoped to reap a harvest of good things in the political labours of SERJEANT SIMON. MRS. SIMON said she would cherish the present and hand it down as an heirloom to her children, in memory of affectionate regard manifested to SERJEANT SIMON and herself. 16.4.1880 (JW)

♦NEW WEST END SYNAGOGUE - A meeting of this congregation, whose synagogue in Petersburgh Place, Notting Hill is in course of erection, was held on 26th ult. The meeting, convened for election of a minister and a reader and secretary, was numerously attended. The selection resulted in the almost unanimous appointment of REV. S. SINGER to the post of Minister. The REV. S. SINGER was trained at Jews' College. For eleven years he has efficiently discharged duties of Minister to the Borough Synagogue, in which capacity he has won the esteem and affection of his congregation. By all classes of the commuinity he has long been regarded as one of the most genial and promising of our metropolitan preachers. 4.10.1878 (JW)
♦A large number of members of Borough Synagogue, together with their friends, assembled last Sunday to witness presentation of a testimonial to REV. S. SINGER on his retiring from the post of minister to the congregation. So large was the gathering it was found necessary to adjourn from the schoolroom to the synagogue. The presentations were, as a consequence, conducted with an absence of demonstration of feeling. In his observations JOHN A. COHEN, Warden, referred to the long and pleasant connection which had existed between REV. MR. SINGER and the synagogue, whereby that gentleman had secured the esteem and affection of everyone with whom he was brought into contact. After observations, the Chairman handed the testimonial to MR. SINGER. It consisted of a purse of 120 guineas, together with an illuminated and framed address. There was a beautifully chased silver card case bearing an inscription, the gift of colleagues, and which was accompanied by a letter, expressive of their esteem. MR. SAUL SOLOMON eulogised the reverend gentleman, who deprived himself of his labour and rest in order to tend the sick and needy. MR. EDWARD A. COHEN thought some credit was due to MRS. SINGER for her readiness to be of service to the congregation. 7.3.1879 (JW)

♦In consequence of the appointment of REV. S. SINGER to the post of Minister of the New West End Synagogue, he has resigned the post of Master at Jews' College School, which he has beld for many years. On Thursday afternoon a testimonial was presented to him by masters, students and pupils, as a token of the affection and regard in which he is held by them. The testimonial consisted of a silver salver, a Kiddush-cup and spice-box for Habdalah, together with an illuminated address. MR. SINGER feelingly addressed his former colleagues and pupils. 14.3.1879

We have received a letter from REV. S.H. HARRIS, Minister of Newcastle Hebrew Congregation, with reference to a hasty burial at Newcastle. He denies he was civilly requested to withdraw when he protested against the child being buried with indecent haste. He was treated in an unbecoming manner, approaching almost to violence. MR. HARRIS forwards us a letter from the medical gentleman who attended the child to prove the body was buried within four hours of its being alive. The wardens were indignant at the unseemly proceeding and they will take measures to prevent recurrence of hasty burials. The medical gentleman makes the following remarks: "SARAH SMITH died about 1.30 p.m. on March 3, and was buried about 5 p.m., as was said, at my request. I beg to state I never gave such an order." 24.3.1876

Death 7.2.1874, aged 39, beloved wife of MICHAEL SNAPPER and niece to MR. WAGNER of Tavistock Street. Her loss is deeply mourned by her husband and family.

RABBI SNEERSOHN
RABBI SNEERSOHN, who is in a pitiful condition, is compelled to appeal to his friends for relief in his extremity. His desire is to earn his living in this land of liberty by the sweat of his brow, or return to Jerusalem, and live there to the last days on charity, like the rest of his fellow countrymen. R.S. trusts his appeal will not be made in vain, and his friends will save him from a life of starvation. He acknowledges with thanks the following donations:- DAVID COHEN £2, R.S. HEILBUT £1, - HYAMS Esq. £1, S. BEYFUS 10s. All contributions will be thankfully received by him at 47 Great Prescott Street, Goodmans Fields, London. 9.6.1876 (JW)

On Sunday, the 85th anniversary of MR. SOLOMON's birthday, his old pupils presented to him a testimonial consisting of an address, beautifully illustrated and framed, a silver salver, and a purse containing 1,000 guineas. At the ceremony, evening service was read by Rev. Prof. Marks, at the conclusion of which MR. SOLOMON entertained his old pupils at dinner. The following is the inscription on the salver: "'Forsau et oec olim meminisse juvabit.' MR. H.N. SOLOMON on his 85th birthday from his grateful old pupils as a token of their affectionate regard and esteem, December 20, 1880." We are not aware of an instance where a schoolmaster has received from his "old boys" so magnificent a gift, and never a testimonial promoted so quietly and with so little display, and where feelings of the recipient were so appreciated. 24.12.1880

HANNAH SOLOMON
Marriage 9.1.1872 at Dawlish, by Rev. M.B. Levy of the Western Synagogue, London, assisted by Rev. L. Canter of same place, second daughter of LEON SOLOMON of Dawlish, Devon, to LEWIS H. SAMUEL of Beaufort Road, Edgbaston, Birmingham.
◆The Exeter & Plymouth Gazette contains a long account of a Jewish marriage at Dawlish. A daughter of LEON SOLOMON was the bride. On the wedding day the Post Office, hotels, principal shops, and parts of the town were decorated with banners, and crowds collected at the house in which the marriage was performed. The munificence of the bride's family occasioned an intense effect in Dawlish. The following extract is proof: "MR. SOLOMON presented £10 to the vicar of Dawlish for distribution among the needy. A dinner was given to workmen, railway employees and ringers (who had peeled church bells loudly all day). The company numbered 60. Dawlish never witnessed such a wedding." 26.1.1872

At Thames Police Court on Saturday, JOSEPH SOLOMON was charged with stealing two silver-laced scarves from the East London Synagogue, Stepney Green. At 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon, REV. H. MILLEM, Second Reader of the Synagogue, saw the prisoner enter the synagogue and take two scarves out of a seat. Information was given to the police and Francis King, a constable, took the prisoner into custody. At the station two scarves were found concealed in his trousers, which was identified by two gentlemen belonging to the congregation as their property. An umbrella was found on him, and on telling him the charge, he said, "I am very sorry. I have been out of work for some time." He accounted for his possession of the umbrella by stating he purchased it at Stratford five weeks ago, and had left Sheffield two or three days since. - Mr. Lushington remanded the prisoner for inquiries. 24.1.1879

♦Death 26.3.1876 at his residence 78 Oakley Road, Islington, of 37 Duke Street, Aldgate, aged 72. Forty years Secretary of Jews' Hospital, Norwood.
♦We regret to announce the death, on Sunday morning, of SAMUEL SOLOMON. By those who could appreciate zealous services of a faithful, conscientious executive officer, the death of MR. SOLOMON will be lamented. His father was principal of an educational establishment at Lea, and he is remembered with affection and respect by his surviving pupils. Two of his brothers were head masters of Jews' Free School. His eldest and only surviving brother, MR. H.N. SOLOMON (of Edmonton) was, we believe, the first to preside over that institution, and is connected with the Free School as an honorary member of Committee. The deceased was Secretary to Jews' Hospital, for forty years in the executive duties of which institution he took an active part; he was Secretary of the Jews' Free School, Institute for the Relief of the Indigent Blind, Philanthropic Society for Relief of Distressed Widows, Hand-in-Hand Asylum, Widows' Home Asylum and Collector of the Great Synagogue, all of which offices he filled for many years to the satisfaction of managers of the institutions and with credit to himself. His zeal for the benefit of charities of which he was so able an officer resulted in securing substantial aid and in adding to their coffers valuable bequests. His experience, advice and assistance so far as duties permitted, were frequently and cheerfully given to institutions other than those with which he was connected. His funeral took place on Tuesday, and was attended by representatives of institutions with which the deceased was connected. 31.3.1876
♦The Tombstone consecration of MR. S. SOLOMON of 37 Duke Street, Aldgate & 78 Oakley Road, Islington will be set 2.7.1876 at West Ham.
♦The public are informed MR. P. VALLENTINE, Bookseller, has purchased the stock total and contents, also goodwill of business, of the premises 37 Duke Street, Aldgate, lately carried on by my late lamented father SAMUEL SOLOMON. SARAH SOLOMON, May 3, 1876 (JW)

Death 16.8.1873 after a lingering illness, at his residence, Pine Apple Lodge, Peckham Rye, Surrey, and many years established in Covent Garden Market, in the 82nd year of his age. Deeply respected by all who knew him.
♦On Tuesday in the Chancery Division, before Sir H. Malins, a question was tested in the case LEVY v SOLOMON, which arose under the will of SAMUEL SOLOMON, of Covent Garden. By his will MR. SOLOMON left part of his property to children of his son CHARLES. They were eight in number, three of them having been born before the marriage of their parents and five after. There were provisions in the will beneficiaries were only to take if they were of the Jewish persuasion and, if married, were married according to Jewish ordinance. - The Vice Chancellor said the case was clear. There was a gift to children of the testator's son CHARLES. Three of these, according to the law of England, were illegitimate. He had no doubt the testator did intend all eight children of his son CHARLES to take under the will, as according to Jewish law they were legitimate. The rule was if there were or might be legitimate children illegitimate children were excluded. Here the testator was a domiciled Englishman. There were five children to answer the description in the will. The remaining three, though legitimate according to their own law, must be regarded as illegitimate and could not take any share under the gift in the will. 27.7.1877
♦The parties married at Eiselstein, in Holland, in 1859. The lady happened to be a Christian previous to her marriage, but she became a convert to Judaism. 3.8.1877 (JW)

SIMEON SOLOMON
THE ROYAL ACADEMY - The first picture which takes our attention is a work by SIMEON SOLOMON, suggested by the verse: "The Law is a Tree of Life to those who lay hold of it. The supporters thereof are happy." The poetic character of the artist is portrayed in this picture. A young rabbi is represented in the interior of a synagogue, bearing sacred scrolls towards the holy ark. The picture is painted in a firmer hand than in other work we can remember by MR. SOLOMON. His talented sister, REBECCA, is absent from this year's Exhibition. 2.6.1871
♦Dark Blue contains an article on SIMEON SOLOMON, in which the great talents and brilliant genius of this poet painter are referred to in appreciative and eloquent language. 4.8.1871

DAVID SOMAN
Last Friday, at the age of four-score, MR. D. SOMAN of Norwich was called to his rest. For many years, until the last Festivals, he officiated voluntarily as assistant chazan, and died respected by Jews as well as Christians. The Norwich Argus gives the following sketch of the deceased: "Born to an old French Jewish family in 1793 at Epigal, Department des Voeges, his parents removed, when he was in his infancy, to Luneville, Alsace, but they dying of malignant fever when he had scarcely reached the age of 10, the lad commenced a tour through several European countries. He arrived in London in 1813. Here he met and married his cousin, ROSETTA, daughter of DANIEL SOLOMON, a master weaver carrying on a lucrative business in the East End. The couple shortly afterwards removed to this city, where the deceased started a boot and shoe trade, a manufacture almost unknown here. His business increased to such an extent others found it worth their while to follow; shoes became the staple trade of Norwich. MR. SOMAN was a man of genial temperament, and delighted in society of well read men, taking great interest in continental affairs. His house was open to poor refugees from Poland, Hungary, etc., many of whom owe their position to his hand. The deceased retired from business about eight years ago. On Sunday he was buried in the Jewish portion of the cemetery." 31.12.1875

RALPH SIGISMUND STRAUS
Death 7.11.1880, suddenly, at his residence, The Holme, Sedgley Park, Prestwich, of Manchester, in his 64th year.
♦The Jewish community of Manchester has to deplore the loss of one of its chief members in the death of RALPH S. STRAUS. A native of Frankfort-on-the-Maine, he had resided in England for nearly forty years. One of the founders of the Manchester Congregation of British Jews he was for many years its Treasurer. He served on the Committee of the Board of Guardians, and for a short time, until his health gave way, was president of the well-known Jews Schools. But he will be remembered more for his acts of private friendship and for the readiness with which he sought to alleviate distress. He was universally loved, and a large concourse of people of all ranks - and not of his own faith only - attended his funeral on Friday last. 19.11.1880
♦The deceased was for many years a partner, and, at the time of his death, head of the largest firm engaged in the cotton trade. To his sorrowing widow and children he leaves the heritage of a stainless name. 19.11.1880 (JW)

SWANSEA CHILDREN
To the Editor of the "Jewish Chronicle" - Sir, I feel assured I shall perform a duty incumbent upon every Jew by informing your correspondent of last week to whom the children (now in Swansea Workhouse) belong, in order they may be extricated from the dangerous position in which they are placed, ere it is too late.
The greatgrandfathers of the children are MR. STALL, Pawnbroker, of Treherbert, and JOSEPH BARNETT, Shipowner, of Grove Place, Swansea. There are two greatuncles, viz.: HENRY BARNETT, Shipowner, Pawnbroker & Moneylender of Heathfield Street, Swansea, and LOUIS BARNETT of Charlotte Street & Bute Street, Cardiff, who has loan offices in England and Wales; so you will perceive they are men of good position; the three latter are the most wealthy of the Jewish population of South Wales. I may mention they are men learned in Hebrew and who profess to be strictly religious. There is little time to be lost, as the children are of an age when they easily imbibe impressions. Trusting the Ecclesiastical Authorities will do the utmost to bring the religious to a proper sense of duty. I remain, Sir, yours obediently, a Jew. 23 July, 1877
♦It was not mentioned in our report of the General Council of subscribers to Jews' Hospital Orphan Asylum, Lower Norwood, held on 15th inst., reference was made to the case of two Jewish children in Swansea workhouse. The children have been deserted by their parents, with whom DR. ADLER has communicated, but they decline to recognise their liability. The Chairman (DR. BEHREND) explained the course which should be adopted to place the children in a Jewish institution under provisions of the Paupers' Removal Acts, and state if Wardens of Swansea congregation applied to the London Board of Guardians, no doubt they would give every advice and assistance needed. 27.7.1877
♦THE JEWISH CHILDREN IN SWANSEA WORKHOUSE - Sir, As I was the first to direct attention to the above, may I be permitted to inform all devout Jews of what one must hope and pray will be the conclusion of the disgraceful circumstances. The two deserted children are breathing the air of freedom, having been taken out of Swansea Workhouse on Friday last through direct intervention of our Chief Rabbi, DR. ADLER. He tried his utmost persuasions on MR. J. BARNETT, greatgrandfather, and on SIMON GOLDBERG and MR. H. BARNETT, granduncles of the two boys, but our Chief Rabbi could not move their hearts to perform their duty; so DR. ADLER has directed our minister to take charge of the two boys, with whom they are living.

Sir, will you allow me to thank you for your acts of kindness in allowing numerous letters and notes which have appeared in your paper on the case. I also give a word of commendation to a gentleman in Swansea - I allude to WOLF LYONS - who was first to unearth the two boys from the village where they were left by their parents. To him is due the felicity of preventing the soul-snatchers of Wales from parading what would have been their first victims here. Yours obediently, Attention - Swansea, August 19, 1877
♦We have received a communication (not for publication) from a correspondent on whose judgment and veracity we can place reliance in which were are informed the strictures made upon the father of the Jewish children removed from Swansea Workhouse are not justified. The father left England for the Cape to better his position. Before his departure he made provision for maintenance of his wife and children. The fault of desertion of the children rests with their mother. Our correspondent adds the relatives of the father - MESSRS. BARNETT & GOLDBERG - are men holding a respectable position, and have declined supporting the children for delicate reasons, which, if well founded, would go far towards justifying their conduct. 7.9.1877
♦The father of the children who were in Swansea Workhouse writes to us in a letter dated Kimberley Diamond Fields, October 27, 1877: Several letters which appeared in your paper accused me with having heartlessly deserted my children. When I left England MR. STALL promised me to take care of the boys, and be, as he stated, "a second father to them". When my wife deserted them, he placed the boys in the Union, and brought it to the notice of the Jewish public through the medium of your paper. I believe this was done to spite MR. I. BARNETT, without regard to my feelings. MR. RAPHAEL GOODMAN of Merthyr wrote to me, telling me to look into the paper and read the correspondence about the children. I did so, and I was sorry to see the boys were in the Union; I was glad to see some kind gentleman had taken them out, and just rescued them from conversion. I thank MR. STALL for bringing the affair to the notice of the public, as, not being in correspondence with any friends or relations in England, I would not have known anything about it. Immediately upon reading the correspondence, I forwarded money to MOSES GOODMAN for their support, and for placing them in a respectable school. I thank the gentleman who rescued them from conversion and the Union, and any expense he or any gentleman may have incurred I shall be happy to repay them on receipt of their statements. I am glad MR. I. BARNETT refused his assistance, as I do not wish to be under any obligation to him, as I am now in a position to maintain and educate my children myself, and can assure you, Mr. Editor, if I had known my children were reduced to such straite, I would not have allowed the matter to creep into the papers. 7.12.1877

PROFESSSOR J.J. SYLVESTER
PROF. SYLVESTER, celebrated mathematician, has received from the Government a slight which resounds to their discredit. He is a scientific man who, as the Times says, enjoys European celebrity. SYLVESTER was Second Wrangler of his year. But he being a Jew was debarred from receiving the Fellowship which he had gained. He became some years afterwards Professor of Mathematics at Woolwich (Military) Academy, and he was successful in his office. A Crown Commissioner suggested reforms in the government of the Institution. One recommendation was construed restrictively, and after nearly fifteen years service, in which the best portion of a valuable life was spent, the mathematician was suddenly dismissed with a pittance by way of pension. The Treasury economised £59.19s. per annum by dismissing SYLVESTER about six weeks before his fifteen years' service would have expired. SIR F.H. GOLDSMID called the attention of the House of Commons to the proceedings, and to quote the Times "Mr. Gladstone has acted wisely as well as justly in rectifying on close of the Session a lamentable departmental error." 18.8.1871
♦PROF. SYLVESTER writes to the Times although the Act allowed full pension to be awarded for special services Mr. Gladstone's concession afforded him a right to six weeks wanting to complete his fifteen years' service, which official oversight prevented him from fulfilling, and for the benefit of which he could only have been deprived by breach of public faith. 25.8.1871
♦CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY - The degree of MA. has been conferred on MR. J.J. SYLVESTER, BA. at St. John's College. MR. SYLVESTER was Second Wrangler in 1837, and Professor of Mathematics in the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich. Being a Jew, he was unable to proceed to BA. This year, his disability being removed, he proceeded to the degree of BA., and the University have granted him the degree of MA., in consideration of his learning and eminence as a mathematician. - Pall Mall Gazette 17.5.1872
♦In a Congregation of Cambridge University held on Thursday, 23rd inst., MR. J.J. SYLVESTER, BA. of St. John's College was presented by the Public Orator in a eulogistic Latin speech and was admitted to the degree of MA. (propter meritum) which was granted to him by Grace of the Senate of April 25. 31.5.1872
♦PROF. SYLVESTER has been elected a foreign honourary member of the American (US.) Academy of Arts & Sciences. 4.7.1873

♦PROF. SYLVESTER has made a discovery which is likely to create interest not only among mathematicians, but also amongst mecanicians and instrument makers. By means of a sort of lazy tongs he has succeded in converting spherical motion into plane motion, a result, we believe, hitherto looked upon as unattainable. This discovery formed the subject of a communication which MR. SYLVESTER laid before the London Mathematical Society at its Annual General Meeting on Thursday. - Nature 14.11.1873

♦PROF. SYLVESTER has been re-elected a member of Council of the Mathematical Society. At the last meeting of the Society the Professor spoke "on the fifteen Young Ladies" problem, and on a general Mathematical theory of Pure Syntax. 3.12.1875

♦On Wednesday the honorary degree of Doctor of Civil Law was conferred upon PROF. SYLVESTER by the University of Oxford. This is the first time the distinction has been bestowed upon a Jew. PROF. SYLVESTER was First Jewish Wrangler, but when he took the place of Second Wrangler at Cambridge in 1837 a declaration of beliefs of the articles of the Church of England was required upon candidates for the degree. This declaration PROF. SYLVESTER refused to make. He became an actuary. 11.6.1880

♦In our last impression we mentioned PROF. SYLVESTER was the first Jew to home the honorary degree of DCL. has been conferred by Oxford University. Another Jew, DR. SACKVILLE DAVIS, of the Indian Bar received the degree three years ago. 18.6.1880

♦Among grants made by the British Association was a vote of £40 to PROF. SYLVESTER for "Fundamental Invariations". 8.10.1880

♦The Copley Medal of the Royal Society has been awarded this year to PROF. SYLVESTER, FRS. for his investigations and discoveries in mathematics. 19.11.1880

♦Among members of the Senate of Cambridge University who had the honour of being presented to HRH. the Prince of Wales on 22nd inst. was DR. SCHILLER-SNIZZEY, MA., Reader in Rabbinical & Talmudical Literature. 25.1.1878
♦Christian Life says: "Everyone at Cambridge knows RABBI SCHILLER-SZINESSY, whose oriental learning is the pride of the University. But the RABBI is not only a profound Talmudist, he is a devout Jew. One of our friends asked him lately which is the best German translation of the Bible 'As they are all bad; Christianity falsifies all it touches.' 'But Rabbi, Christianity has civilised Europe.' 'Blessed', replied the rabbi, 'be God, for he ever bringeth good out of evil.'" 3.5.1878
♦MR. ALFRED S. SCHILLER-SZINESSY, aged 15, has passed the University Local Examinations for Juniors, obtaining marks of distinction for Greek and Latin. 18.7.1879

♦CAMBRIDGE - ALFRED SOLOMON SCHILLER-SZINESSY, eldest son of DR. SCHILLER SZINESSY, distinguished himself in Greek and Latin Prose and Verse Composition at the examination at Cambridge Public School. The examiner, in his report to the Governors, recommended him for their 1st prize, which was awarded to him. The Rev. The Guardians of Holborn Union have entered into contract with MR. TALLERMAN of Norton Folgate, for supply of 100 gallons of soup daily to the board of the Union. 13.1.1871
♦The Chimney Corner contains a portrait and biographical sketch of MR. TALLERMAN, whose name is principally associated with introduction of preserved Australian meat, which, it apears, has become an extensive import. The imports have risen from 4½ tons in 1866 to 3,640 tons in 1870. 16.6.1871
♦MR. D. TALLERMAN, of Cannon Street, obtained a gold medal at the Working Men's Exhibition for his collection of specimens of colonial produce. 22.3.1872
♦The Emperor of Austria has conferred upon DANIEL TALLERMAN of the Australian Meat Agency (TALLERMAN'S CO. LTD.) the Cross of the Order of Francis Joseph "for valuable services rendered by that gentleman to the world generally in promoting introduction of cheap food". The decoration of the order was received by MR. TALLERMAN on 9th inst. 12.12.1873
♦The Bee Hive of 26th ult. contains a portrait and biography of our coreligionist DANIEL TALLERMAN. The life of this man, passed in great measure in the unexplored wilds of the Antipodes, is very eventful. 8.1.1875 (JW)
♦On Thursday evening MR. D. TALLERMAN entertained delegates to the Trades Union Congress in Liverpool, and other gentlemen, interested in the welfare of the working classes, to a banquet of Australian meats. The company numbered nearly 350. A resolution was carried thanking MR. TALLERMAN for the opportunity he had afforded representatives of labour to form an opinion of Australian meats, and commending the caterer for his liberality and enterprise in giving test dinners in centres of labour and populous districts. 29.12.1875 (JW)
♦The Times of Friday last has published account of an organisation for reception of foreign meat in London by MR. D. TALLERMAN, managing director of the AUSTRALIAN MEAT AGENCY. The principal agent for preservation of fresh meat is a refrigerator, the artificial cold generated preserving nutritive quality of fresh choice imported from countries abounding in cattle. 16.2.1877
♦MR. D. TALLERMAN has turned his attention to experimental importations of fresh fish from Canada. This experiment has been successful. The business will be carried on a large scale, in conjunction with importation of fresh meat. The Cold Storage Wharf, Upper Thames Street, premises secured and adapted for the purpose of this combined trade, are extensive, and supplied with all appliances which science can suggest for preservation of meat and fish disposed of through ordinary channels of supply. 12.4.1878

♦Those who remember the numerous and valuable services rendered to the Jewish community by BARNARD VAN OVEN in days when communal workers were few and difficulties grappled with severe, will learn with interest of the death of his widow, who was for many years the sympathising companion and dearest friend, as well as attached wife of her intellectual and earnest husband. She was a gentlewoman of that graceful type which is by no means common. At one time MRS. VAN OVEN took active interest in Jews' Free School, being a member of the Ladies' Committee, and she manifested her sympathy with our institutions till within a few weeks of her death. She was firmly attached to her faith for which she made many sacrifices. MRS. VAN OVEN was mother of a gentleman whose services to the community, and especially to its educational establishments, have been long and favourably known, and are in accordance with traditions of her family. 17.4.1874

♦Death 16.12.1871 at his residence, 18 Warwick Crescent, Maida Hill, in the 63rd year of his age.
♦Our obituary of last week contained a notice of death of MORRIS VAN PRAAGH. MR. VAN PRAAGH was during a long period a warden of Hambro' Synagogue, and received recently a handsome testimonial from its members in recognition of his zeal and important services he had rendered. MR. VAN PRAAGH became, from its foundation, a member of Portland Street Synagogue, and he, with others, aided in founding Bayswater Synagogue. MR. VAN PRAAGH was before his synagogue in communal policy, and assisted by HENRY A. ISAACS in completing work this latter worker took in hand - the act of union. He became a warm friend of the Bayswater sacred edifice. MR. VAN PRAAGH was for many years a member of the Board of Deputies, and held office of its Treasurer. And not only in public, but in private life was he regarded with respect and affection. His manner was genial, and his bearing was gentle and considerate to those who were at the bottom of the social ladder; he not only held out a helping hand, but strove to make the recipient feel to receive aid was not degradation. 29.12.1871

WILLIAM VAN PRAAGH
MR. VAN PRAGH has issued a small pamphlet, under title "Plan for the establishment of Day Schools for the Deaf and Dumb", in which he advocates opening of schools with arrangements by which pupils could become boarders in families near the school so as to diminish isolation of the deaf and dumb, and to substitute "lip reading" for the finger alphabet. 14.7.1871
♦Marriage 14.2.1872 at the residence of the bride's brother, 40 Upper Bedford Place, by Rev. Dr. N.M. Adler, assisted by Revs. A.L. Green & S. Lyons, eldest son of S.W. VAN PRAAGH of Rotterdam, to EMILY, youngest daughter of the late MORRIS VAN PRAAGH of 18 Warwick Crescent, Maida Hill, W.
♦The London Mirror contains a notice of MR. W. VAN PRAAGH's system of oral instruction of deaf mutes, and alludes to the Jews' Deaf & Dumb Home, formerly under his directorship, and to the new association of which he is director. 11.10.1872 ♦Birth 20.8.1873 at 12 Fitzroy Square, W. a son.
♦The School Board Chronicle learns WILLIAM VAN PRAAGH's establishment in Fitzroy Square, under auspices of the Association for the Oral Instruction of the Deaf & Dumb, numbers close upon 40 pupils. The school is open to all classes, and to children of all denominations. Our contemporary is glad to record this sign of the times, MR. VAN PRAAGH having been first to publicly introduce the Amman system in this country. 9.1.1874

SIMON VIEYRA
An urgent appeal is made on behalf of SIMON VIEYRA, who has a wife and four young children dependent on him for support. He has been, for the last fourteen years, employed as foreman in a cigar factory, and, from no fault of his own, he has been discharged from his situation and reduced almost to abject poverty. Being nearly 60 years of age, he is incapable from following his vocation as cigarmaker, but would be able, with means and the intelligence he has of the trade, to earn a livelihood, and be enabled to keep himself and family in a respectable position. The Committee trust to be favoured with a generous response to this appeal, to enable them to place the recipient byond the reach of charity. 19.7.1878

Our readers will rejoice to learn the Lord Chancellor has appointed JACOB WALEY to be one of the six Conveyancing Counsel of the Court of Chancery. 10.2.1871

♦Last Thursday children of the Orphan Asylum were treated by the President, JACOB WALEY, to an excursion to Hampton Court. The day was showery, but the children enjoyed the trip. They were provided with an excellent dinner and a nice tea, and were thankful to their benefactor. 1.9.1871
♦At the recent meeting of the Statistical Society, PROF. JACOB WALEY was elected a member of Council, and one of the honorary secretaries of the Institution. 5.7.1872
♦MR. JACOB WALEY has been compelled to resign the post of President of the Anglo-Jewish Association owing to continued ill-health. 21.2.1873
♦Death 19.6.1873 at 20 Wimpole Street, one of the Conveyancing Counsel to the Court of Chancery. Aged 54.
♦JACOB WALEY was born in 1819. At an early age he showed promise of ability, and at the school to which he went in his boyhood, Mr. Neumengen's, then at Highgate. He was known among his compeers as the "clever boy". He went from his school to University College. Here he obtained honours. At the University of London he took his MA. degree in 1840. He won the Scholarship connected therewith. He gained the Flaherty Mathematical Scholarship on its first award. He passed the examination of the University as first in his year in classics and mathematics in 1859. When he took his degree in Mathematics and Natural Philosophy he gained the gold medal. He was, we believe, the second Jewish gentleman to be called to the English Bar.
He became President of Jews' Orphan Asylum. He took an active interest in the institution. He gained all suffrages by his amiability, for he had modesty. When the Anglo-Jewish Association was formed, he became its first President, but retired from the post. MR. WALEY took part of promotion of the Hebrew Literary Society and in other progressive communal movements. He was for a long period a member of Council of Jews' College, and he aided materially in the organisation of the Jewish Board of Guardians. But his crowning service to Jews of London was his labour in furthering formation of the United Synagogue. His work in framing the constitution was vital to its success. MR. WALEY was for many years Professor of Political Economy at University College, and his lectures were remarkable for their painstaking preparation and for the sound information which they contained. About three years ago he resigned the professorship, and was named Emeritus Professor by the Council of the College. Some idea may be given of the earnest character of MR. WALEY, when we mention he gave a portion of his time to delivery of interesting lectures at Jews' College and to Jewish Working Men and their families.
He was one of the most eminent conveyancers of his day. His knowledge of the law of real property was remarkable. He acted as conveyancing counsel for the great Bedford estates, and he was named by Her Majesty as a member of the Royal Commission appointed to consider the Law on Transfer of Real Property, in which his advice was of immense importance. He was regarded as a sound adviser in this branch of jurisprudence, in which his practice was large. He was joint editor of a well-known work on conveyancing precedents. MR. WALEY achieved the distinction of becoming one of the Conveyancing Counsel of the Court of Chancery.
MR. WALEY was a nephew by marriage of SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE and SIR DAVID SALOMONS. Profound, gifted, accomplished, he was retiring, gentle and amiable.
The funeral was largely attended. The boys of Jews' Orphan Asylum and inmates of the Hand-in-Hand Asylum were present at West Ham Cemetery.
The Times in referring to the late MR. WALEY states: MR. WALEY had long been recognised as one of the most learned of our Conveyancers. He served on the last Royal Commission of Transfer of Land, and his judgment contributed to determine the form of Report upon which the Lord Chancellor's Bill before Parliament is largely founded. MR. WALEY was occasionally summoned to argue cases involving different questions of real property, and he took a leading part in the argument on the case of the estates of Sir Francis Blake which attracted attention last winter. MR. WALEY was one of the joint secretaries of the Political Economy Club. MR. WALEY was beloved for his amiable and genial disposition.
The Rev. The Chief Rabbi, DR. ADLER, came from Dover, where he is staying, to attend MR. WALEY's funeral.
Notices appeared in the Pall Mall Gazette and other journals. We quote the following from the Solicitors' Journal:
MR. WALEY was articled to a member of a well-known firm of Solicitors, but after about a year of service he entered at Lincoln's Inn, and became a pupil of the late Lord Justice Rolt. Of his character, conscientiousness and charity in the widest sense were the most prominent features. 27.6.1873
♦The Free School Anniversary Dinner has been deferred in consequence of the death of JACOB WALEY, brother of MR. S.W. WALEY, Hon. Secretary of the Free School. 27.6.1873
♦In the Central Synagogue, REV. A.L. GREEN descanted on the virtues of MR. WALEY. In Bayswater Synagogue, REV. DR. H. ADLER spoke of the loss sustained by the community by the death of JACOB WALEY. 4.7.1873
♦The will of the late JACOB WALEY has been proved by executors, his widow, and his brother, MR. S.W. WALEY. The personalty was sworn under £50,000. Among legacies are £100 to the United Synagogue, £50 to Jews' Orphan Asylum, £50 to the Board of Guardians and £100 to be distributed in benevolent purposes. There are several bequests, and the residue of property is left to the widow, to be divided on her demise, as she may appoint, among her children. In reference to his copyright in Davidson's Precedents in Conveyancing, the testator requests his executors to pay deference to MR. DAVIDSON's views. 25.7.1873
♦NOTICE TO CREDITORS - JACOB WALEY Esq., late of 20 Wimpole Street, Cavendish Square & Lincoln's Inn, barrister-at-law, one of the conveyancing counsel of the Court of Chancery (who died at 20 Wimpole Street on or about 19 June, 1873) whose Will was proved by MATILDA WALEY, widow, and SIMON WALEY WALEY, Executors. 29 August, 1873 - SAMPSON, SAMUEL & EMANUEL, 36 Finsbury Circus, in the City of London, Solicitors for Executors

SIMON WALEY WALEY

The interesting ceremonial of confirmation of children of both sexes attracted on Thursday, 17th inst. a large congregation at Berkeley Street Synagogue. The confirmation was recited by children in English with great effect, and the young gentleman who led (we believe a son of SIMON WALEY) performed his part admirably. 25.6.1875 (JW)

♦Birth 24.8.1875 at 22 Devonshire Place, Portland Place, W. a son.

♦Death 30.12.1875 at 22 Devonshire Place, Portland Place aged 48.

The sense of personal bereavement caused by the death of SIMON WALEY WALEY will not be confined to his numerous acquaintances nor to the large family circle that belonged to him. The gentle mildness of his nature disposed him to moderate views and whatever he said was felt to be expression of a sound judgment and it was felt to be his sincere conviction.

His early death recalls to us the memory of his departed brother JACOB WALEY.

His election in 1870 on the Committee of the London Stock Exchange illustrates that, even outside the circle of our community, SIMON WALEY's abilities and excellence could not pass unnoticed. We are informed latterly, on the occasion of each annual election of that body, MR. WALEY's name stood always within one or two votes of the highest number recorded.

MR. WALEY's family had been established for many years in England. His greatgrandfather was RABBI SIMON WALEY, a wellknown personage, and one of whose daughters married MR. HORT. RACHEL HORT, second child of the latter gentleman, and an accomplished young lady, became wife of SOLOMON JACOB LEVY, who was a West Indian merchant of good property. MR. LEVY adopted the name of WALEY, settled in London, and became father of SIMON & JACOB WALEY. The subject of this notice was born on 23 August, 1827, and at an early age he displayed great musical ability. His career at University College was short, and he was removed from his Alma Mater before he could take a degree. His time was well spent, and of this he gave a proof at the age of 17, by writing a series of articles which were published in the Times, in advocacy of Boulogne as postal route between England and the Continent.

MR. SIMON WALEY had oportunity of winning friendship of a numerous circle, for under his father's hospitable roof were to gather musical, literary and other notabilities.

On entering the Stock Exchange soon after attaining his majority, MR. WALEY became a man of mark, and he was elected a member of the Committee, which position he held until his death. He joined the Reform Congregation at the time of succession, but he was moderate in his opinions, and continued to treat orthodox parties with respect. He took interest in Jewish charities and institutions, which he was ever ready to assist with his purse and influence. His death will be deeply felt in the Free School, of which he was honorary secretary for nearly a quarter of a century. The correspondence between the Free School Committee and Government Board of Education was managed by him. MR. WALEY married MISS SALOMONS, daughter of MR. P.J. SALOMONS, and he leaves eight children. Never robust, he succumbed within a few days of illness to what appeared to be a slight attack of diptheria.

Among MR. WALEY's accomplishments he excelled most in music, to which he devoted most of his leisure. He was a distinguished pianist and a successful composer. Some of the Sabbath and festive Psalms and hymns continue to be chanted in the West London Synagogue music composed by him. He was one of the most amiable, genial and kind-hearted of men.

Solemn and impressive was the scene presented on Monday at the Jewish cemetery at Ball's Pond. A detachment of children attending Jews' Free School, as well as those of the Orphan Asylum, attended at the cemetery with their banners draped in black.

PROF. MARKS, in an eloquent sermon, said "no-one ever knew MR. WALEY to do a bad act or to miss the opportunity of performing a good and useful one. His benevolence was spontaneous and expansive." 7.1.1876

♦To the Editor of the "Jewish Chronicle" - Sir, In your article on my friend, SIMON WALEY, I think you have scarcely given sufficient prominence to his musical ability. MR. WALEY studied the piano, I believe, principally under George Osborne, and not only distinguished himself as a pianist at musical parties held in his father's house, but achieved on his first appearance in public at the defuct Amateur Musical Society a great success. He subsequently at the same Society played a concert of his own.

MR. WALEY was a favoured pupil of the late eminent violinist, Bernhard Molique, and composed two trios for piano, violin and violincello.

Besides these works, he wrote a number of pieces for Piano Solo, and a great many songs.

Having had the honour of being on terms of intimate friendship with MR. WALEY for the last quarter of a century, his memory will always be held in affectionate remembrance by your obediently, J.D. Powle - May Park, Reigate January 11, 1876

♦The will and codicil of SIMON WALEY WALEY, who died at his residence, 22 Devonshire Place, Marylebone on 30th ult., were proved by his brothers-in-law JACOB QUIXANO HENRIQUES & JOSEPH PHILIP SALOMONS, and his friend and relative, BARON GEORGE DE WORMS, executors, the personal estate being sworn under £80,000. The testator bequeaths to the West London Synagogue of British Jews £500, Jews' Free School, Bell Lane, Spitalfields and University College Hospital, Gower Street £100 each. the Humane & Shipwreck Society, Boulogne-sur-Mer £60; the Board of Guardians for the Relief of the Jewish Poor, Royal Society of British Musicians, and Fund for Relief of Distressed Members of the Stock Exchange £50 each; to his executors £250 each; to his wife ANNA H. WALEY £1,000 and all his jewellery; £12,000 is left upon trust, income of which is to be applied for her benefit. These bequests are in addition of what she is entitled. The testator leaves his residence, with furniture, to his trustees, to be kept up by them at their discretion as a home for his wife and children. There are many legacies to relatives and friends to purchase memorials of him, and to his clerks and servants; the residue of his estate he leaves to his children in equal shares. - The City Press 28.1.1876

♦The grief felt in the death of MR. WALEY has not been confined to his own community. In many of the Jewish journals of the continent obituary notices have appeared. From Boulogne where he had displayed an interest in its institutions, addresses have been presented by the Chamber of Commerce, Municipal Council and Humane Society. The lastmentioned society has decreed the name of MR. WALEY shall stand at the head of the list of its benefactors, and a marble tablet shall be set up to record his deeds, so his name may be handed down to posterity as a true philanthropist. 11.2.1876

LOUIS D. WALFORD

Last week the boiler of an engine on the mill of MR. C.M. SIMON of Manchester (son of SERJEANT SIMON, MP.) was on the point of bursting, an accident which might have caused fearful loss of life. The cause was believed to be a defect in the feed, owing to autumnal fall of leaves in the water, which choked the pipe. It was needful

for someone to enter the water-supply and clear the leaves from a deep part of the river, a service of great peril. The current was strong, and the day cold, when a young Jewish gentleman, LIONEL D. WALFORD, volunteered, entered the water and removed the obstruction. He is suffering from an illness as a result. 30.10.1874

An interesting ceremony - viz. consecration of a Sepher, presented to the Kalisher Society's Synagogue by MR. B. WARTSKI, one of its members - took place on Sunday. The Society is named after the town in Poland in which the majority of its members were born, and last year a little synagogue was opened in Steward Street, Bishopsgate. Prior to the ceremony at the synagogue, several members with their wives assembled at the residence of MR. WARTSKI in De Beauvoir Road, Kingsland, where the last verses in the scroll were written. The company, several of whom bore sepherim, proceeded in carriages and cabs to the synagogue, where the usual service was perfomed. The bells and mantles were presented by MRS. & MASTER WARTSKI. 22.5.1874

REV. H. WASSERZUG
A correspondent writes: To show our English brethren how men who are admired and respected are honoured in Russia, I give the following particulars of honours paid to REV. MR. WASSERZUG, minister of the North London Synagogue. That gentleman having been ordered a change of air, visited his native town Wilna, where he had officiated as reader for fifteen years. Five thousand men (besides ladies and children) congregated to hear him chant melodies which had charmed them in past years. His former flock honoured him with many valuable tokens of friendship. HERR MAROUS RABBINOWITZ, in the name of the congregation, composed a beautiful Hebrew ode in his honour. REV. MR. WASSERZUG's presence was hailed with joy during the 19 days he stayed. 11.8.1876

HERMAN WOOLF
To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, I notice in this issue of the Standard an application made to Mr. Lushington of Thames Police Court by Mr. Pritchett, Sanitary Inspector of St. George's-in-the-East for an order to remove a man, named HERMAN WOLF, aged 98, described as having "outlived his time", from a house in Mary Ann Street to the workhouse. From a report of the Sanitary Inspector I perceive he had applied to the Jewish Board of Guardians and to the authorities of Jews' Hospital at Mile End Road on behalf of the subject of this application. He obtained from the former trifling pecuniary assistance; his answer from the latter was the Hospital, being instituted solely for Spanish & Portuguese Jews, the man was inadmissable. I am certain there must exist some charitable institution, the portals of which will be opened to receive and take charge of this destitute old man for the remaining years of his life. If there be no such please, I should want to raise a subscription to enable him to end his days in comfort. - Your obedient servant, A.J. January 11, 1871
♦THE CASE OF HERMAN WOOLF - With respect to this case, we are requested by the Secretary of the Board of Guardians to state HERMAN WOOLF receives a weekly allowance from the Board, to which he had been a applicant since its foundation. He is about 84 years of age. Circumstances over which the Board of Guardians have no control prevent him from applying to a private family or asylum to receive him, or to remove him from the workhouse, whither he had been removed at the instance of his landlady who could no longer endure his habits, and where arrangements are made for his being supplied with kosher food if he wishes it. 20.1.1871
♦HERMAN WOOLF, whose age was stated to be 98, and whose horrible condition whilst in lodging was brought under notice of the magistrate of Thames Police Court, expired on Sunday, in the workhouse of St. George's-in-the-East, where he was removed a fortnight ago, on a certificate of Dr. Rygate, medical officer of health. The inmate was visited by several benevolent individuals, and was kindly treated by officials. He retained his faculties fully to the day of his death. 27.1.1871 (JR)

JULIA WOOLF
MISS JULIA WOLF is among the corps. of artistes delighting London Society at the Promenade Concerts at Covent Garden Theatre. 25.8.1871
♦The following paragraph has appeared in the daily papers:- "We understand a large musical publisher in Piccadilly has entered into an arrangement for a considerable period to publish all compositions of the eminent and talented pianiste and composer JULIA WOOLF, who was re-elected a King's Scholar to the Society, and Honorary Member of the Royal Academy of Music." Some outline of MDME. JULIA WOOLF's early musical career appears in the history of the Royal Academy of Music. When 5 years of age she gained a musical prize at school, having learned music without any idea of making it a profession, until she obtained an introduction to the late Cipriani Pooter, who advised her to enter the Royal Academy; during her stay he was her principal instructor. Before leaving the Royal Academy of Music she was elected and re-elected a King's Scholar, and an associate and honorary member. We understand it is Stead & Co., of 19 Piccadilly, who have entered into an arrangement to publish all her compositions for a lengthened period, on a large royalty. 19.7.1872
♦MADM. JULIA WOOLF's new song "Childhood", according to critiques at the Brighton Gazette, Examiner and Daily News, was sung by Pattie Laverne at a special concert at Brighton Aquarium with immense success, MADM. JULIA WOOLF being pianiste. We are informed Cramer & Company of Regent Street have made an arrangement to publish MISS WOOLF's compositions. 24.3.1876
♦The Standard refers to production of a new Overture by MDME. JULIA WOOLF at the Royal Aquarium. 22.12.1876
♦"A Charm", "Enchantment", songs by MISS JULIA WOOLF - The former of these songs hardly does full justice to the musical talents possessed by MISS JULIA WOOLF. "Enchantment" is an effective song. This song is sung nightly by Victoria Vokes at Drury Lane Theatre. 23.2.1877
♦MADM. JULIA WOOLF, of the Royal Academy of Music, has been commissioned to write the overture for "A Winter's Tale" which is about to be produced at Drury Lane Theatre. 27.9.1878

The liberal candidate for Pontefract is eldest son of LEWIS WOOLF of Ferrybridge House, Clifton Gardens, Bayswater & Ferrybridge, Yorkshire. He was born on June 16th, 1837, and educated at one of the University Colleges in Frankfort. He married in 1860 ISABEL NUNES, daughter of the late DAVID NUNES CARVALHO of London. He is an earthenware manufacturer, and large employer of labour in Knottingly, where he is esteemed and popular in consequence of his charity and the interest he displays in local matters, in which he is one of the guiding spirits. At solicitation of a large number of electors he contested the borough of Pontefract in 1859, but retired. 26.3.1880 (JW)

♦To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, Whilst thanking you in answering my letter of 8th inst. in your paper, will you oblige me by stating we have taken a poor old woman (who states she is 93 years old) out of the Whitechapel Union and placed her in a Jewish family where she will be cared for. - CHARLES DAVIS, 22 St. Peter's Road, Mile End, December 24, 1879
♦(From a letter) To the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle - Sir, Knowing your love of justice, I feel convinced you will not refuse to insert the following statement. A report is made of a woman who had sufficient means of maintenance, but had been removed to a workhouse infirmary without knowledge of the Board and contrary to her wish. I beg to inform you I had the woman with me for the last two months. During the first month I made appeals to the Board, but could obtain no assistance; then came a grant of 5 shillings weekly, after which a benevolent gentleman allowed 2s.6d. per week. There are ten of us in the family, working and sleeping in two rooms. I made room for this bedridden woman until she became so ill a doctor was indispensable. On applying to the Secretary, he referred me to the parish doctor, who came and with him the overseer, and seeing her pitiable condition ordered her removal to the workhouse infirmary. Taking into consideration her desire of this step, I waited another week when, finding herself worse, she begged me to take her there. Yours obediently, W. WOOLF, a near relative, 139 Wentworth Street 2.1.1880

A meeting of friends of REV. KOHA ZADOC was held on Sunday for the purpose of taking steps to retain services of the reverend gentleman in this country. 20.7.1877 (JW)
♦An appeal has been issued for subscriptions to enable REV. KOHN-ZEDEK to continue the good work which he has been doing amongst the poorer classes of foreign Jews of the metropolis. By means of lectures in pure German the reverend gentleman has attacked many of the most conspicuous follies of our foreign brethren and especially in the matter of irregular marriages has contributed much towards bringing about a dimination in their number. 18.1.1878 (JW)

JOSEPH ZEDNER
We record with deep sorrow the death of JOSEPH ZEDNER. He passed away on Tuesday, 10th instant, at Berlin.
JOSEPH ZEDNER was born at Gross-Glogau in 1804. He was for some years Hebrew master at the congregational school at Strelitz; here he published an able treatise on Hebrew accents. In 1840 appeared his Collections of historical episodes from Hebrew authors, from the second century to the present day, containing punctuated texts, a German translation and notes. The book became famous, as the author proved convincingly the truth of circumstances relating in the epistle of R. Chasdai to the King of the Khosars - conversion of the Khosars to Judaism. In 1845 he came to England, and obtained the post of Librarian at the British Museum. With diligence he laboured to render the Hebrew collection of books in the British Museum one of the most perfect in the world, and compiled the Catalogue, which is unrivalled for its accuracy. While filling his post he published a second commentary on the Book of Esther by Ibn Ezra from a Manuscript in the British Museum. He was compelled by ill-health to resign his appointment about two years ago, when he returned to Berlin.
His last literary work was a poetic fragment, "Reineke der Fuchs" - in continuation of Goethe's poem - a satire of political events in connection with the Franco-German war, which was eulogised in a recent number of the Athenaeum. He was author of several articles in the Bibliographical Magazine, and other periodicals. There is scarcely one writer of eminence of Hebrew literature who does not acknowledge obligations he owes to MR. ZEDNER for information derived from him. MR. ZEDNER was ever ready to assist students with his advice. He accepted the office at the British Museum on condition his attendance should be dispensed with on Sabbaths and Festivals. He bore sufferings which darkened the close of his life with resignation. 20.10.1871

MR. ZOSSENHEIM
GERMANY - A correspondent writes: Sad news reaches us from Finstinberg, Mecklensburg, of the death by hands of assassins and burglars of the parents - at the ages of 84 and 76 - of MESSRS. ZOSSENHEIM BROTHERS of Leeds, and sons-in-law of MR. S. MOSES, ELIAS DAVIS & SOLOMON BENJAMIN of London. As the oldest and most respected inhabitants of the township in which they resided, the tragedy has been a cause of indignation and sorrow. A large reward has been offered for apprehension of the miscreants, and the population are eager to lend a helping hand. The genuineness, piety and blameless lives of the aged couple made them beloved by all classes, their funeral being attended by the whole population, among whom not a dry eye was to be seen. The affection and devotion of the family was such that the hand of sorrow and affliction will press upon them heavily for many a long day to come. 12.1.1877
